List Grows

Recent Additions Bring New Staff Total To 22

The list of new faculty and staff members at the College has grown to 22 with the addition of four more appointments made during the second half of the summer.

Now on the staff for the 1963-64 term are 17 new faculty members, two new administrators, and three new heads of residence. The administrators and about one-third of the faculty members fill newly created positions; the others are replacing staff members who have resigned or are on leave.

Recent additions to the staff include Mrs. Guiliana Grilk, reference librarian with the rank of assistant professor; Theodore A. Roscher, director of athletics and instructor in physical education (see page four); Margaret J. Neff, director of residence in Alpha Hall and assistant in student personnel; and Mrs. G. K. Huf, head of residence in Fairview Hall.

New faculty and staff previously announced include William G. Bailey, assistant professor of music; Elizabeth F. Bruckhart, head of residence in Ober Hall and assistant in student personnel; Hubert M. Custer, assistant professor of physics.

Jane L. Custer, instructor in mathematics; Jerald L. Garland, assistant to the director of admissions; Harry J. Graham, assistant professor of education; Liga Grinbergs, assistant professor of languages; Jack L. Hedrick, instructor in chemistry; Karl E. Hope, instructor in English at the Harrisburg Area Center.

Aladar F. Kish, part-time assistant professor of business; Janice R. Nearing, instructor in physical education; Jason D. Lindower, Jr., assistant to the treasurer with the rank of assistant professor; John P. Ranck, assistant professor of chemistry; D. Paul Rice, assistant professor of education.

Stanley T. Sutphin, instructor in Bible and philosophy; John Swick, assistant professor of physics; Mrs. J. John Swick, assistant professor of English, and Paul E. Whitmoyer, professor of sociology.

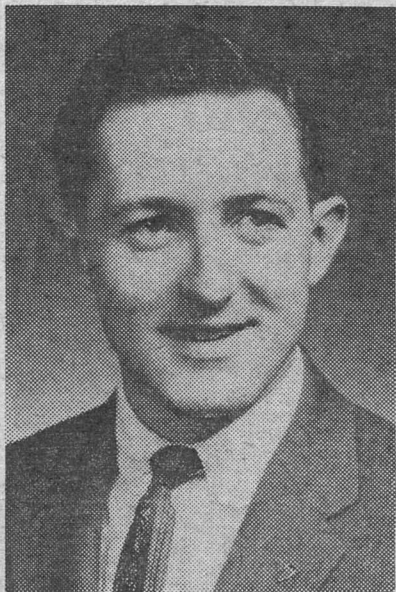

Course for Credit Offered on TV; Libhart to Instruct Elizabethtown College will continue its program of educational television for college credit this fall as part of the "College of the Air" series on WGAL-TV (Channel 8), Lancaster.

The Arts in Your Life, a course in the history and appreciation of art, will be presented in 14 half-hour lectures to be telecast in color Friday mornings from 9:00 to 9:30 a.m. The first program of the series will be seen on October 4.

One hour of college credit will be awarded to those who enroll and successfully complete the course requirements, which will include regular viewing of the lectures, selected reading assignments, and two examinations at the College.

Prof. Henry M. Libhart, assistant professor of English at the College and a well-known artist from Marietta, will conduct the course and administer the examinations.

Chapters Plan Fall Meetings

Alumni chapters in Washington, Johnstown-Pittsburgh, Cumberland Valley, and Philadelphia have planned meetings this fall as the round of alumni activities continues on the local level.

Recent meetings in the form of family picnics were held by chapters in Baltimore, Schuylkill Valley, Lebanon, and Juniata Valley.

The Washington Chapter has planned a dinner meeting at the Washington City Church of the Brethren for November 2. Another dinner meeting is planned by the Johnstown-Pittsburgh group on October 5 at the Alwines, three miles south of Johnstown on Route 219 at 6 p.m.

Cumberland Valley Chapter will meet October 26 at a place yet to be decided. The Philadelphia group is planning a meeting for November 2 in Ambler.

Fifth Annual Giving Fund Nets $187,484

Elizabethtown College received a total of $187,484.14 from alumni, business and industry, foundations, friends, and the Church of the Brethren during the College's Fifth Annual Giving Fund, Pres. Roy E. McAuley announced last week.

"Our campaign of the past year ranks second only to the record of $201,349.95 raised during the Fourth Annual Giving Fund," Dr. McAuley reported. "We are pleased with the results and consider them a vote of confidence for our program of independent, non-tax-supported higher education."

The total represents approximately 94 percent of the goal of $200,000 which had been set as the ultimate objective of the year-long drive to raise funds to underwrite the continuing development of the College.

The Church of the Brethren, with which the College is affiliated, gave $63,209.38. Support from foundations totaled $37,486.31. Gifts from other sources were reported as follows: parents and friends, $36,876.00; business and industry, $22,376.50; alumni, $16,449.70; trustees, $10,061.25; and organizations, $1,025.00.

Thank You!

Thank you, alumni and alumni groups, for your wishes which were expressed in so many different ways for my speedy and full recovery. Messages came from Florida to points in Canada, and from Rhode Island to Montana.

We shall try to live up to your expectations. Again, thank you!

Thirty-four Pennsylvania counties, seven states, and one foreign country are represented in the Freshman Class that registered for the 1963-64 term at Elizabethtown College September 16.

In all about 350 freshmen were expected to enroll. Final registration figures for freshmen and upperclassmen were not immediately available.

Alumni Participate In Church Meeting

Elizabethtown College's Alumni Association will be well represented on the program of the Second Annual Southern Pennsylvania Christian Education Day to be held at the Church of the Brethren in Mechanicsburg, September 28.

Listed as discussion leaders are Roger Forry, '58; Elmer Gleim, '39; Irving Glover, '58; Harvey Kline, '43; Ruth Kline, '46; Kenneth Miller, '57; and M. Guy West (honorary degree, '59.)

Also participating will be staff members Dr. Carl Ziegler and Virginia Fisher and Trustee Noah Sellers.

However, some 75 transfer students and a larger number of returning upperclassmen were expected to swell the student body to a record of more than 1,000 even though the anticipated freshman class is smaller by about 30 students than last year.

Among the freshmen expected are 139 men, 110 of whom are boarding students. Of the 166 freshmen women, 156 live on campus.

There are 254 Pennsylvanians in the class along with students from Connecticut, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Maryland, and Indiana. New Jersey is second in representation with 30 students. One foreign student, Kyoko Utsumi of Tokyo, Japan, is numbered among the freshmen.

'The Barber Of Seville' To Be Presented Here

Gioacchino Rossini's "The Barber of Seville," a comic opera, will be presented by the Turnau Opera Players at Elizabethtown on October 5 at 8 p.m.

To be staged in the Elizabethtown Area High School Auditorium, the opera is being sponsored by Elizabethtown College in cooperation with the Patton School as one of a series of Community Cultural Programs.

Yehudi Wyner is musical director of the production. Leading roles will be played by Lucille Sullam, Norman Riggins, Andre Montal, and Alan Baker.

The Turnau Opera Players was originated eight years ago as a pilot attempt to take professional opera into smaller American communities. The company has staged over 300 performances of 40 operas, including five premieres of contemporary works.

Future Community Cultural attractions at Elizabethtown will include the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, March 18, 1964, and the Lubeshutz and Nemenoff duo-piano team, April 11.

There will also be four campus cultural programs presented this term under the sponsorship of the College's Lyceum Committee. The first of these will be an appearance by the Baltimore Symphony Woodwind Quintet on November 7.

Other lyceum programs scheduled for the 1963-64 term include Dr. Ben Marais, lecturer on Religion and Africa, February 12 and 13, 1964; Eugene Jamison, folksinger-artist-printmaker, April 6, 7, and 8; and Dr. Rushton Coulborn, lecturer on historical anthropology, April 15 and 16. All are open to the public.

OPERA AT ETOWN—The Turnau Opera Players are shown in a scene from "The Barber of Seville," which will be presented here by the company on October 5 at 8 p.m. It will be the first of three Community Cultural Programs scheduled for the 1963-64 academic term.

Especially For Alumni...

By HIRAM J. FRYINGER
President, Alumni Association

September is the month when children, young people and their parents think of school and college in a very special way.

You have likely read in the daily paper of the large expected enrollment at Elizabethtown College again this year. How many of these are our children, soon to become second or third generation alumni? How many of our children are attending other institutions offering very similar courses? What are the reasons for this?

I do not know the answers to any of the above questions. I am aware, however, through various contacts with the college and elsewhere that strenuous efforts are being made on the part of the college administration to provide both the quantity of courses and quality of instruction that will provide a well balanced educational opportunity for all conscientious students.

All alumni should be concerned about the growth and development of the college, especially those of us with children in school who will in the next decade be approaching college age.

Have you visited the campus lately? Have you attended your local chapter meetings regularly where reports of the college are given? Have you brought your children or interested prospective students to chapter meetings or to the campus?

Unless you have been back during the last two years, you would view with delight the expanded physical plant—the new dorms, the A. C. Baugher Student Union building.

The current College Catalogue will show the curriculum changes and addition of major fields. With all of this the Christian ideal and goal "Educate for Service" is uppermost.

We can indeed continue to be proud of and recommend our college, Elizabethtown College, to the best, most capable students as they approach college age.

A LETTER TO YOUNG CHAPTERS
(APOLOGIES TO ST. PAUL)

1. Greetings to young chapters scattered throughout New Jersey and Eastern Shore to Western Pennsylvania, and from Washington D. C., to Massachusetts.

2. We remember also those faithful and active chapters which were organized in yesteryears by the devoted effort of alumni workers;

3. We want you to know that it was an exhilarating experience to travel from place to place last year to organize new chapters; to meet with friends and alumni; to discover leadership not before employed.

4. It is on these leaders that we depend for faithful execution of alumni responsibilities. The versatile talent of leaders in the respective chapters assures original programs, steadfastness to cherished principles of Alma Mater, timeliness in promotion of activities, and meeting in regular assembly.

5. Furthermore, chapter leaders are encouraged not to neglect the recent alumni who have moved into their areas; the recent graduates, as well as those leaving their precincts for their first experiences in college life need to be involved in the fellowship of the faithful.

6. Be not forgetful of the elder alumni whose wisdom and experienced add maturity in judgment and decision making. They have a contribution to make, too, in the financial support of the college, in encouraging better chapter programs, and in setting exemplary patterns of behavior in the academic, social, political, and religious life.

7. The total alumni group is enjoined to be alert to recruit worthy and capable students for our church-related college so that the individuals and the communities which they represent may profit from a unique kind of Christian higher education; in keeping with the spirit of our Alma Mater, they serve best who have been educated to serve.

8. We yearn to be with you to share in your meetings here and there throughout the year. We shall try to have representatives from the College at your chapter meetings. Advanced notices of your meetings will help the alumni office to adjust schedules.

9. Then, too, a report of your chapter program to the alumni office for the Etownian, and to your local newspapers will encourage fruitful activity of other chapters. Through effective communication, we help each other and the whole alumni body;

10. For we are bound together in a great academic and social fellowship. Encourage fellow-alumni and groups to abound more and more in this fellowship.

STEPS TOWARD UNDERSTANDING—Pres. Roy E. McAuley, left, addressed members of the Russian Orthodox group which toured the United States last month. Interpreters at left foreground and far right translate Dr. McAuley's remarks for the visitors. The visit, sponsored by the Church of the Brethren and the Russian Orthodox Church, will be returned by a group of Brethren representatives in October.

Nine Evening Courses Offered This Semester

Elizabethtown College will offer nine courses for academic credit during the evening hours this fall, Dean Jacob E. Herschman announced this week.

The courses will be open to students enrolled at the College and others from the surrounding area who wish to earn college credits. Some of the courses are basic offerings which require no prerequisite studies. Others are more advanced and will require some previous study in the field to be covered.

Residents of the area who desire to enroll for evening study will register in Alpha Hall at the College between 5:30 p.m. and 8 p.m., Monday, September 23. Tuition fees for the various courses will be $30.00 per semester hour, plus text books. The courses carry either two or three semester hours of credit.

Courses to be offered, credits involved, and time of meeting are as follows:

Biblical history, two semester hours, Monday; radio-chemistry, two hours, Monday; teaching music in public school, three hours, Monday; public school art, three hours, Monday; great books study, two hours, Monday; experimental psychology, three hours, Tuesday; intermediate Spanish, three hours, Monday and Wednesday; advanced Spanish, three hours, Monday; Spanish literature since 1900, three hours, Monday and Wednesday.

Misses Lachman, Risser Back From Germany

After one year at Marburg University in Germany, Phyllis Lachman and Janet Risser have returned for their final year at Elizabethtown.

They both traveled and studied in the "Brethren Colleges Abroad" program. The Etownian hopes to hear more of their travels at a later date.

E-TOWN GRADUATE SPEAKS

Thirty-Two Students Graduate In Aug. Commencement Exercises

Thirty-two persons were awarded degrees August 23 during the College's annual summer commencement exercises held in the Elizabethtown Church of the Brethren.

Dr. Walter W. Eshelman, an Elizabethtown graduate and former president of the National Education Association, told the graduates that the American public school is one of the greatest "democratizing influences" in our society.

He urged support of the public schools whose real challenge "is in teaching all people the real meaning of, and corresponding responsibilities that go with freedom."

Dr. Eshelman, who is supervising principal of the Upper Dublin Township Schools, Fort Washington, told the assemblage of two premises that must be remembered in light of current racial issues:

—"Freedom, without assuming the responsibilities that go with freedom, is license which in turn leads inevitably to loss of freedom."

—"Equality of opportunity means privilege and not preference."

Nine bachelor of arts degrees were conferred by Pres. Roy E. McAuley during the exercises; nine bachelor of science degrees were awarded; and 12 bachelor of science in education degrees were awarded. Two certificates were awarded, one in secretarial science and one in medical secretarial science.

Students graduated with the bachelor of arts degree include Larry L. Althouse, John B. Arndt, Sue K. Bucher, Robert E. Deitrich, Francis X. Hurley, Ellwood R. Kerkeslager, Joan M. Raver, Ellis C. Shenk, and Verna E. Swanson.

Bachelor of science degrees went to Phillip R. Hammond, S. Dale High, Margaret A. Kostelac, Audrey S. Markle, Philip A. Metzel, Virginia R. Morton, Vernon S. Oberholtzer, John M. Pamer, and Carl Leonard Price.

Receiving bachelor of science in education degrees were Barbara M. Andrews, Beverly Mucha Brown, Beverly T. DeWitt, Beatrice H. Eck, Rena A. Garrity, Lucille Hollinger, Raymond D. Miller, Ronald E. Rudy, David W. Sherrer, Judith Hash Sherrer, and Jo Ann Thome.

Diana M. Miller received the medical secretarial science certificate; Eleanor F. Keyser received the secretarial science certificate.

A new record player with stereophones is available for use this year in Room 165 of the library Miss Anna M. Carper, librarian, announced recently.

The player is designed for use by one or two persons wearing headphone sets.

TWA Group Briefed Here For African Assignment

Twenty-four persons bound for teaching positions in Ghana and Nigeria attended a two-week orientation program on the campus last month.

The teachers, selected to serve under the Teachers for West Africa Program (TWA), concluded their stay here on August 30, when they departed for New York City. They flew to London on September 6 and were due in Africa by September 11.

During the orientation they were briefed on African customs, ethnography, and conditions they are likely to encounter. The briefings were conducted by TWA administrators, U. S. Government officials, and representatives of the African countries involved.

TWA, underwritten by the Hershey Chocolate Corporation, grew out of a serious shortage of qualified teachers in Africa. Director of the program is Dr. James M. Berkebile, professor of chemistry here and former educational consultant in Formosa.

Nine teachers are currently serving in Ghana and Nigeria as a result of the program's first year operations. Representing sixteen states, this year's group includes graduates of 23 different colleges. In all about 150 colleges and universities participate in the program.

Honor Houses To Hold 49 Co-Eds

New women's honor houses and personnel changes among the residence heads have given the dormitory picture at Elizabethtown College a new look this year.

Several nearby college-owned houses that formerly served as private residences have undergone alterations and will help to solve the problem of living space for the larger resident women enrollment. The new honor houses and their heads of residence include The Birches, 236 College Avenue, Janet Espenshade and Carol Gould; Sigma, 348 College Avenue, Virginia Heisey and Linda Young; The Orchard House, 605 South Mt. Joy Street, Judy Malarik and Judy Pelley; and Maple Hall, a former men's residence at 435 College Avenue, Barbara Kearney and Esther Strehle.

A total of 49 co-eds will be accommodated in the honor houses.

All on-campus dormitories but Royer Hall will be staffed by new heads of residence. At Alpha Hall will be Miss Margaret Jean Neff, daughter of the Royer Hall Residence Head, Mrs. Hazel Neff. Miss Elizabeth Bruckhart replaces the Brandts in Ober Hall; Mrs. Julia K. Huf will take charge of Fairview Hall; and Mrs. Ethel Heaton will move from Fairview to Myer Hall.

Assisting Miss Bruckhart as head proctor in Ober Hall will be Bill Bentz, a senior. Other proctors on the Ober Hall staff are David Herbster, David Merkel, Ray Stern, John Waggoner, Phil Bender, Jeffrey Bensing, Dale Miller, John Suffel, Robert Wittlinger, Robert Crouch, Don Hopson, Tony McGlaughlin, and James Seaton.

Last year, an enlarged program of evening courses, including two new courses, will be offered. The new courses are radio-chemistry and the Great Books.

Soccer Problem: Bettering '62 Log

By ED SIEBER

This year, as last, head soccer coach Owen Wright, and his new assistant, Tom Dwyer, have the none-too-envious task of improving a 12-2 log, plus repeating as Middle Atlantic Conference champs, plus bettering their Eastern Regional bridesmaid finish.

A host of experienced booters on hand for another season make completion of that task a distinct possibility.

The coaching staff can start a letterman at every position and ten of the fourteen letter winners were starters on last year's team. Thus with such a solid nucleus returning, along with several promising incoming players, the road ahead of the '63 Blue Jay booters looks smoother than usual.

The schedule has 11 games logged for the booters, six of which are at home. However, most of the traditional rivals and consistently strong teams will be played on foreign soil. Two important dates to remember at home are, Homecoming, October 19, and Dad's Day, November 2.

Here's how the Jays stack up prior to the first practice session.

In the nets, the Blue and Gray will counter with three-letterman Frank Zimmerman. The Schaffertown senior racked up seven shutouts in 14 games, and at one time had 684 consecutive minutes of scoreless work.

The fullback positions are ably fortified by Tom Speakman, letterman from Paradise, along with his running mate of last year, John Suffer from Millersville. Dave Merkel, Mt. Penn senior who has landed two awards, will be gunning for the opening vacated by Fred Seltzer at the third fullback post.

The story at halfback is practically the same as at fullback. Ray Stern with one letter, and Jeff Bensing, a three-award winner, should retain their posts of a year ago. Both are seniors. Sophomore Jack Eshleman will provide relief work.

Two juniors with four letters between them are likely candidates to hold down the wing slots. They are Henry Pownall, Gap, and Dave Myers, Millersville. Ken Sheibley, Galen Donmoyer, and Marv Shubert will also be trying for a wing position.

The forward wall is the most talked about subject at the present, with the possibility of senior Jay Lehman being moved to a wing.

Back from last year will be the top two scorers in the persons of Paradise senior, Al Hershey, who tallied 20 goals and was named to the second All-America team, and Tony McGlaughlin, a junior from McClure. McGlaughlin racked up 21 goals for the team high.

Jerry Botdorf will return after a year's layoff, and he is expected to regain his old line post, barring any recurrence of a knee injury. The Millersville senior scored nine goals in 1961 which was second best on the team.

At present the only questionable spot on the club would be the bench strength. However, freshmen are expected to provide the necessary aid here to make the club completely sound.

The soccer men open the campaign at Gettysburg on October 2.

Roscher Fills Athletic Post

Elizabethtown College welcomed its third athletic director in the last four years, earlier this month, when Theodore A. Roscher, a Reading native, took over the sports reins.

The 29 year old Roscher succeeds Ohio bound Lester C. Baum, who served as A.D. for the past two years. Baum has accepted a coaching position at Muskingum College.

Roscher, an alumnus of East Stroudsburg State College, will be handling the entire college athletic program for men and women, both intercollegiate and intramural. Also, he will coach the cross country squad and the wrestling team.

Upon graduation from college, Roscher taught health and science at Coatesville High School, where he coached the swimming team. Since 1958 he has taught science at Colalico Union High School. While there Roscher coached varsity basketball and was assistant baseball coach.

ANTIQUES BY THE GYMFUL — The noisy sounds of basketball practice and physical education classes gave way to the tinkling of old glassware and the clutter of attic treasures this summer when the local Kiwanis Club held an Antique Show in the Baugher Student Center. Shown above are about one-third of the displays that were "shoehorned" into the gym.

Speaking of SPORTS

By Ed Sieber

The Blue Jay athletic teams this fall will have to win games at a fantastic clip if they are to better last year's percentage of .709. Again this season it looks as if the soccer team will provide the bulk of the winning, although all three clubs last fall enjoyed better than .500 seasons.

The E-town sports fan should be better informed and entertained this year, thanks to the broadcast of many home games and several road games over WVEC, the college radio station.

If the Jay's two soccer coaches return to school with the growth of red brush they manicured during the summer months, Elizabethtown may be forced to change the college's nickname. How would Red Birds sound? Also, they will undoubtedly have the two best dressed mentors in the conference.

A special note of interest for field hockey fans will be the exhibition game that will be played at Elizabethtown on Saturday, October 5. The Jaygals will host a star-studded international squad of girls from various foreign countries. Make plans to see this one.

When the call goes out for fans to support the team and make a bus trip for an important away game be sure not to forget that old thing called "school spirit." This spirit is a part of college life and is sometimes as important as knowledge gained through books. A combination of the two is what has enabled Elizabethtown to reach the heights that it has in both education and athletics.

Coaching Staff Gets Extensive Facelifting

By ED SIEBER

Time changes things. This is especially true of the Elizabethtown College coaching staff.

Since last May two coaches, one of which was athletic director, have departed and to date three others have arrived.

Lester C. Baum, athletic director and cross country and wrestling coach for the past two years, has accepted a post at Muskingum College in Ohio. There he will serve as football trainer and wrestling coach, in addition to being a physical education instructor.

The fiery Baum has been replaced by Theodore A. Roscher, a graduate of East Stroudsburg State College, and most recently basketball coach at Cocalico Union High School. Roscher inherits essentially the same responsibility and positions that the departed Baum held.

A native of Reading, Roscher has been coaching various athletics since 1958.

Also gone from last year is Mrs. Jean Ann Finkbinder. Mrs. Finkbinder was varsity field hockey coach and assistant basketball coach.

Replacing her as field hockey coach and supervisor of the cheerleading squad is Miss J. Ruth Nearing, new instructor in physical education. Miss Nearing graduated from East Stroudsburg State College last spring.

Miss Allegra Hess will continue as head coach of women's basketball and women's tennis.

In addition to the two head coaching changes, two assistants have been added to the athletic staff.

J. Thomas Dwyer, assistant professor of English at Elizabethtown for the past three years, has been named assistant soccer coach. Also, Jack L. Hedrick, newly appointed chemistry instructor, was named assistant basketball coach.

Dwyer should provide valuable aid to head soccer coach Owen Wright. Although he has no previous coaching experience, the sports-minded Dwyer has displayed a keen knowledge of the game.

Like Dwyer, Hedrick, an E-town alumnus of 1959, has no previous coaching experience. He did, however, play four years of basketball under the guidance of Coach Smith while at Elizabethtown.

Hockey Team Has 11 Back; Opens Sept. 28

The new field hockey coach at Elizabethtown College will have 24 returning girls from which to comprise her varsity squad this year. Eleven of these are letter winners.

The girls will play a predominantly home schedule this season. In fact, the first five tests are slated for E-town soil. The first of those is against East Stroudsburg on September 28.

Returning Jaygals include Sylvia Ingham, Molly Moore, Janet Esbenschade, Louise Wenger, Nancy Woolford, Polly Provost, and Sandy McCleary, along with many junior varsity letter winners.

The main problem facing the new coach will be trying to find some replacement for the departed Linda Eshelman. Linda scored a record 64 goals during her four years at E-town and set a one year high of 19 goals last season.

Veteran Squad Meets Roscher

New cross country coach Theodore A. Roscher will inherit a veteran laden squad when he begins his maiden voyage as the harriers' field boss this week.

At least eight returnees will greet Roscher at opening practice and the number could reach as high as eleven. Of the definite eight, seven are lettermen. With such an abundance of experience the Berks County native will be seeking to improve last season's log of 6-5.

The bulk of the team will probably be built around Mike Staman, captain of a year ago, Bill

Drean, Al Owens, Jack Maciejewski, Bill Reed, and Charles Geigle. The first two boys are three-year lettermen. The return of another three-year man, Dave Brownback, remains in doubt.

Nine meets have been scheduled, two of which are triangular. Thus the squad will be involved in eleven decisions at the end of the year. Seven of the eleven meets are slated for home turf.

The first meet is slated here against Moravian for October 8 at 4 p.m.

'Students Challenged' — Byerly

"The students find it rather challenging and difficult for the most part." So said Dr. Robert A. Byerly, professor of Bible and philosophy at Elizabethtown College and director of the Brethren College Abroad Program, in a recent letter to the College.

Eight Elizabethtown College students are among 27 now studying in Germany and France under the program.

Dr. Byerly's letter was written after five weeks of an eight-week language institute that is being held prior to the opening of the college term in November. He said, "We had an interesting visit to the East-West Zone border near Fulka last week. We had an official guide of the border police, ate a meal in the police barracks, etc. It was interesting but also depressing at times."

Six of the Elizabethtown students will spend their junior year at Marburg University in Marburg, Germany. Two will attend Strasbourg University in Strasbourg, France. They left New York on August 23.

Three sports events, the annual sophomore-freshman tug-of-war, and a play to be presented by the campus dramatics club will be featured events during the 59th Homecoming Day at Elizabethtown College, October 19. Registration begins at 9:30 a.m.

Esther Strehle Elected Queen

Esther Strehle, a senior biology major from Sellersville, was elected Homecoming Queen during a campuswide election held October 10.

Miss Strehle, who serves as secretary of the Senior Class and was a member of the May Court last spring, will be crowned at the Homecoming Dance on October 18 and will reign over activities the following day.

Named to the Homecoming Court in class elections were the following: Seniors — Janice Cramer and Sue Wade; Juniors — Louise Brown and Suzanne Deitrich; Sophomores — Janice Foote and Louise Wenger; and Freshmen — Sue Albright and Carol Mainwaring.

Another attraction for returning alumni and friends will be the open facilities of the A. C. Baugher Student Center, which was put into use at the end of last year. Included in the building and open to alumni on Homecoming Day are bowling alleys, a swimming pool, a game room, a snack bar, a book store, a television lounge, and an auditorium-gymnasium.

All of the three fall athletic teams will be in action at home. The field hockey squad will face Lock Haven; the soccer team will meet St. Joseph's; and the cross country team will run against Lebanon Valley.

The field hockey game will begin at 12 noon; the soccer game, at 2:30 p.m., and the cross country meet, at 3:30 p.m.

The yearly tug-of-war between freshmen and sophomores will be staged across Lake Placid beginning at 10:30 a.m. Other contests between the two classes have also been scheduled by the Student Senate for the lake area.

Sock and Buskin, a campus club for drama enthusiasts, will present the comedy, "Everybody Loves Opal," in the Elizabethtown Area High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. Written by John Patrick, the play is being directed by Mrs. C. G. Enterline, associate professor of English and director of dramatics.

A Homecoming Dance sponsored by the Student Senate will be held at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, Harrisburg, on Friday evening, October 18. A Homecoming Queen will be crowned during the dance.

Sunday Recital Series Planned

October 27 will mark the beginning of the Sunday afternoon recital series arranged by the Department of Music. A schedule of six programs has been announced by Prof. Nevin W. Fisher, head of the department.

All recitals will begin at 3:30 p.m. The schedule follows.

October 27 — Piano recital by Prof. Fisher (Alumni Auditorium)

February 9 — Senior piano recital by Virginia Heisey, assisted by Richard Overcash, Baritone (Rider Hall Chapel).

March 8 — Senior voice recital by Nancy Zeigler, assisted by Gregory Bachman, pianist (Rider Hall Chapel).

April 5 — Recital by advanced students (Rider Hall Chapel).

April 19 — Recital by organ students (Rider Hall Chapel).

May 3 — Alumni Recital (Alumni Auditorium)

WWEC Announces Changes

Plans for a campus radio station at E-town College were brought to fruition last fall when WWEC, "740 on your dial," came into existence. Since that time there has been great emphasis on the part of WWEC's staff to increase the quality and variety of its programs.

This year WWEC introduces the following schedule of four "specials" and two "informatives."

NEW SPECIAL SHOWS

Monday	10:05-11:00	Reflections-Jazz
Tuesday	10:05-11:00	Show Time
Wednesday	10:05-11:00	Information Special
Thursday	10:05-11:00	Hootenany

"Reflections-Jazz" will feature Neil Cunningham and Tom Pontz looking into history and music in the Jazz vein.

"Show Time" will present recordings from famous Broadway and Hollywood shows.

The "Information Special" is a program produced by the WWEC News and Information Department. It will include panel discussions, lectures, editorial comments, and formal and informal talks with faculty and administration.

The "Hootenany" show will feature a cross-section of folk music.

NEW INFORMATIVE SHOWS

Tuesday	9:05-9:20	Men and Molecules
Wednesday	9:05-9:20	Radio Moscow

"Men and Molecules", produced by the American Chemical Society, will feature programs in the scientific vein.

"Radio Moscow" will have recordings of Russian broadcasts in English with editorial comment.

SPECIAL EVENTS

In addition to the above new shows, several "special events" will be featured throughout the school year. The Sports Department will broadcast home games, and informative checks on away games will be announced as the scores arrive at WWEC.

The Directing Department plans to present various types of Christmas shows, including concerts, readings, and seasonal comment.

NEWS

WWEC has broad news coverage: NBC news is given "every hour, on the hour;" half-hour news programs are presented Mon. through Friday, with weather, sports, bulletin board, and World and Pa. news. Coverage of special news events will be broadcast during the year.

Continued emphasis will be given by WWEC to increase quality and show variety, as more new shows are initiated throughout the year.

Two Chapters Meet In Nov.

Two chapters have scheduled dinner meetings for November 2, according to information received in the Alumni Office.

President Roy E. McAuley and Dr. Charles S. Appgar will be the speakers for the meeting of the Philadelphia Area Chapter at 6:30 p.m., at the Forest Inn, Ambler, Pa.

The Washington D.C. Chapter will meet at 6:30 p.m. at the Washington City Church of the Brethren. Further details may be obtained by contacting the respective chapter presidents: Norman Bitterman, in Philadelphia, and the Rev. Edwin Ankeny, Germantown, Md.

From The Secretary's Angle

By Paul Grubb, Jr.
President, Lancaster Chapter
Alumni Association

While C. G. Enterline, alumni secretary, is recuperating from a recent illness, this column, normally devoted to the regular feature, "From the Secretary's Angle," will be reserved for a series of guest alumni columnists.

Each new edition of the Etownian brings you another glimpse of the growth and progress of "old E.C." Headlines of the last edition reported an enrollment of a thousand students and twenty-two new staff members.

Each succeeding year also produces a larger crop of new alumni. Two full columns of the Etownian were devoted to their activities in the Alumni News section.

This ever increasing host of alumni should be one of the college's strong assets since we are an integral part of the school's image.

So what about you and the college? Have you maintained ties that are mutually beneficial to the college and yourself? Have you ever tried to analyze what the college has done for you and what you in turn could do for the college?

Mr. Enterline has given many excellent suggestions in this column and I won't attempt to repeat them. You can probably come up with some pretty good ideas yourself.

I just want to underline the fact that the college feels that you are important. So why not give a few alumni opportunities a whirl?

Current Events To Be Discussed In Weekly Series

Several students and faculty will be joining numerous community residents in a weekly series of discussions on topics relating to current political affairs in Washington.

The discussions and accompanying materials will be provided free of charge by the Elizabethtown Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the series. Regular attendance, while desired, is not mandatory. Sessions will be held Tuesday evenings, starting at 7:15 in the Baugher Student Senate. There is no cost involved.

Each participant will receive a weekly newsletter informing him of current activities being considered by Congress. The group will be in contact with members of Congress, keeping them informed of reactions expressed during the discussion sessions.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Donald Grant Zellner, Class of '61, was killed recently while on duty as a social worker. The following eulogy was written by T. Albert Yamada, E-town graduate and former editor of the ETOWNIAN.

EULOGY

Most recently a social worker, but until only a year or two past, a college student, who had returned after nine years in the U.S. Army to finish his last two years of studies. He was not only a student, but a near-legend to a whole student generation at Elizabethtown College after his unforgettable performance as Teddy Roosevelt in "Arsenic and Old Lace." His raspy "Charge!" was not only memorable, it was the inspirational cry of the campus drama club.

His travels to unlikely places, including Pakistan, while in the Army, sometimes had funny results. Recognizing a picture, and in answer to a professor's pontifical remark that no one would suspect that the picture of the street had been taken in Pakistan, he remarked, much to the discomfort of the professor, that the American embassy was just around the corner.

One of the select students who worked to maintain a highly active German Club on campus, he was one of the prize students of the late Dr. Frederick Neumann.

A person around whom one could honestly say there was never a dull moment, he never failed to take more than his share of work, and of the world he always seemed to say, "Laugh with me, for there's much here to be enjoyed by everyone."

His far-reaching friendliness and ruddy, freckled smile served him well in his work with the county's underprivileged. The memory of his work will endure, for the world seeks, but seldom receives, a few kind words and a smile.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

William C. Bailey

Prof. Bailey Has Taught Music 9 Years

The Department of Music at Elizabethtown College now has four faculty members. Its newest addition is William C. Bailey, assistant professor of music.

Professor Bailey formerly taught six years vocal music and three years instrumental music in several schools in Williamsport, Pa.

"However," Prof. Bailey said, "I believe that I shall enjoy college work more, even though I've been here only a short time." His duties at E-town will include directing the Women's Chorus.

Professor Bailey has always had an interest in music, but stated, "I did not have a chance to study music until the eighth grade."

This study led to a bachelor of science degree from Mansfield State College and master of music degree from Syracuse University.

In addition to music, Professor Bailey is very interested in the breeding and raising of pedigreed dogs, especially Scottish terriers.

Professor Bailey resides at 307 North Mount Joy street, with his wife and two sons, Mark, 7 months, and David, 4 years—and their Scottish terrier.

Choir Elects New Officers

Prof. David Willoughby, director of the Elizabethtown College Choir announced that the choir has elected its new officers for the coming year. They are Clyde Kreider, President; Barry Graham, Choir Manager; Ruth Stehman, Secretary-Treasurer; and Nancy Souders and Richard Overcash, Representatives.

Other returning members of the choir are Dale Bomberger, Carolyn Moyer, Arlene Thomas, Pat Wilson, Ted Lo, Bob Yunninger, Bruce Van Order, Nancy Zeigler, Sondra Eisenbise, Jayne Myers, Britta Spohn, and Jack Neibert.

New members include Denise Naugle, Susan Hoover, Shirley Shope, Jean Rice, Bonnie Bishop, Lucy Enck, Marian Musser, Dolores Hoopert, Suzanne Kurtz, Ray Hollinger, Mike Baldwin, Mark Hollinger, Richard Sierer, Gerald Hassinger, Bob Hess, and accompanist, Betty Myers.

Both sacred and secular music will be performed according to Willoughby.

The sacred music includes works of Gounod, Berlioz, Dvorak, Brahms, Handel, and Haydn. Also these twentieth-century composers, Berger, Hovhanness, Thomas, and Vaughn-Williams.

For high school assemblies, the choir will be singing such secular music as Jugo-Slav folk song entitled "I Won't Kiss Kate," "Under the Willow Tree" from an American opera by Samuel Barber, and the "Telephone Hour" from Bye Bye Birdie.

The first semester the choir is hard at work memorizing the music. Second semester, the emphasis is on performance.

The first performance of the choir will be the Christmas Concert on December 8.

NSF Gives College $2,000 for Research

Elizabethtown College has been given a $2,000 grant by the National Science Foundation, president Roy E. McAuley announced recently.

The grant is in support of a project initiated during the past summer in a program of research participation for college teachers. It is to be continued at the college under the direction of Dr. H. V. Rao, assistant professor of biology.

Dr. Rao attended a summer institute this year at the University of Texas, Austin, in preparation for the project. Most of the research done through the project will be in the fields of science and mathematics.

Student Center; Fast Growing Institution on U.S. Campuses

COFFEE BREAK: The Jays Nest provides dining facilities for Etown's Student Center. Above are Bill Reed, memorizing a few facts for an exam with the help of a cup of coffee, while Mary Ann Jones and Dick Schwartz look on.

When Elizabethtown College put into use the A. C. Baugher Student Center late in 1962, it added to its facilities one of the fastest growing institutions on America's college and university campuses.

These centers of college community life—referred to on many campuses as the student union—now number more than 600, with another 200 in the planning or construction stages, according to a report issued by the Association of College Unions.

Students play a major role in the daily operation of the student center on campus. A Student Center Board, composed of eighteen students and a faculty advisor, is responsible for the operation of the building and its facilities.

The board functions through seven committees: a cultural committee, a host committee, a house committee, a publicity committee, a recreation committee, a social committee, and a special events committee.

Though students have priority in the use of the building's facilities, community groups and other outside organizations are invited to make arrangements for use of the building. During student vacation periods community groups are oftentimes invited as guests of the college.

The financing of student unions across the nation has been unique in the educational world, in that the buildings, with few exceptions, are constructed and operated without cost to taxpayers. Funds have principally come from gifts and borrowing, with loans repaid from the student membership fees and building earnings.

The federal loan program for educational facilities alone has accounted for almost 300 new or expanded unions since 1956, the Associations of College Unions reports. There has never been a default on such loans.

The Baugher Student Center was financed by Federal Loans and private gifts.

The earliest college unions were student debating societies in English universities, the first being founded at Cambridge in 1815. There the unions have played such a large part in training students for public life that they have been called "the cradle of the British parliament."

The first building erected for union purposes in this country opened in 1896 at the University of Pennsylvania as a "place where all may meet on common ground," but were typically for men only. Beginning in the 1920's unions evolved as general centers to meet the out-of-class needs of all students and faculty, and in recent years show a marked trend to include music rooms, theaters, browsing rooms, art facilities, and craft shops.

Today's unions, according to the Association, combine cultural, social, dining, and recreational facilities in a center and a program with the purpose of fulfilling the needs of living along with learning, and preparing students for citizenship, responsibilities and leadership.

The rapid recognition of the college union as a contributor to the educational experience of students and "laboratory of citizenship" has not been confined to this country, according to the Association report.

The success of the American and British unions has led to a widespread union development in Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Norway, Sweden, Germany, Puerto Rico, Mexico, Venezuela, Colombia, Turkey, Lebanon, Iran, East and West Pakistan, India, Burma, Thailand, Malaya, Taiwan, and Japan.

Western Pa. Chap. Meets At J'nstown

Mrs. Alta (Weaver) Roudabush, -33, Johnstown, was re-elected as president of the Johnstown-Pittsburgh Chapter of the Alumni Association October 5 at a dinner meeting of the group near Johnstown.

Other officers named for the year are Mrs. Zona (Findley) Hare, '61, Caimbrook, vice-president; Mrs. Anna (Cassel) Gray, '32, Carnegie, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Lydia (Landis) Davis, '20, Johnstown, reporter.

Twenty-eight attended the meeting, which was the first formal program for the chapter. The Rev. A. Jay Replogle, -15, Windber, was master of ceremonies.

James L. M. Yeingst, director of public relations for the College, reviewed the current state of the institution and outlined future plans for development.

College Marks Signing Of Official Charter

This year Elizabethtown College marks the sixty-fourth anniversary of Charter Day. The official date of the signing of the charter is September 23, 1899.

Under this charter the College operated as an academy offering college prep courses until the year 1928. The charter bore the signatures of five men: Samuel H. Hertzler, Joseph H. Rider, Simon P. Engle, Joseph H. Eshleman, and Benjamin G. Groff, all of Elizabethtown.

Charter Day was not officially marked this year. In years past convocations were held with various people coming to speak at the College.

Reverend Zuck To Visit Russia

Two area churchmen will join a delegation of Church of the Brethren representatives in a visit next month to the Russian Orthodox Church in the Soviet Union.

They are the Rev. Dr. Nevin H. Zuck, pastor of the Elizabethtown Church of the Brethren, and Dr. A. G. Breidenstine, dean of Millersville State College.

Two Co-Eds Tell About Year Abroad

EDITOR'S NOTE: Phyllis Lachman and Janet Risser spent their junior year at Marburg University, Marburg, Germany, in the Brethren Colleges Abroad program (BCA). They were asked to give the ETOWNIAN their impressions of German education.

Most of the students from BCA began the university enthusiastic, but apprehensive. The first weeks were mostly filled with the better learning of the language. There are no assigned textbooks for classes, so often we supplemented our regular books with English texts to ease us over the rougher spots.

Just familiarizing ourselves with background and requirements of the university was a course in itself. In order for a German student to study at a university, he must have completed grammar school and received his "Abitur." (This is similar to a high school diploma, but much more work and two more years have gone into its earning.) Having begun studying in the "Oberschule" at the age of ten or eleven, he is not finished until nineteen or twenty. It is not uncommon nor disgraceful to fail a year or two along the way. To earn his "Abitur" a student must pass final examinations in sometimes as many as ten to fourteen subjects.

Study at the university takes six to eight years to complete. Whenever a student feels he is ready, he takes a state-given test. The results of this test are the only thing which determine his passing or failing. (He does get two chances.) A thesis is written in the student's major field. He is tested orally and with essay-type questions in both his major and minor areas of study. Science students generally don't have minors and do a special laboratory project instead of a dissertation.

THREE TYPES OF CLASSES

There are three different types of classes: lectures, seminars, and exercises. In the lecture students need prepare nothing. They merely come to class, listen, and leave. Since the classes are so large—up to 800—it is impossible to take attendance. To get credit for a lecture the student need only get the professor to sign his "Studienbuch" in the beginning of the semester. This book is used as a record of courses the student has taken at the university. Seminars are smaller—from 50-200.

For each seminar the student is required to write a term paper or give a lengthy report in class. Exercises are especially important in language studies. Weekly assignments are given which the student is expected to do. For a seminar a student usually receives a grade which goes into his record but has absolutely no bearing on the grade of his final exam. A student receiving all A's could fail his final examination and therefore not complete his university study.

Student Life Different

Independent would best describe German students. It is customary for them to live alone in private rented rooms, choose their own classes, buy their own books, and provide their own meals. Much of their work is independent research. The professors are merely there to guide, leaving much for the student to dig out for himself. The whole atmosphere is different than on a small American campus. In accordance with the converted medieval buildings serving as classrooms, the professors maintain the same kind of dignity. When they enter a classroom, everyone shows his respect by pounding on the desks or stamping his feet on the floor. Any disfavor to what the professor says is greeted with hissing sounds. The fact that the student body at Marburg varies from 8,000 to 10,000 adds to the problem of contact between student and professor. However, by the time the student has completed his dissertation, he generally knows his department's professors and especially the adviser to his theme.

There is no campus as such, the buildings being spread throughout the city, Marburg, as a city of 42,000 actually subsists from the university and students. Since all German universities are set up the same, students transfer from one to another of the eleven with ease. It is the idea to "hear a professor," not to "attend a school."

Tuition is comparatively cheap. Students attending the university in their home political district receive automatic free tuition. Even out-of-state students pay a low forty dollars per semester.

Some 30 percent of last year's graduates from Elizabethtown College are now in advanced university or professional school programs.

ADD ONE—Susie Kurtz, freshman, splits the defense and prepares to fire on goal in a recent Jaygal practice session. Her shot beat goalie Sandy McCleary and entered the lower left hand corner of the net.

THE LINE-UP—Five mainstays of the cross country team begin a practice run as they would like to finish several regular season meets—in a dead heat. On Homecoming Day they will play host to Lebanon Valley and Dickinson in a triangular meet.

Speaking of Sports

By ED SIEBER

A baseball season is a long grind, whether it be a major or minor league schedule. And when the final out of the last game is recorded, most players are ready to enjoy a long winter's nap while doing as little as possible.

Such stars, however, as Carl Yazstremiski, Tony Kubeck, and Elizabethtown's Gene Kerns and Ray Diener trade their spikes for books each fall. These fellows are looking ahead to the future when they will no longer be able to earn their bread on the diamond. Consequently these men are enrolled in an institution of higher learning.

We also note that Nelson Chittum, a 1956 graduate of E-town, is a professional baseball player, and he too will appear later in this column.

Of particular interest, of course, to Elizabethtown are Kerns and Diener since they are still enrolled here. This week Kerns is the featured player.

A native of Hancock, Md., Gene Kerns is starting his final semester of study at Elizabethtown College. This comes on the heels of the best season the 23 year old Philadelphia Phillies farm hand has experienced to date in organized ball.

Majoring in social studies, Kerns hit .349 this past season for Twin Falls, Idaho, which is a member of the Class A, Pioneer League. The scrappy centerfielder helped lead his club to the league championship as he batted in the leadoff position. However, he remarked regretfully, "We lost the playoffs to Idaho Falls, a Yankee farm club."

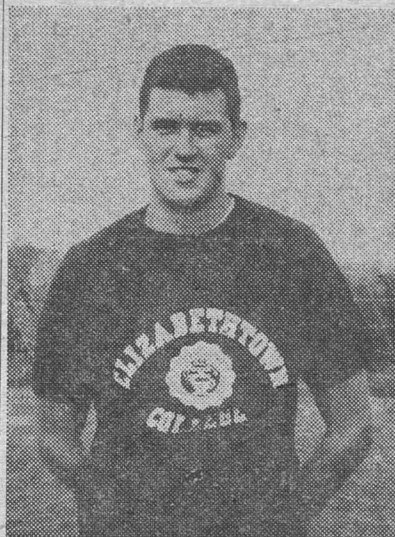

In addition to his excellent batting average, Kerns belted eight roundtrippers, 22 doubles, four triples stole 22 bases, knocked in 50 runs, and crossed the plate 104 times himself.

Unfortunately, Gene was injured on opening day and missed the next 24 games. However, he bounced back and played in every game thereafter.

With such a successful season recorded, "Kernsey" expects to earn a tryout with Chattanooga, the Phils AA farm club of the Sally League.

Gene is married and is the father of a one year old daughter. He lives here with his family during the off season.

The soccer team lost a crucial contest to West Chester; the field hockey team was at .500; and the cross country squad was off on the right foot after the first full week of action on the fall sports scene at Elizabethtown College.

CAGE COP—for the Bird soccer team this season is senior Frank Zimmerman. The Schaffers town ace is a three year letterman and last year backstopped the Jays to a 12-2 mark. Frank recorded seven shutouts in 14 games and at one stretch blanked the opposition for 684 consecutive minutes of action. He later received a tryout for the Olympic soccer team.

ALL-AMERICAN — Al Hershey is one of the three prolific scorers that Elizabethtown College is featuring on the 1963 edition of the Blue Jays soccer team. Last year Al potted 20 goals and was named to the nation's second All-American team. He is co-captain, with Jeff Bensing for the second consecutive season.

After two Middle Atlantic Conference victories in their first two outings the soccer-men and a good percentage of the students body made a determined trip to West Chester, and everybody returned as disappointed as after last year's 2-0 loss to the Rams on the home field. The score was 2-0 again this year.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Rams punctured the Jays' goal for tallies in the second and third periods. Tony McGlaughlin, who has scored seven times in the Jays' first two games, was injured during the second half, and Elizabethtown never came back.

Last season West Chester accounted for the only minus sign on the Blue Jay's regular season slate. Now the E-town rooters are hoping it will be the same this year.

In the opener at Gettysburg, the Jays fell behind before they mounted a formidable offensive attack in the second half to overpower the Bullets 5-2. Centerforward McGlaughlin racked up four of the goals; Al Hershey, left inside, slammed through the other.

On October 5 Elizabethtown scored an 8-1 triumph over Lycoming in the home opener. McGlaughlin had three goals in that one, and Hershey added two, halfback Jeff Bensing two, and freshman winger Bill Zimmerman one.

The women's field hockey team came out of its first three contests with a win, a loss, and a tie.

The Jaygals opened the College's sports season on September 28 with a 2-2 tie here against East Stroudsburg. Sophomore Louise Wenger and freshman Suzie Kurtz notched the E-town goals.

About a week later the Gals copped their initial victory of the campaign when they outpointed Millersville 3-0. Judy Tropp, a sophomore, collected two goals, and Miss Wenger banged in the other. Sophomore Sandy McCleary registerer the shutout.

The International Wanderers, a team of foreign all-stars, outclassed the Jaygals 6-0 on October 5. Making a swing through this area of the country the more experienced Wanderers impressed a Saturday crowd which included several area high school field hockey teams.

With hopes set on continuing the upward swing of success in cross country, the Blue Jay harriers chalked up a first meet victory over Moravian on October 8.

Bill Reed, Bill Drear, and Al Owens, all holdovers from last year's squad, which posted a 6-5 record, finished in a tie for first place in pacing the Jays to a 20-37 triumph over the Greyhounds on the home course.

The other two Jays in the scoring column were Bob Gilbert, who placed sixth, and Mike Smith, who finished eighth.

All three teams were to be in action again prior to Homecoming Day with a total of four contests on the schedule before October 19. On homecoming Day each of the teams will be on display before the College's visiting alumni and friends.

Blue Jay Cagers Begin Practice

Blue Jay basketball veterans and hopefuls were to report for practice for the first time on October 15. The first game, meanwhile, is more than a month and a half away. It will pit the Jays against Lebanon Valley here on December 5.

Head coach Don Smith expects to have size, speed, and experience going for him this year as all five members of the most frequent starting combination of last year are back. That gang includes Captain John Neely, Jim Schlichter, Bill Bechtold, Larry Evans, and Dan Reitmeyer.

A change in the coaching ranks will see Jack L. Hedrick, former player under Coach Smith now a member of the Chemistry Department, replacing Owen L. Wright as assistant basketball coach. Hedrick will direct the junior varsity.

Former E-town Coach to Teach At Colby Coll.

Dr. Everett M. Woodman, president of Colby Junior College, New London, New Hampshire, has announced the appointment of Miss Julia Ann Risser, daughter of Mrs. Miriam R. Risser, 531 College avenue, this borough, to the physical education department at the college.

Miss Risser, a former instructor and coach at Elizabethtown College, received her B.S. degree at Lock Haven State College, and her M.Ed. at Penn State.

She has taken summer courses also at Wisconsin University and Northwestern University. Miss Risser taught at Stemmers Run Junior High School, before coming to Elizabethtown. Prior to her appointment at Colby, she was the club director at Edward's Service Club, in Frankfurt, Germany.

McAuley Releases New Campus Plans

Construction of five new athletic fields and a face lifting of Lake Placida will soon give the campus of the College a new look.

Dr. Roy E. McAuley, president of the College, unveiled plans for the campus expansion shortly after the Board of Trustees announced the purchase of more land earlier this month.

Eleven acres of land have been added to the southeast end of the campus, which now totals 86 acres. Thus the College will be bounded on the southeast by College Avenue extended and Cedar Street, which now ends at Baugher Avenue but will eventually be continued out to College Avenue.

"A firm is currently drawing up specifications for us to put out to bid," Dr. McAuley said. "We hope the bids will be out within the next month, and we would expect work to begin on the athletic fields as soon thereafter as possible."

New fields to be constructed include a soccer field, a baseball field, two-multipurpose fields, and a field hockey area with a track around it. Among the activities projected for the multipurpose fields are softball, touch football, and other intramural sports.

The soccer, baseball, and one multipurpose field will be constructed first, and the others will follow as money becomes available, according to Dr. McAuley.

Our projections are not basically for intercollegiate athletics," he said. "They are primarily for the current physical education program plus what we hope will be an expanded education and intramural program."

"But the fields will be of regulation size for use in intercollegiate athletics," he added.

Also planned is a redefining of the boundaries of Lake Placida and the addition of better drainage of areas surrounding the lake. It is located on the northeast end of the campus.

"The lake will be smaller but more useable; it will be approachable from any bank," Dr. McAuley said. "Among other things the renovation will provide better facilities for ice skating and will enhance the beauty of the lake and surrounding areas."

"Renovation of the land, which will increase its value, must come from capital funds. We are not using student fees or current income for this," he added.

Two buildings that figure in the College's expansion plans will be located on some of the land presently used for athletics. They are a classroom building to be located north of the Baugher Student Center and a physical education building to be constructed northeast of the Student Center.

These structures will probably be started following the completion of a construction program that will provide a new men's dormitory and additions to the dining hall and library. This construction is expected to be underway by early spring.

Council Discusses Alumni Day, Loans, Awards At Fall Meeting

Preliminary discussion of a plan to honor an outstanding alumnus each year marked the fall meeting of the Elizabethtown College Alumni Council October 17 in the Baugher Student Center.

Alumni Swim Schedule Set

A schedule of free Alumni "Swims" has been announced by James L. M. Yeingst, director of public relations, and Theodore A. Roscher, director of athletics.

All Alumni are invited to swim free of charge in the pool in the Baugher Student Center on selected Saturdays from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. Presentation of alumni cards will be requested.

The following dates have been reserved for alumni.

College Gets $10,000 Gift

Elizabethtown College has received a gift of $10,000 to be used in providing loans for students preparing for Christian service, either as ministers or missionaries.

The gift was made by Mrs. Bernice (Gibble) Fraser, Washington, D. C., to establish the "Samuel and Ida Gibble Loan Fund" in memory of her parents, Samuel and Ida (Overholser) Gibble.

In making her gift, Mrs. Fraser cited the College's "important work of training the following generations."

Dr. Roy E. McAuley, president of the College, indicated that Mrs. Fraser's loan program will help to underwrite the higher education of students preparing for full-time careers in Church work.

"Gifts such as this grow increasingly important in light of the rising costs involved in completing a college education," Dr. McAuley related.

"Without the understanding and support of persons such as Mrs. Fraser, the cause of Christian higher education would be faced with even more difficult problems than are currently faced."

Hiram J. Frysinger, '29, president of the Alumni Association, conducted the meeting with ten of the 13 members of Council present.

Ed Boll, '47, Elizabethtown, chairman of the Alumni Association's Public Relations Committee, proposed the award program for outstanding alumni as a part of his committee's report. Council approved the plan and named representatives to a committee to work with the faculty and administration of the college in implementing the project.

Initial plans for Alumni Day, 1964, were outlined by Paul Grubb Jr., Elizabethtown, chairman of the Alumni Day Committee. It was decided to begin the day's activities in the early afternoon, eliminating the luncheon meetings of the past few years. Special emphasis will be placed on the annual Alumni-Senior Dinner to which members of the Class of '64 will be invited.

Mrs. Margaret Lehman, '51, Glen Rock, chairman of the Nominating Committee, presented a slate of candidates for alumni trustee, two council members, and vice-president of the association to be placed on the ballot next spring. Names of candidates will be released after they agree to seek the office for which they are recommended.

The Student Loan Committee, chaired by Mrs. Charlotte Gorman, '41, Lancaster, reported that additional funds are available for use by upperclassmen in need of financial assistance.

President Roy McAuley spoke briefly, outlining plans for the development of the eastern portion of the campus, where new athletic fields will be located.

It was announced that the College had renewed the note held by the Alumni Association in the amount of $40,689.48. These funds are being held intact for use in underwriting the cost of constructing a new physical education building, including a gymnasium.

In addition, Council gave considerable discussion to the qualifications to be sought in selecting a person to assist Alumni Secretary C. G. Enterline in administering the programs of Placement and Alumni Relations. A committee of three council members was named to work with the administration of the College in screening candidates.

The growing work load involved in alumni and placement activities was also considered, and a recommendation was made that additional help be made available in the Alumni Office.

In addition to President Frysinger, other members of council present were: Paul Grubb Jr., '55, vice-president; Mrs. Elsie Kilhefner, '33, Elizabethtown, secretary; Albert E. Richwine, '49, Harrisburg; Mrs. Bertha Graham, '34, Enola; D. Paul Rice, '55, Elizabethtown; Mrs. Jean Moyer '54, Elizabethtown; Robert F. Nation, '49, Elizabethtown; Edwin Boll, '47, Elizabethtown; and Mrs. Margaret Lehman, '51, Glen Rock.

Registrar Tabs Final Figures On Enrollment

Elizabethtown College has a record enrollment of 1,021 full-time students on campus this year according to official figures released by the Office of the Registrar recently.

Other full-time students enrolled by the College include 64 at the Harrisburg Area Center and nine overseas for a total of 1,094. Among the full-time students are 589 men and 505 women.

The College has also enrolled 104 part-time students on campus and 372 part-time students at the Harrisburg Area Center.

Last year the College had 925 full-time students enrolled.

Half-semester Practice Teaching Stint Begins For 91 Students

Ninety-one Elizabethtown College seniors started to put their education to practical use Wednesday when they began an eight-week program of student teaching in area schools.

The program of concentrated observation and actual teaching will culminate Jan. 24, 1964, according to Prof. Elmer B. Hoover, Director of Teacher Training.

Student teachers will not be required to have full teaching responsibility until after one complete week of observation. The maximum teaching load must be assumed by Dec. 2.

In addition to fulfilling the teaching duties, all students must also attend individual and group conferences which will be scheduled during the evening before they will be qualified to receive the eight credits for completing the course.

Prof. Hoover directed the student teaching assignments. He

Annual Christmas Concert Features 3 Choral Groups

Three student choral groups will present the annual Christmas Concert at the College on December 8 in the Alumni Auditorium. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Participating will be the Concert Choir and the Dufay Singers, both under the direction of Prof. David P. Willoughby, and the Women's Chorus, directed by Prof. William C. Bailey.

The concert choir will open the program with "Fanfare for Christmas Day" by Martin Shaw and two selections from Bach's "Christmas Oratorio." It will also present two Sixteenth Century numbers sung in Latin.

Two numbers from Benjamin Britten's "The Ceremony of Carols" will be sung by the Women's Chorus plus three popular selections, "Carol of the Bells," "Lullaby for Mary's Son," and "Sleighride."

The Dufay Singers will sing two numbers by 16th century German composers.

Prof. Nevin W. Fisher, head of the Music Department, will lead the audience in a carol sing, and the Concert Choir will conclude the program with five numbers including three Nineteenth Century French selections sung in English.

The Concert Choir has 36 members; the Women's Chorus, 70; and the Dufay Singers, 11. Betty Myers, a junior from York, is accompanist for the Choir. Greg Bachman, a sophomore from York, accompanies the other two groups.

Doris Mohn, Lancaster freshman, will sing a soprano solo during one of the numbers by the Women's Chorus.

Choir Schedule Set

Seventeen concerts are included on the 1964 Concert Choir itinerary released recently by Prof. David P. Willoughby, choir director.

The schedule includes four Sunday morning-evening trips and one five-day trip to six churches and three high schools. A program of sacred music will be presented in the churches; sacred and secular music will be included on the high school assembly programs.

Sunday, February 16—	Morning —Codorus Church of the Brethren, Seven Valleys.
	Evening —Ephrata Church of the Brethren, Ephrata.
Sunday, March 1—	Morning —First Church of the Brethren, York.
	Evening —Elizabethtown Church of the Brethren.
Friday, March 20—	Afternoon—Souderton Area Senior High School, Souderton.
	Evening —Indian Creek Church of the Brethren, Vernfield.
Saturday, March 21—	Evening —First Presbyterian Church—Freehold, N.J.
Sunday, March 22—	Morning —First Church of the Brethren, Philadelphia.
	Evening —Seaview Baptist Church, Linwood, N.J.
Monday, March 23—	Afternoon—Hunterdon Central High School, Flemington, N.J.
	Evening —St. Philip-in-the-Fields Episcopal Church, Oreland.
Tuesday, March 24—	Afternoon—Conrad Weiser Area High School, Robesonia.
	Evening —Mechanic Grove Church of the Brethren, Quarryville.
Sunday, April 12—	Morning —First Church of the Brethren, Harrisburg.
	Evening —Lancaster Church of the Brethren, Lancaster.
Sunday, April 26—	Morning —Shippensburg Church of the Brethren, Shippensburg.
	Evening —Waynesboro Church of the Brethren, Waynesboro.

Alumni Speak Well For Future Grads

Proof that capable alumni speak well for their alma mater and for her future graduates exists in many companies, organizations, and schools across the nation.

This is especially well illustrated by Pomeroy's Department Store in Harrisburg, where qualified graduates of Elizabethtown College are welcome applicants because of the performances of past E-town grads.

At the suggestion of Prof. Edgar T. Bitting, head of the department of business currently on a year's leave of absence, the ETOWNIAN questioned the personnel director at Pomeroy's and found that eight Elizabethtown College alumni presently hold positions at the store, one of the best-known merchandise marts in the area.

Included in the group are Donald H. Moll, '49; James Bortzfield, '57; R. Gene Brubaker, '60; Ross Ricketts, '61; Robert Rosenberger, '62; T. Jerry Howard, '62; D. Burnet Flory, '63; and Mollie K. Moersbacher, '63.

All were business majors at Elizabethtown, and each joined the staff at the store the same year he graduated from the College.

Moll is presently the merchandise manager of the Ready-to-wear Division. Bortzfield is a buyer for the Basement Sportswear Department. Brubaker was transferred to Pomeroy's store in Pottsville as personnel manager.

Ricketts received a promotion to buyer of cosmetics in October, and Rosenberger was promoted to buyer of cameras, books, and records at the same time.

Howard, recently returned from military service, is continuing his training as assistant buyer in the Boys' Clothing and Furnishing Department.

The most recent Elizabethtown grads on the payroll, Flory and Miss Moersbacher, joined the firm this summer as executive trainees. Flory is an assistant buyer in the Men's and Boys' Departments in the newly remodeled branch store in Lebanon; Miss Moersbacher is an assistant buyer in the Better and Moderate Priced Dress Departments.

The "Pomeroy's Chapter" of the Alumni Association should have some meaning for the Class of 1964, the Class of 1965, and so on, as each class finds itself approaching graduation with an apprehensive glance toward employment and careers.

For the most part, the graduated are merely pictures in yearbooks and names in professors' stories to the undergraduates. But alumni have helped to contribute to a reputation for Elizabethtown College, a reputation that is paving the way to better jobs for Elizabethtown's annually expanding list of sons and daughters.

Hats Off

Elsewhere in this issue, there are several mentions of our students who have been recognized for their academic achievements. Five women were selected for membership in the women's honor society, two students were chosen as candidates for the Woodrow Wilson Graduate Fellowship, and two students were nominated for the Danforth Fellowship.

We often fail to recognize achievements of this kind with plaudits equal to those for the winning team or the star athlete. ETOWNIAN kudos to these academic stars!

"YOU PASSED YOUR PHYSICAL WITH FLYING COLORS—HOWEVER, THERE'S SOME QUESTION ABOUT YOUR SOCIAL MATURITY PROFILE."

Especially For Alumni...

By HIRAM J. FRYINGER

President, Alumni Association

If you were the president of the Elizabethtown College Alumni Association and had the responsibility or opportunity of writing a monthly column, what would you write about?

What do you think the alumni organization should be emphasizing at this time in the life of the college? What are the things that you would like to know about the Association? What should be called to the attention of our members?

Clarence Enterline during recent years tried in various ways to make the activities of the organization known—through the Etownian, through Alumni Chapter meetings, through Home Coming and Alumni Days.

Yet even in spite of all of this information and activity we still, apparently, have a large number of alumni who are not aware of the rapidly developing program of the college and the continuing need of annual support. In a recent letter reporting on the 5th Annual Giving Fund, James L. M. Yeingst, Director of Public Relations, included the following two paragraphs:

"Overall, alumni giving totaled $16,449.70 which is slightly under last year's total of $17,634.37. Total receipts for the Fifth AFG from all sources are $187,484.14, second only to last year's record total of $201,349.95 and certainly a source of satisfaction for you and other friends of the college who labored during the drive.

Alumni giving is a pivotal area for the college's fund raising program because other gifts from industry and foundations are often predicted on how well alumni support the institution.

Thoughts from Alumni

By Pearl M. Risser

ED. NOTE—While C. G. Enterline, alumni secretary, is recuperating from a recent illness, this column, normally devoted to the regular feature, "From the Secretary's Angle," will be reserved for a series of guest alumni columns.

Now that lazy summer days and restful vacations are behind us, and we are getting into the swing of the busy fall season, we alumni of Elizabethtown College should pause and give thought to whether or not we are living up to the tradition in which we were educated, to our motto, "Educate for Service."

It is all too easy to sit back and "let George do it." But we have a responsibility to our community, our Alma Mater, and to ourselves.

Being of service need not be in loud and spectacular ways, but can permeate our lives through

Mrs. Arthur J. Risser (Pearl M. Brock) graduated from Elizabethtown College in 1940 with the bachelor of science degree. A former member of the Alumni Council, she has been active in alumni affairs while teaching in the public schools in Baltimore. the humblest to the proudest tasks. Are we serving those around us by letting our Christianity shine through our daily actions?

Are we serving our co-workers, our families, and our friends by providing encouragement and sympathetic understanding of their problems? Are we scrupulously careful not to cut any corners from the high moral standards which are an integral part of our education at E. C.?

There is much need in church work, school PTA's, youth organizations, scouting, etc., for academically and morally educated leaders. Are you experiencing the joyous fulfillment of using your spare time in community service?

You're too busy? Remember, that old cliché, "In order to get something done, ask the busiest person you know," is solid fact. It's those who care who get things accomplished.

Let us honor our Alma Mater, not by being a passive observer of the contemporary scene, but by aspiring to a new perception of the beauty and goodness of ordinary living.

The things which we have so long taken for granted assume new meaning when we give generously of ourselves. Let us live up to our Christian values and personify the promise "Educate for Service."

Four Chapters Meet

For chapters of the Alumni Association held fall meetings recently.

The Cumberland Valley Chapter met on October 26 at the Ranch in Chambersburg. Dr. and Mrs. O. F. Stambaugh and James L. M. Yeingst, director of public relations, represented the College. Dr. Stambaugh is head of the Chemistry Department and director of Summer Sessions. Mrs. Stambaugh is an assistant in the Library.

Two of the new officers elected are Mildred M. Heckman, '26, president, and the Reverend Irving Glover, '58, vice-president.

On November 2 the Washington Chapter met in the Washington City Church of the Brethren. Representing the College there were Dr. Jacob E. Hershman dean, and Elmer B. Hoover, head of the Education Department.

The new president of that chapter is Edwin A. Ankeny, '58, of Germantown.

Pres. McAuley and Dr. and Mrs. Apgar were on hand for the Philadelphia Chapter meeting held November 2 at the Forest Inn, Ambler. Dr. Apgar is head of the Biology Department, and Dr. Bessie Apgar is a professor in the same department. They showed slides of some of their travels.

New officers of the chapter are Jon Singer, '62, president; Dr. Walter W. Eshelman, '30, vice president; Stanley R. Neyer, '60, second vice president; Nancy Sheaffer, '53, secretary; and Richard Ensinger, '63, treasurer.

Also present was former Association president Edgar T. Bitting and Mrs. Bitting. Bitting is head of the Business Department at the College but is currently on leave. About 40 persons attended the meeting.

The most recent chapter meeting was held at Waly's Restaurant, Allentown, by the Lehigh Valley Chapter. President of that group for the past year has been the Reverend William A. Ellsworth, Jr., '53, pastor of the Grace United Church of Christ, Northampton.

GRADUATE AND DIVINITY SCHOOL

About 38 per cent of the Class of 1963 currently hold teaching positions. More than ten per cent of the class are now attending graduate school.

These statistics were revealed recently when the Alumni Office released its breakdown of the whereabouts of the most recently graduated class. The Office has no information on 27 of the graduates; the list below includes information on 155.

Other figures show 17 percent of the class engaged in nursing, medical technology, and secretarial work; ten percent in retailoring, executive training, management, or engineering; six percent in accounting or banking; and four percent in military service.

It should be noted that most of those in teaching and some in the other areas are presently taking graduate work on a part-time basis or have plans to begin graduate work in the near future.

Janet Walton Studying At Merrill-Palmer

Miss Janet H. Walton, Class of '64, is currently studying at the Merrill-Palmer Institute in Detroit, Michigan.

Janet Walton

The Merrill-Palmer Institute is a unique institution which, through comprehensive programs of teaching, research, and community service, is a center for the study of human growth and development, family life, and community organization.

Selected undergraduate students in sociology, home economics, psychology, education and related fields, from 65 colleges and universities throughout the country, spend a quarter year or a full semester at the Institute, receiving full credit for their work at their home institutions.

Coed Writes Winning Hymn

An Elizabethtown College junior, Margie Sue Heisey, has been selected as a winner in a hymn writing contest sponsored by the Church of the Brethren.

Miss Heisey's hymn, "O Come Thou Fount of Joy and Peace," was one of three to be judged as winners. Miss Heisey composed the music; her mother wrote the words.

Her hymn was written as a requirement for a theory course conducted by Dr. Carl N. Shull, director of music education at the College.

All entries submitted to the Church of the Brethren's Music and Worship Committee were on the Brotherhood theme, "To Heal the Broken."

Three Nominated

Seniors Jay Lehman and Scott Swank have been nominated by the College as candidates for appointment as Danforth Graduate Fellows; it was recently announced by Dr. James Berkebile, campus liaison officer for the program.

Qualifications listed by the program include "outstanding intellectual promise and personality, integrity, a genuine interest in religion, and a high potential for effective college teaching."

Miss Linda Young and Swank have been nominated for the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship.

Woodrow Wilson Fellows are chosen from about 10,000 candidates nominated by the appointed college faculty members.

The Fellowship Foundation offers a total of 1,000 fellowships for first year graduate study leading to careers in college teaching.

I and the Alumni Council would appreciate your comments and suggestions as we consider the concerns and best interests of the Alumni Association and Elizabethtown College.

Cagers Prepare To Open Season Against L.V.C.

Laden with returning lettermen, Coach Don Smith's varsity basketball squad is in the thick of preseason workouts preparing for the campaign opener against archrival Lebanon Valley here on December 5.

Smith has on hand six lettermen and all the starters from last year's squad which posted a 15-5 record. In addition he has three sophomore holdovers from last year's team and four freshmen.

Among the letter winners back are John Neely, senior guard from Harrisburg; Jim Selichter, sen-

We Get LETTERS

(ED. NOTE—Beth Deibert, '62, is currently serving in El Salvador, Central America, as a member of the Peace Corps. Part of her October 22 letter to the College is printed here to keep the Association informed about alumni in foreign countries.)

I have been in El Salvador since early September. For the past five weeks my fellow volunteers and myself have undergone further training with old members of the Peace Corps now here.

There are 27 of us who will be working in Community Development in various remote villages. In particular, we will be assigned, or have been, to a brigade. These brigades of five persons each are part of the Ministry of Education's push to speed up and aid the progress of the country. Each of the five persons concentrates on one specialty: agriculture, recreation, basic education, health, and home economics (mine). We all work cooperatively toward common goals of more literacy, better health, etc. Generally there are one or two American PCV's assigned to each of the 18 brigades. We will spend one year in one village, hopefully moving to another close by at the end of that time.

We have only yesterday received our brigade assignments so that, at this time, I do not know the location of my village. However, we will be going out to them by Monday of this coming week. I am working with a graduate of the University of Wisconsin who, for his tour with the Peace Corps, is a health specialist.

It will be an interesting two years and I will keep in touch with you during the time.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
Beth Deibert

Tourney Bids Pending For Booters

Jays Also After MAC Crown Again

With the Middle Atlantic Conference's Northern Division title already wrapped up, the Elizabethtown College soccer was biding its time awaiting word on a playoff game and tournament bids as this issue of the ETOWNIAN went to press.

THE RACE—for the leather is on between E-town's right fullback, John Suffel, and an unidentified Drexel wing. Suffel won the race, as the Jays did the game, by a 2-1 score.

Speaking of Sports

"Study."

That's the advice that Ray Diener, a professional baseball player who attends Elizabethtown College in the off season, has for all college students.

Diener spent last summer throwing baseballs for Rocky Mt., North Carolina, the class A farm of the Cincinnati Reds. But during the winter the lanky 6' 4" senior is working towards a B. S. degree in chemistry. Ray will graduate in February, 1965.

This year the Fredericksburg lefty compiled a mark of 8-12 along with an E.R.A. of 3.40. Actually his record is quite deceiving since he was 7-3 the first half of the year and was selected for the league all-star team. However, a back injury in July put a serious crimp in Diener's effectiveness for the remainder of the campaign.

As of now Ray reports the back feels fine and he hopes to earn a shot with Macon, Georgia, the Reds double AA farm club, come next spring. Jokingly, however, the former E-town ace added, "I'm a hitting pitcher, I had seven hits last year, that ought to merit some reward in itself."

While at Elizabethtown, before he signed his baseball pact, Ray was the first man to letter in three varsity sports. He tended goal for the soccer team, played forward on the cage team, and was, of course, the mainstay of the mound staff in baseball.

It seems that this years cross-country team just can't stay out of the news. They're either short of runners, have a list of injuries as long as your arm, or are faced with some other problem. Maybe they'll be without a practice course.

Injuries also plagued the soccer team all season and have already begun to turn Coach Smith's hair gray. Basketball practice has resulted in at least three injuries of some seriousness.

Jaygals End 5-2-1 Season; Runners Lose

The women's field hockey team completed a successful season on November 2, and the cross country team was slated to end an unsuccessful one on November 16.

A 5-3 loss to Gettysburg ended the Jaygals campaign on a sour note but they had previously racked up enough wins to assure a winning season. Their final record was 5-2-1.

A week after the Gettysburg game the team participated in the Central Penn tournament at Dillsburg and won one while losing two.

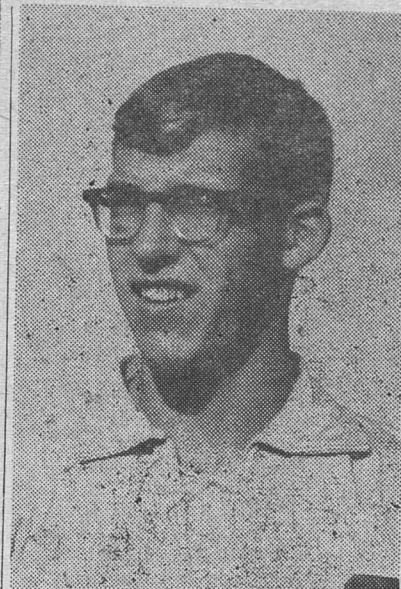

As a result of their play in the tourney Louise Wenger and Polly Provost were named to the second all-star team, and Suzie Kurtz and Janet Espenshade received honorable mentions. They were to play in the Mid-east tournament at Wilson College, Chambersburg, on November 16 and 17.

Miss Wenger tied Linda Eshelman's single season scoring record here with 19 tallies this year. Miss Kurtz added nine to the team's total, and Judy Tropp had six.

The cross country picture was more bleak. After winning their first two meets, the Jays proceeded to lose seven of their next eight and had to take a 3-7 mark into their regular season's finale with Johns Hopkins and Penn Military at PMC on November 16.

After that the Jays were planning to compete in the Middle Atlantic Conference championship race in Philadelphia on November 22.

Al Owens, a sophomore, was the Jays' most consistent runner this year finishing first or tie for first among Elizabethtown runners in all but one race. Bill Reed, the Jays' second best speed man, finished first in that race and never finished lower than second among Blue Jay runners.

CO-CAPTAIN—of the soccer team this year is star halfback Jeff Bensing. Bensing was named to several all-star teams last year, including the all PA.-N.J.-Del. team. The three year letterman is a distinct threat on offense as well as defense. Jeff is only the second person to letter in three varsity sports at Elizabethtown. The Fredericksburg athlete, also, improved wrestler on the squad, grapples at 147 lb. and catches on the baseball team. Last season on the mats he recorded the fastest pin for E-town, in addition to being named the most A broken ankle in the Millersville game put Bensing out of action for the remainder of the soccer season.

BOOTER — Jay Lehman has already doubled his goal output over last season. The Mt. Joy senior has garnered eight goals this year, three of which have been game winners. His presence has been especially felt in the second half of the campaign, since the one year letterman has scored all his goals in the past six games.

The Jays clinched the division crown on November 9 dumping Wilkes College, 8-1, here. The win gave them a 7-1 record in conference and a 10-1 mark in the completed regular season. Only a 2-9 loss at West Chester marred the record.

Temple and Swarthmore remained in contention for the Southern Division title, and the only certainty for the Jays was that they would play one of the two on the Elizabethtown Field for the Conference crown sometime after November 16. E-town won the championship last year with a playoff victory over Franklin and Marshall.

In the meantime, Coach Owen Wright has his eyes on possible tournament bids from the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) and the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

The NCAA action is carded for Tufts University at Medford, Massachusetts, on November 22 and 23. The NAIA National Collegiate Small College Tournament will take place over the Thanksgiving weekend, November 29 and 30, at Frostburg State Teachers College, Frostburg, Maryland.

As this was being written committees were in the process of selecting tournament entries, and announcements of selections were expected by November 18.

Al Hershey, left inside, led the Jays in scoring over the regular season with 13 goals. Tony McGlaughlin, injured for part of the campaign, wound up with 11 from the center forward slot. Jay Lehman, who played several line positions, finished third in scoring with eight goals.

Goalie Frank Zimmerman continued to protect his record of never giving up more than two goals in any one game through high school and college.

Though McGlaughlin's injured knee is improving and Gerry Botdorf is back after missing most of the season with a leg injury, the Jays enter the playoff without their ace halfback, Jeff Bensing, who sustained a broken ankle in the Millersville game and is lost for the season.

In action prior to the Wilkes contest, the Blue Jays copped a crucial 2-0 victory at East Stroudsburg on November 6 and a 9-0 Dad's Day win over Moravian here on November 2. Before that they clipped Millersville here, 3-1, and Drexel, 2-1, in Philadelphia.

Overall the Jays had a 49-11 edge in goals over their opponents in all games and a 40-10 margin against Middle Atlantic Conference competition.

These students have been assigned to the following grades: four to kindergarten, nine in grade one, 13 in grade two, 14 in grade three, seven in grade four, six in grade five, and five in sixth grade.

In a list of suggested plans for student teaching issued by the Department of Education, Prof. Hoover stated, "The entire course in supervised teaching, when participated in wholeheartedly by the student teacher, will make a lasting contribution to his success. Nowhere else in the college program does a student have as much individual attention given to him as in this course."

Trustees Schedule Special Meeting

A special meeting to open bids for back-campus improvement will be held by the Board of Trustees at the College on December 28, according to Dr. Roy E. McAuley, president of the College.

The Board will decide at that time whether it will accept a bid and plan the beginning of renovation of the northeast corner of the campus, Dr. McAuley said.

Five new athletic fields and a face lifting of Lake Placida will be the ultimate result of the development. A soccer field, baseball field, and a multipurpose field for gym classes and intramural sports will be constructed first.

The land on which the improvements will be made includes 11 acres recently purchased by the College.

The improvements were necessitated by the planning of new buildings, specifically a classroom building and a physical education center, on land which is presently used for athletic fields.

Winter Alumni Day has been set for February 22 on the campus.

Activities which will include recreation (swimming, bowling, etc.) in the Baugher Student Center, a wrestling meet with Albright, and a basketball game with Juniata will begin about 1 p.m.

More details will be forthcoming in the January edition of the alumni ETOWNIAN.

Holiday Activity Closes 1963 Here

A festive round of Christmas-flavored activity on campus served as a prelude to the term's longest vacation this month.

Already past as the ETOWNIAN went to press was a concert in the Alumni Auditorium featuring the Concert Choir, the Dufay Singers, the Women's Chorus, and an audience caroling on December 8.

Scheduled for December 14 was a Christmas Dance in the gymnasium-auditorium, and on the following day the campus women were to hold a special party at the same site.

A meeting of the Lancaster County High School Principals was scheduled for December 18 followed by the annual All-College Yule Bowl, an informal social for students, faculty, and staff.

The Varsity "E" Club invited their counterparts from Lebanon Valley College for a joint meeting and swimming party the same evening.

Coach Don Smith's basketball team was to close out its pre-Christmas activity against Rutgers of South Jersey here on December 19; and the Elizabethtown College Christian Association was to team with the Lutheran Student Association for caroling in the community on the same evening.

Vacation was to begin at 5 p.m. on Friday, December 20. Classes resume at 7:40 a.m. on January 6.

$50 Will Be Given By Eta Phi Sigma To Winning Orator

Arguments against the use of tobacco and alcoholic beverages will be voiced in the January 7 oratorical contest, sponsored by Eta Phi Sigma, the forensics society. "Increased general concern over the various effects of smoking and drinking," states Professor Jobie E. Riley, makes this a pertinent contest and removes it from the category of puritanical rhetoric.

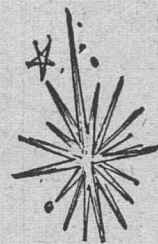

Fifty dollars cash will be awarded to the first-place winner, thirty to the second, and twenty to the third.

Alumnus Spends Year Behind Iron Curtain

"I discovered that wherever I went, people were the same. I feel I better understand some of the implications about Communists. I also felt how distorted life can be when people are always told that they have worth only as far as they can serve the state. But I also learned that these people love their countries, even though they recognize that the governments are not according to their liking."

Carl W. Zeigler, Jr., '59, is presently studying on the new campus of Bethany Theological Seminary in the suburbs of Chicago. He is temporarily settled there with his wife of several months, Carole, a native of California. The couple met in Vienna, Austria.

Carl will tell you that he is only at the beginning. He beams confidently as he thinks of the future. But he also has some rich experiences under his cap — among them a period of 12 months behind the Iron Curtain.

In October 1960 he entered Alternative Service and was engaged in a training program in New Windsor, Maryland, prior to assignment overseas.

He landed in Rotterdam, Holland, on December 17 and spent the next three weeks at the European Orientation Center in Kassel, Germany. While there he studied German language, culture, and customs.

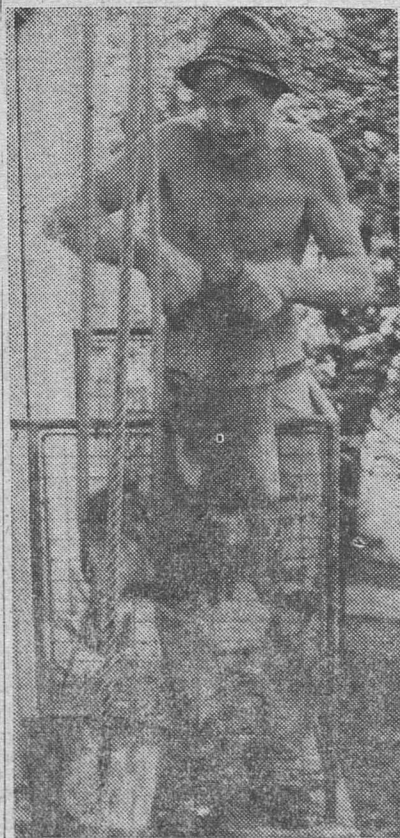

That led to an assignment with an interim project of the Brethren Service Commission in Vienna. Working in cooperation with the Mennonite Central Committee and the Austrian Evangelisches Lutheran Church he helped to reconstruct a protestant elementary school. He worked as a plasterer and brick layer during the day, attended night classes at the University of Vienna in German study, and participated in youth group organizational work with the Lutheran Church.

joined three others on an excursion to Budapest, Hungary. He says of the trip: "We stayed in a very average hotel in the center of the city and were allowed considerable freedom to move throughout the city and found many people to whom we were able to communicate in the German language."

He added, "Hungarians are a very friendly and emotional folk. It was interesting to notice the eagerness as the people talked about the West and especially about America; however they still were somewhat disillusioned about 1956."

Carl claims that the trip gave him a brief but worthwhile look at some aspects of life behind the Iron Curtain. Later in Poland he was to discover much more of the implications of such an existence.

Following the Vienna Project, Carl worked on an old folks home project in Hinterbruhl, Austria and assisted Austrian Relief Agencies until December, 1961, when he was transferred to Warsaw, Poland.

Carl Zeigler, '59, lifts buckets of cement during construction of an old folks home in Hinterbruhl, Austria.

Christmas, 1961, was spent in the Austrian Alps. "I heard about a family where the father had died and left a wife and five small children and a small farm. So I spent two weeks helping to run the farm, chopped wood, played father for the children, helped butcher a sow, helped deliver a calf on New Year's Eve, and skied and hiked in the snow covered mountains."

In Poland he served as the Assistant Director for Church World Service, (CWS) which serves the country at the request of the Polish Ecumenical Council, a member of the World Council of Churches in Geneva, Switzerland.

CWS serves as a liaison between the Polish Ministry of Health and the U. S. Department of Agriculture to facilitate the shipment of surplus agricultural products to Poland. CWS also has its own relief program which supplies institutions through Poland.

Carl's job involved inspections of recipient institutions and the handling of loss and damage forms. Thus he got to travel extensively in Poland. He was there until December 2, 1962, when he returned home.

During his vacation in Poland he spent two weeks living with a mountaineer (sheep herder) family in the Tatra Mountains at the southern tip of the Country.

"Poland," he said, "is without doubt the most pro-American country I visited — this is, speaking about the people, not the government."

Looking back, Carl objectively declines to comment profusely on his experiences behind the Iron Curtain. "I feel strongly that I shouldn't say too much. I don't feel I have had enough study and experience to comment extensively. Often this kind of quote I feel does more harm than good, by only touching the surface."

"I did learn that it is very maturing to learn new languages and cultures and to attempt to view world problems from other countries' points of view," he added. "I do not always agree with all actions by the USA, but being away from the USA has given me a new appreciation for our country and especially for its untouched potentials."

Honor Society Inducts Nine New Members

ABRAXAS inducted nine new members at its regular monthly meeting, November 14, 1963, in Room 200 of the Baugher Student Center.

Welcomed into ABRAXAS membership were seniors William H. Bentz, David Brownback, and David Grove, and juniors William Brown, Carlyle Crane, Jr., Robert Guthrie, Robert Hontz, Jr., Stephen Keiser, and A. Herbert Smith.

Newly-elected faculty member, Dr. O. F. Stambaugh, Head of the Department of Chemistry, was also welcomed at the same time. Prof. Henry Libhart, a present faculty member of the Society, was named faculty adviser.

Following the business meeting, Prof. Libhart, a noted artist, gave an illustrated talk on hyper-realistic painting.

Especially For Alumni...

By HIRAM J. FRYINGER

President, Alumni Association

The Elizabethtown College Alumni Association is proud of Elizabethtown College graduates who become known for their Christian character and dedicated service. Keeping Christmas can bring to the fore all that is best in human relationships. Together we celebrate the season.

Let us keep Christmas as suggested by Henry Van Dyke.

"Are you willing to forget what you have done for other people, and to remember what other people have done for you; to ignore what the world owes you, and to think what you owe the world; to put your rights in the background, and your duties in the middle distance, and your chances to do a little more than your duty in the foreground; . . . to close your book of complaints against management of the universe, and look around you for a place where you can sow a few seeds of happiness — are you willing to do these things even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas.

Are you willing to stoop down and consider the needs and the desires of little children; to remember the weakness and loneliness of people who are growing old; . . . to bear in mind the things that other people have to bear in their hearts; to try to understand what those who live in the same house with you really want, without waiting for them to tell you; to trim your lamp so that it will give more light and less smoke, and to carry it in front so that your shadow will fall behind you; to make a grave for your ugly thoughts and a garden for your kindly feelings, with the gate open — are you willing to do these things for even a day? Then you can keep Christmas.

Are you willing to believe that love is the strongest thing in the world — stronger than hate, stronger than evil, stronger than death — and that the blessed life which began in Bethlehem nineteen hundred years ago is the image and brightness of the Eternal Love? Then you can keep Christmas.

And if you keep it for a day, why not always? But you can never keep it alone."

Committed Alumni

For the purpose of this writing let us define "Committed Alumni" as those who have dedicated a significant amount of their earnings while living, and likewise, a significant amount of their accumulated savings upon death, to their Alma Mater. May their tribe increase.

Assuming that a significant amount of both savings and earnings are a good and proper figure with which to begin and end, how can we induce more of the alumni to commit themselves to a level where they find joy in sharing the rewards of their own education with the present and future generations?

It won't be easy. The dedication and self-discipline required of a person to bring himself or herself to the place where they willingly and cheerfully give of themselves so that the young people here

Overdoing It?

Immediately after the tragic occurrence of several weeks ago, proposals were made to name many streets, turnpikes, high schools, and towns after the late John F. Kennedy.

One newspaper in West Virginia suggested that the very name of their state be changed to Kennedy, or perhaps to Kennedyana. West Virginia, the paper said, has never had originality of its own; it has always been only a shadow of the "mother state"—Virginia. Since the late President had said that West Virginia was his favorite state, next to his own home state of Massachusetts, all the more reason dictates that the name be changed.

There are proposals to put Kennedy's image on the half-dollar. There are proposals to place him on the ten-dollar bill. Stamps will undoubtedly be issued with his picture upon them.

Overdoing it? Well, maybe. Yet, we must keep in mind how easy it is to forget the great life that was lost. Immediate shock is one thing; genuine grief and long-lasting realization of the tragedy is another. And, although we like to think that perhaps we can continue to realize the magnitude of the loss—without the external symbols staring us in the face every day—the memory of the great leader with his quest for peace must be preserved by more than oral tradition.

The following students were asked for their opinions on the matter by reporter Rosemary Hauseman.

"I had a lot of respect for him, but I think they're overdoing it."

Jo Grundon (junior).

"I feel this can be overdone. Personally, his image lives on in my mind, and I don't need material artifacts."

Dick Frantz (senior).

"I think it is too much."

Dan Mowrer (senior).

"I don't think he was in office long enough to warrant the label — Great President. Therefore, I think that if too many things were named after him, it would be too much."

Gar Fellman (junior).

"The spirit of President Kennedy should live on. But moderation in tribute is necessary; excessive displays of respect will only defeat their intended purpose."

Larry Kozubal (senior).

"President Kennedy was a great man, but as far as renaming a state after him or putting his picture on a ten-dollar bill, that is too much. He could not accomplish enough because he could not get along with Congress. Therefore he should not be classified with such great presidents as Abraham Lincoln."

John Kieft (senior).

"Changing the name of West Virginia to Kennedy, in my estimation, would be overdoing our admiration and respect for the late President. Anything that has been in existence as long as a state has had its beginning and that beginning is now history. Why change this? The assassination of President Kennedy is part of the history of today, and therefore any recognition given to this dedicated man should be a symbol of today — space advancements, international peace, education, etc.

Anne Makowiak (senior).

THOUGHTS...

Two More Alumni Back

Harry J. Graham

Graham Likes High Caliber Of Students

By Donna Ward

New to the Department of Education this year, but not new to the Elizabethtown College campus, is Professor Harry Graham, whose name is frequently linked with the introduction to education course taken by many freshmen.

A native of Philadelphia, Graham served in the Air Force for seven years prior to his earning a B. S. degree in secondary education at Elizabethtown College in 1957.

Following graduation from E'town, he taught mathematics in the Elizabethtown Area High School for six years, completing courses for a Master of Education Administration degree at Temple University in 1961 at the same time.

Returning to his Alma Mater after a six-year absence, Professor Graham makes these observations:

"The changes at Elizabethtown are all for the better, and I look forward to more of them. Of course, the additions to the physical plant are good for the College, but the higher caliber of the student body marks the real change."

The challenge of college teaching is very evidently being met by this new professor; the shelves in his South Hall office are overflowing with resource books, material that Graham honestly states is needed to give greater depth to his lectures.

Professor Graham enjoys teaching in an atmosphere of student maturity, lack of discipline problems, and greater academic freedom, all changes from his work with high school students.

Twenty-two student-teaching seniors will be observed by Professor Graham in the coming weeks, as they experience "the most important eight weeks of their training," according to Graham.

This new faculty member is married and has two children who are eager to try out the college swimming pool. Outside of teaching, Graham is active in church work and a YMCA director.

Jerald Garland

Alumnus Back; Reminded Of 'The Old Times'

By Jean Healy

Jerald L. Garland, a 1959 graduate of Elizabethtown College, returned to his Alma Mater in September as Assistant Dean of Admissions with the rank of Instructor.

"It was necessary to create this position," Garland explained, "due to the College's rapid student expansion and growth, and the increasing need for us to visit other states."

As Assistant Dean of Admissions, Garland interviews prospective E-town students. He visits numerous high schools, speaking to students, guidance counselors, and principals, and also attends various conventions and conferences.

Garland received his A. B. degree in English from Elizabethtown College. He attended Pennsylvania State University and Temple University, and will receive an M. S. degree in Education from Temple in June.

Prior to accepting the position as Assistant of Admissions at E-town, Garland taught English for three and one-half years at Dallastown High School, in suburban York, Pa. While at Dallastown he was director of dramatics and taught drama and speech courses.

Garland is not married, and stated that he "is very much a bachelor."

The drama (especially the 'avant garde' drama), tennis, and sports cars are of special interest to Garland. His TR3 was recently traded for an American made car.

While a student at Elizabethtown, he participated in dramatic productions and was a member of the tennis team.

When asked how students today compare to those of four and more years ago, Garland said, "I find that students are much the same; it is the campus that is greatly changed."

"This year there are five members of my graduating class on the faculty," Garland added. "It almost seems like old times!"

In closing, Garland said, "I enjoy my work very much and I am pleased to return to E-town as a member of the faculty and staff."

E'TOWNERS IN EUROPE WRITE OF LOCAL REACTION

Genuine Sorrow Felt By French

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Coed Janet Jones is studying in Strasbourg, France, under the Brethren Colleges Abroad Program. In a letter to one of her former professors she gave the following reaction to the Kennedy death in France.)

For the past four days I've been doing nothing but reading French newspapers and watching TV. Honestly, I've never seen a more concerned group than the people here in France. You would think he (Pres. Kennedy) was their leader.

Perhaps because he was Catholic has a lot to do with it, but really I think they are truly sad for all America. I've just never seen more sympathy and sadness than right here. Usually in America when some tragedy strikes another country, we say, "Oh, that's too bad" and usually forget it; but here in Europe they realize that the U.S. is most powerful and the leader of the free world.

I'm really glad I'm here now that this has happened, for I have seen how people react when viewing something like this from a different perspective. All the flags were flown at half-mast yesterday, and French TV became American TV by way of Telstar during the mass.

Another experience which was unique occurred yesterday. We were fortunate to get tickets to the opening session of the Conseil d'Europe. There, by the use of earphones, we were able to hear the Italian President speak English.

The session lasted only 45 minutes. It was a session paying tribute to President Kennedy. The members then adjourned and all went to a special mass at the cathedral. It is really unbelievable — all the concern here.

country will be met, and incidentally paid for, with our tax monies.

But I am equally convinced that the national and state governments do not have the capacity, the right, nor the will to provide the Christian influence which is both heart and soul of our Christian colleges. This we must do.

The expanded program of alumni participation and activities should be continued and extended, even though it would require a full-time director. The pay-off will come when more of the alumni graduate to "Committed Alumni."

Weaver On Go

Neighbors Were Weeping Openly, Grief and Sorrow Was 'Thorough,' Writes E-town Prof. From Germany

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The shock of President Kennedy's death was, of course, worldwide. Below are some of the impressions of Dr. Robert A. Byerly, who is directing the Brethren Colleges Abroad Program in Marburg, Germany.)

The news coverage of the tragic and sudden death of John F. Kennedy on November 22 here in Germany has been very complete and sympathetic. Since we are about six hours behind or later than you are in the U.S.A., the news broke here soon after 8:00 p.m.

I had gone to a lecture on Kierkegaard at the University by a visiting Tübingen professor and did not leave the University building until about 9:30. I had stopped at an ice-cream place for a snack when a gentleman at the counter who recognized me as an American (due to my not-perfect Deutsch) asked: "Did you hear what I just heard on the street?" — this man had also been at the lecture. After he told me the news, I could hardly believe it and soon hurried home.

Mark and Mrs. Byerly had the radio tuned to the A.F.N. (Armed Forces Network out of Frankfurt). The family had been alerted to this by a neighbor upstairs who had heard of the shooting and had gone out to eat at a local stube. This neighbor (a doctor's wife) called to Helen from the stube to say that Kennedy was dead. She was crying and said that nearly all in the cafe or eating place were also crying. Others in the apartments above us came to express their concern and sympathy, since we were the only American family living in this part of the rather-long row of apartment houses.

We have been impressed as to how thorough the grief and sorrow was. President Kennedy had left a tremendous impression here during his visit not so many months ago. We had access to some television programs which showed detailed reviews of the President's visits, life, etc. These were probably much like the ones you had in the states, but they were from German studios and German-produced.

On that Friday night, I called the Auslandsamt (Foreign Student Office) of the University and arranged for a conference Saturday, 9 a.m. In conjunction with, and with cooperation from Herr Dempfer of the University office, and with the cooperation of Mr. Robert Timms of the Marburg Deutsche-Amerika Haus, a service of recognition and prayer for the American students and others was scheduled for Saturday afternoon at 5:00.

Our prayer was in behalf of the Kennedy family, the government, and for the basic issues of time which center in world understanding and peace. We did not eulogize, and the total service was less than a half-hour.

What surprised many was the attendance. We thought if 20 or 30 people came, it would be good. There were 300 or more, mostly students and University officials, in the service, many auslanders other than Americans, plus many Germans. This was not a spectacular type of thing, but many have expressed their appreciation for this service which so many of us, Americans and indeed others, needed during this disturbing time.

I'm not sure how the resulting news of Oswald's murder, etc., will be taken. This certainly leaves an image that almost everybody carries a gun in the U. S. A. and that there are some aspects of democracy which have run loose. I think most honest, thinking persons will understand.

We have been very aware that the news sounds different here in our adopted country for one year. Even some of the statements made over the A.F.N. stations can be very misleading and so easily misinterpreted from a European standpoint.

books, "The Conestogan," I find the following men lettered in three sports:

'52—James Meminger—Basketball, Soccer, Tennis.

'55—George McCue—Soccer, Basketball, Baseball.

'56—Jack Ferich—Soccer, Basketball, Baseball.

'57—Robert Wert—Soccer, Basketball, Baseball.

These are a few of the many, including myself, that had lettered in three sports prior to Diener and Bensing.

In your enthusiastic praising the present athletes, check the records before awarding any more firsts or seconds.

The fine "E-town Spirit" has always been, and, I hope, always will be great. But, please remind the present student body that this great "spirit" was started and maintained by those that now are the Alumni. It is up to them to increase the great "E-town Spirit," and maybe there will be some firsts and seconds to be awarded.

Keep up the good work.

They say that when you print something, be prepared for criticism! That is the prime reason for this letter, since your November issue is devoted to many items subject to argument especially in the area of "Everything for comfort and outdoor recreation but nothing for classrooms conducive to Education."

Getting right to the one article by Ed Sieber, which states "Ray was the first man to letter in three varsity sports" is as far from fact as one can get and still remain on campus. Many names come to mind at this writing but in order not to slight anyone I would suggest that the records be reviewed as far back as 1934 or 35. During the years 1937 to 1941 four names come to mind and one was "Disney" who was killed during World War II and a name to be placed on the "Memorial Gymnasium." Let us not deprive those who gave their life of the respect they deserve.

Booters MAC King Runnerup In NCAA

By Ed Sieber

The Elizabethtown College soccer team gained an even split in its hectic week-long (November 22 - 29) championship competition as it captured the Middle Atlantic Conference crown but then dropped a heart breaking verdict in the NCAA small college title game.

The University of Baltimore dealt the Blue Jays their biggest setback of the year as they captured a 2-1 decision, at rain-swept West Chester, for the Atlantic Coast championship last Friday. And the winners did it in dramatic storybook fashion to record an undefeated season of 11-0-3.

With only 1:48 showing on the clock, halfback George Barger plunked the winning tally into the cage after taking a miss-kick "pass" from winger Tommie Thompson.

At first Barger did not even realize he had scored because he had taken a wild kick at the sphere while a mass of humanity milled between himself and the goal. This mass of confusion, however, caused E-town goalie Frank Zimmerman to be screened on the play and the ball found its mark in the lower right corner of the net.

Barger's score broke a tie that had existed since 3:42 of the second period when Al Hershey potted his 17th goal of the year on a pass from Tony McGlaughlin. Hershey's tally was only the fourth goal in 14 games surrendered by U. B. goalie Charlie Bates.

Elizabethtown missed several other golden scoring opportunities in that same period while in the next session the ball appeared to be over the line but the officials were out of position to make a decision.

Tompson had placed the Crabtowners on the score board at 12:10 of the front period as he banged in a short shot after taking pass from Al Sheridan.

Between the Baltimore contest the first tournament game vs. Colby, in Boston, Elizabethtown annexed its second consecutive MAC championship, and the third in five seasons. The Owls of Temple University fell victim to the Birds on Nov. 26 by a 5-0 count. Previous title wins were over F&M last year and Washington in 1959.

After a sluggish first quarter, rapid fire goals by Jay Lehman and Tony McGlaughlin coming only 58 seconds apart started the Wrightmen toward victory. McGlaughlin's tally was a sensational breakaway that covered half of the field while two fullbacks were breathing down his neck.

Gerry Botdorf notched a goal in each of the third and fourth stanzas, both being unassisted, while McGlaughlin tacked on another in the windup session.

The shutout was number five for Frank Zimmerman and the 12th in two years for the Schafferstown senior. He needed only nine saves to record the whitewash as compared to 18 for his Owl counterpart.

E-town reached the NCAA final round on the strength of a 5-0 lacing of Colby College, Maine on November 22. The title game scheduled for the 23rd was postponed because of the death of President Kennedy and was rescheduled for West Chester.

Colby entered the game with a fine 10-1-1 mark and had distinguished themselves since they were fresh from capturing the Maine state soccer championship.

Elizabethtown, ironically, concluded 1963 with practically an identical record as the 1962 outfit recorded. Both teams had 12-2 records, MAC champs, runners-up in the NCAA, and the two teams each lost to West Chester besides the championship setbacks.

E-town Places 3 On All-Star Team

Three Elizabethtown College soccer players were named to the All-Star team of the NCAA Atlantic Coast Regional Soccer Tournament, Harry Arlanson, tournament chairman, announced recently.

Al Hershey, senior left inside from Paradise; Henry Pownall, junior left halfback from Gap; and Tom Speakman, junior center halfback from Paradise, were selected along with four players from the University of Baltimore, the tournament winner; two from Colby (Maine) College; and two from New Paltz (New York) State College.

Elizabethtown finished second in the tourney, which was begun at Tufts College, Medford, Massachusetts, and completed at West Chester College when the assassination of the President forced postponement.

Baltimore's goalie, Charles Bates, was pegged the most valuable player of the event.

Wrestlers, Women Cagers Ready To Open Seasons

The College's wrestling and women's basketball teams were ready to swing into action for the first time this season as this issue of the ETOWNIAN went to press.

Coach Ted Roscher's grapplers were slated to open against Western Maryland at Westminster on December 12. The Jaygals don't have a regular season game on the slate until January 7 when they play at Moravian, but Coach Allegra Hess lined up two scrimmages for December.

Her squad was to play host to St. Joseph's Hospital of Lancaster on December 12 and Messiah College on December 16.

Seven returning lettermen carry Roscher's hopes of matching or bettering last year's wrestling mark of six wins and six losses, the best in nine seasons of intercollegiate wrestling here.

Leading the way will be Jerry Greiner, a senior 167-pounder from Manheim, who collected 41 team points with 11 wins (including three falls) and one loss a year ago. Greiner is captain for the second season.

Another senior, Jeff Bensing of Fredericksburg, will be out of action during the first half of the campaign while he recovers from a broken ankle sustained during the recent soccer season, Bensing lettered at 157 lbs. and recorded the teams fastest pin (2:04) last year.

Jackson piled up the second best record on the team last season when he accumulated 31 team points on nine victories and two defeats.

According to Roscher, about four newcomers to the team also had good shots at making the starting lineup.

The Jaygal dribblers, who racked up eight victories in 11 games last season, have four letter winners back, but the two top scorers of a year ago have departed leaving Coach Hess with the chore of mustering some offensive punch.

She will probably count heavily on Carolyn Moyer, a junior from Souderton, who won her third letter last season while netting the team's third highest point total, 116. That was good for a 10.5 average.

Also back are Marilyn Fox, Pottstown, and Karen Jo Young, McClure, two sophomores who played guard and forward last season. Suzanne Markey, a senior guard from Perkasio, is expected to anchor the defense.

Speaking of Sports

(EDITOR'S NOTE: We yield with apologies to two alumni who have taken the time to correct an erroneous statement in a recent column. Their letters constitute SPEAKING OF SPORTS this month.)

Ed Sieber, Sports Editor

Each month I enjoy reading about my Alma Mater in the Etownian, which helps to keep us well informed of many of the accomplishments at the College and the "Old Grads."

Like most of the Alumni I take pride in the fine teams that represent E-town. Therefore, I read with great interest the fine section on sports.

In the November issue of the Etownian you have written that Ray Diener was the first man to letter in three varsity sports. Also, in your praising the co-captain of the soccer team, Jeff Bensing,—"Jeff is only the second person to letter in three varsity sports at Elizabethtown."

I'm sure that if you were to check the records you would find that there were many men lettering in three varsity sports at Elizabethtown many years before Mr. Diener and Mr. Bensing did.

Checking some of my year-

Three more games, Scranton away, Millersville away, and Rutgers of South Jersey here, were on the slate prior to the start of Christmas vacation.

Elizabethtown found the range after a three minute lull against Lycoming, traded leads with the Warriors for awhile, and finally pulled away for keeps with about two-thirds of the first half remaining.

Bill Bechtold, senior forward from Jim Thorpe, scored 11 times from the field and once from the foul line to pace the Jays' offense with 23 points. Five other Jays also hit double figures.

They were Dan Reitmeyer, 15; Larry Evans, 11; John Lentz, 11; Dave Lebo, 11; and John Neely, 10.

As usual the game featured some slick playmaking by the 5'6" Neely. The Jays hit 44 percent of the shots from the field, many of them following key passes by Captain Neely.

On December 7 Elizabethtown built an early lead and coasted in with a lopsided victory over an inexperienced Penn Military aggregation. Reitmeyer and Evans paved the way for the Jays with 14 points each; Bechtold added 13, and Larry Wyles had 10.

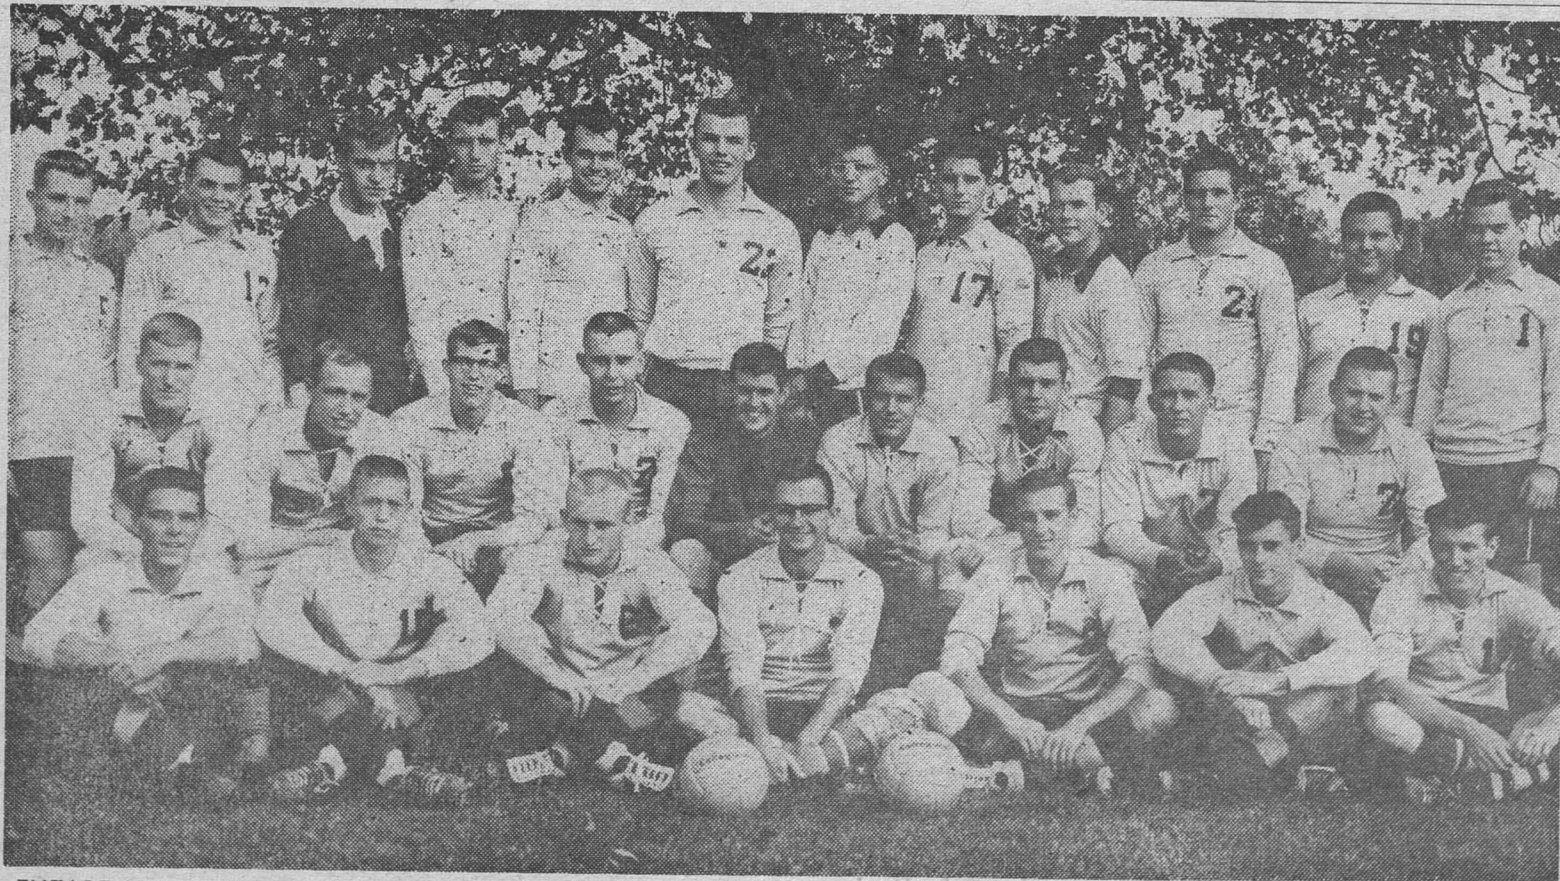

In the opener against Lebanon Valley on December 5 the Jays jumped out in front then fell behind momentarily before rallying to lead by as much as 18 points early in the second half.

But the Dutchmen came storming back to cut the lead to four before Neely returned to the lineup following leg muscle cramps to spark a counter rally that netted a final 14-point margin of victory.

Reitmeyer was high man for Elizabethtown with 26 counters. Bechtold added 18; Evans, 14; and Neely, 12.

During the Christmas vacation Coach Don Smith's crew will be in action down in Bridgewater, Virginia, in the Bridgewater tournament. That will take place on January 3 and 4.

Other participants in the tourney will include Bridgewater College, Frostburg (Md.) State College, and Concord (W. Va.) College.

GROWING AND GROWING . . . Architect's drawing, above, shows how library on Elizabethtown College campus will appear (front view) upon completion of additions estimated to cost $360,000. Construction, planned to begin this spring, will triple library's facilities, and is part of three major buildings to be constructed on campus, expected to cost $1,250,000. To aid in meeting costs of expansion, a three-year fund-raising campaign will be initiated in near future.

Library Enlargement First Project In $1,250,000 College Expansion

Elizabethtown College has announced plans for a three-year fund-raising campaign to raise monies to construct three major buildings on the campus: a library, classroom building, and physical education building.

President Roy E. McAuley, speaking for the board of trustees, said the campaign will be launched with a convocation April 10 and 11, and will have a goal of $1,250,000.

"This drive is a big step in our plan to provide the needed facilities to serve a student body of approximately 1,200 students," President McAuley said.

The first project to be constructed as a part of the campaign will be an addition to the College Library, which will triple the current library facilities. The estimated cost of the project is $360,000. Construction is expected to begin this spring.

The classroom building, designed to provide better instructional facilities and faculty offices, will cost approximately $500,000. Current estimates of the physical education building cost is $390,000.

Preparations are already underway to contact alumni, friends, the supporting church constituency, business and industry, and foundations to seek gifts for the campaign.

Campaign leadership will be announced shortly, President McAuley indicated. Theme of the campaign will be "Pathway to Fulfillment."

In explaining the theme, President McAuley said that the college is reaching that point in its development where the growth of recent years will come to fruition in a stabilized enrollment served by adequate facilities.

The facilities to be constructed as a result of the forthcoming campaign are part of a broad program of development projected by Elizabethtown College over the next ten years. Other buildings to be added to the campus

David C. Stambaugh Named Drive Leader

David C. Stambaugh, a retired industrialist from Lancaster, has been named general chairman of the Elizabethtown College "Pathway to Fulfillment" campaign to raise funds for three major buildings on the campus.

Stambaugh, who resides at 1535 Country Club drive, Lancaster, is a former general manager and vice-president for manufacturing for the Bulova Watch Company.

He is a member of the board of trustees of Elizabethtown College.

He will direct the college's efforts to raise $1,250,000 over the next three years. The monies will be used to construct an addition to the college library, a classroom building, and a physical education building. The drive will begin this spring with a major convocation on the campus, April 10 and 11.

Educated in the public schools of Mechanicsburg, Stambaugh was employed as a toolmaker for the Hamilton Watch Company. He joined the Bulova Watch Company in 1934, as a foreman. He became production manager for Bulova in 1945, and general manager a year later.

Stambaugh was named vice-president for manufacturing in 1947, and held that post until his retirement in 1961.

In addition to serving as a trustee for Elizabethtown College, he is a member of the Circumnavigator's Club of New York, and honorary trustee of the Otilie Children's Home, in Jamaica, N.Y., and a director of the board of directors of the Boys Club, of Queensboro, N.Y.

As general chairman of the "Pathway to Fulfillment" campaign, Stambaugh will direct the organization responsible for seeking support from alumni, business and industry, foundations, interested individuals, and the Church of the Brethren, with which the college is affiliated.

Plan Now For Winter Alumni Day, Feb. 22

Alumni will be given the run of the A. C. Baugher Student Center on February 22 during the 2nd Annual Winter Alumni Day.

In addition you'll watch the Blue Jay wrestlers grapple with Albright in the restyled Alumni Gymnasium and will receive free tickets to the basketball battle with an old enemy, Juniata, the same evening.

Among the facilities in the Student Center that should interest alumni are the swimming pool, bowling alleys, snack bar, game room, color TV lounge, and book store — not to mention the former gymnasium-auditorium in the center of everything.

Old grads and their families and friends are invited to check in anytime during the day, though it is assumed there won't be too much action before noon.

The wrestling meet begins at 2 p.m.; the basketball game will be on at 8:30 p.m. in the High School gym, three blocks from the campus. A junior varsity basketball game will begin at 6:45 p.m.

All facilities of the Student Center will be open all day with the exception of the swimming pool. Life guards will be on duty there from 4 to 6 p.m.

Don't forget to bring the swimsuits — we supply inner tubes, floats, volleyballs, etc. And whip the ole bowling arm into shape; at 30c a game you're liable to roll a lot of frames.

Graduation Set for 27 February 2

Twenty-seven students will be graduated by Elizabethtown College during the Winter Commencement exercises to be held Sunday, February 2, in the Alumni Auditorium of the Baugher Student Center at 7 p.m.

Dr. Roy E. McAuley, president of the college, will give the commencement address, "What Makes a College Excellent?" The students will be presented for degrees by Dr. Jacob E. Hershman, dean of the college, to Dr. McAuley, who will confer the degrees.

Several other faculty members will participate in the ceremonies. Prof. Nevin W. Fisher, head of the music department, will play a piano solo. Prof. Paul E. Whitmoyer will give the invocation, and Prof. Stanley E. Sutphin will pronounce the benediction.

Dr. O. F. Stambaugh, head marshal, will be aided by Dr. Carl W. Zeigler, assistant marshal.

Those to receive bachelor of arts degrees and their majors are Gordon W. Campbell, history and political science; Lucrètia H. Gourley, sociology; David E. Grove, history and political science; Joyce L. Kintzer, history and political science; F. Fiske Martin, English; Robert B. Strine, Jr., psychology; Scott T. Swank, history and political science; and Janet H. Walton, psychology.

Seven will receive bachelor of science degrees. They are Ella M. Daubert, biology; Eloise A. Gichner, nursing; Donna D. Hamilton, nursing; Wayne C. Keene, business administration; Margaret J. Mackenzie, nursing; Barbara Hensel Monn, nursing; and Martin A. Heilman, chemistry.

Candidates for bachelor of science in education degrees with majors in elementary education are Janet L. Bauser, Barbara L. Bechtel, Lucinda Kratzer Dulany, Gail Knapp, Judith C. Malarik, Marilyn Meagher, Judith L. Pelley, Susan J. Wade, and Lenore R. Young.

Receiving bachelor of science in education with majors in secondary education will be Gerald H. Botdorf, David L. Farmer, and Lyle E. Kerns.

Four Courses Added To Etown Curriculum

Four new courses have been added to the curriculum at Elizabethtown College and will be offered for the first time during the second semester, Dean Jacob E. Hershman announced recently.

Honorary Trustee Of College Dies

Joseph N. Cassel, nonorary trustee and trustee emeritus of Elizabethtown College, died on December 18, 1963, at the age of 86. His funeral was held in the Skippack Church of the Brethren, near Collegeville, on December 21. Rev. Cassel resided at R. D. 1, Collegeville.

The new courses include: American State and Local Government, an adjunct to the present course in American national government (Mon.-Wed.-Fri. at 1 p.m.).

Constitutional Law, a casebook study of the Federal Constitution (Mon.-Wed.-Fri. at 2 p.m.).

Profs Comment

ED. NOTE—The following comments by professors were made for a campus edition of the ETOWNIAN before the riots in Panama took place.

"Often we hear of students in foreign countries rioting and becoming aroused over governmental policies, new laws, etc. American students don't seem to do this nearly as often. Why?"

Recently the ETOWNIAN placed this question before professors on campus and found them all stressing apathy, complacency, and education as possible answers.

Said Prof. Wykoff, "Because of previous governmental stability we tend to take government for granted and have faith in it. The feeling that one's vote has very little to do with affecting laws has permeated our nation—this is not good."

"American students don't need riots for social or political pressure," said Prof. G. Snowden. "They reach for their desires through normal democratic channels," he went on. "Also, while life here is relatively satisfactory to everyone, foreign students often have life and death issues at stake."

According to Prof. Jobie B. Riley, "We've had the good life too long." He listed contributing factors to the smaller number of student riots here such as the multi-party system which allows for a wider difference in opinions, the general unrest in foreign countries while formulating their policy, and the indivisible U. S. unity.

Prof. West's initial reaction was "How valid is the statement percentagewise?" Pointing out the recent demonstrations concerning civil rights and classroom devotions in the U. S. Prof. West surmised that if the assumption is true it is due to our confidence that the congressmen will take care of everything. In this case he feels that many Americans are "complacent cows."

Centering her views on an aspect to which the men only alluded, Prof. Jane Custer said, "It speaks well of our country that college students don't riot." She "would not like to think it's because of complacency" but rather a deeply rooted American tradition. This democratic tradition, while born of blood and sweat, has been taught through both schools and families to nearly every U. S. citizen and is held by well-bred, well-read young adults. For these reasons she added that she would never expect a student riot at Elizabethtown College.

Prof. A. Snowden mentioned the early political commitments of foreign students. "Americans," he went on, "don't seem to want to commit themselves at college age. Then too, many Americans are given the chance to become students; some of these are politically concerned and some are not. In some foreign countries, however, only the elite are able to attend universities. These elite are more concerned with politics."

Dr. Ben Marais Here Next Month For Lecture Series

Dr. Ben J. Marais, a Danforth Foundation lecturer on religion and Africa will appear on the campus of Elizabethtown College, February 12 and 13.

A distinguished clergyman and teacher from the Union of South Africa, he is being brought to the campus by the Teachers for West Africa Program as part of the College's Campus Cultural Series.

Dr. Marais will give a public lecture in the Brinser Lecture Room of the Gible Science Building at 8 p.m. on February 12. He will speak on the topic, "Which Road South Africa?" There will be no admission charge.

Also on his schedule while at Elizabethtown College will be two student assembly lectures and informal meetings with students, faculty, and several classes.

His visit will mark the second of four campus cultural programs, planned by the College's Lyceum Committee. Three Community Cultural Programs are also scheduled.

Dr. James M. Berkebile, professor of chemistry and director of the Teachers for West Africa Program, is coordinator for the visit of Dr. Marais.

A minister of the Dutch Reformed Church and a professor of History of Christianity at the University of Pretoria, Dr. Marais received his academic and theological training at Stellenbosch University.

He pursued further studies at

Princeton Theological Seminary and spent one year at Yale as a visiting fellow. Study trips were made to India in 1938 and to the United States in 1934, 1950, and 1954. He lectured here for two months in 1961 under the cultural exchange program of the U. S. Department of State.

Other lecture topics he will use while at Elizabethtown include "The Two Faces of Africa," "Africa: Battleground of Religion and Ideology," and "The Christian Church in Africa—Its History, Problems, Prospects."

Thoughts from Alumni

ED. NOTE—While C. G. Enterline, alumni secretary, is recuperating from a recent illness, this column, normally devoted to the regular feature, "From the Secretary's Angle," will be reserved for a series of guest alumni columns.

HOW BRIGHT IS OUR FUTURE?

By Dr. Jay H. Eshleman

There are many factors which contribute to the establishment and maintenance of a good college or University, four of which are basic to the growth and development of educational institutions which excel. They are:

1. A physical plant properly equipped located in an area which is conducive to study and learning.
2. An administrative staff, well organized and inspired by an able leader who has keen enough vision to recognize present and future needs and sufficient courage to initiate a program which will supply those needs.
3. An alert progressive faculty devoted to the purposes and ideals for which the institution was established; a faculty which continues its own education beyond the usual level and is dedicated to a degree of service beyond that which is normally expected;
4. An inspired alumni group, ever willing and ready to return to the College dividends in time and funds for personal values received.

Though each one of the aforementioned factors are equally important it is generally conceded that the growth and development of our leading colleges and universities would not have been possible without a continuing alumni interest and unfailing support.

How well have you and I fulfilled our responsibilities in this area?

Is there a single one among us who has actually contributed sufficiently in service, time or funds in order to qualify as one of a small group who can truly say "I have done my full share?"

Have those who have never shared in the joy of giving not been told of the thrilling experience of joining with those who never fail to give what they are able?

Need we who are alumni of Elizabethtown College be reminded of the rich heritage which is ours by virtue of the sacrifice of many who labored so unselfishly in our behalf while we were in College and since, in order that we could better serve mankind, and by the same token enjoy a more abundant life for ourselves and for those whom we love?

Ours is a free, independent, Christian institution whose future destiny can be assured by the active support of alumni and friends who believe in the principles upon which the College was founded.

What values do you place upon the continuing influence of your College in our world today and in the future?

Are those values worth your unqualified support?

If the answer is yes, our future will indeed be bright.

Symphony Here

Elizabethtown College's Lyceum Committee will sponsor a return engagement of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra in March.

One of the Community Cultural Programs, the orchestra will appear in the Elizabethtown Area High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. on March 18. Admission will be $2.00 for adults, $1.25 for students.

Rice Rejoins Alma Mater After Public School Stint

By Jean Healy

"When I was a student at E-town, the newest building was South Hall and the enrollment was just below 300," said D. Paul Rice, Assistant Professor of Education at Elizabethtown College.

Professor Rice, a 1955 graduate of Elizabethtown, joined the faculty of his Alma Mater in September, as a member of the Department of Education.

In addition to his teaching duties at Elizabethtown, Professor Rice is kept very busy supervising the 23 elementary student teachers.

"I enjoy the field of education very much," commented Prof. Rice, "and my students are a fine group of young adults, as persons and as prospective teachers."

After graduation from Elizabethtown, Professor Rice continued his studies and now holds a M.S. degree in education from Temple University.

Professor Rice, originally from Waynesboro, Pa., resides in Elizabethtown with his wife and two sons, ages 6 and 4 years.

Prior to accepting his position at the College, Rice was principal and teacher at the Fairview Elementary School, Elizabethtown, then principal of the Elizabethtown Elementary School until 1963.

The College campus is very different from the student days of Prof. Rice. In addition to building improvements and increased enrollment, there are "many more opportunities—more specialized courses, extra-curricular activities, and sports."

In recent years there has been much controversy about "methods courses." When asked to comment Rice stated:

"Methods courses are designed to help the teacher, especially the elementary teacher, deal with situations which arise in the classroom. They explain how to teach a specific subject, such as arithmetic or reading. There are many arguments pro and con for them. However, there's no doubt that the teacher's experience and personality play a major part in his teaching career."

Professor Rice feels that the people in education today are doing a respectable job, but "we have to be our own critics."

"In America we educate ALL the children of ALL the people, which is a tremendous responsibility. The basic interest will determine the calibre of education for that district."

While discussing modern educational methods, Rice said, "Teachers have to keep an open mind on development in the field, but there will never be an educational 'cure-all.' He then added "the extra interest of many teachers often make modern programs succeed; whereas, if the teacher had shown as much interest in the original work, he would probably have attained many of the same results."

Professor Rice believes that "teaching machines" can be helpful in some subjects, but that values cannot be taught by a machine.

"There will always be a place for the teacher."

EXPANSION

include four additional dormitories, a chapel-auditorium, and an addition to the dining hall. Clearing and grading of a wooded area of the 86-acre campus for the relocation of athletic fields is planned also.

During the past decade, the college has grown significantly with the addition of six major buildings and a tripling of the students body to more than 1,000 at the present time.

"We plan a controlled growth in the years immediately ahead," President McAuley related. "At present our planning calls for us to level off when the student body reaches 1,200."

The library addition, to be built around the existing Zug Memorial Library, will provide space for more than 100,000 volumes plus more adequate facilities for students and the library staff. The Zug Library, completed in 1950, was designed for a student body of 350 and is not adequate to meet the needs of the growing student body.

Night Courses Offered

Thirteen night courses will be offered by the College for college and non-college enrollees during the second semester. Included in the offerings will be courses in Biblical history, business administration, education, humanities, German, Spanish, physical education, and psychology.

Trustees Meet

The College's Board of Trustees held a special meeting on the campus on January 25 for continued briefings on progress and developments in the Capital Gifts Campaign (see page 1).

Youth Day Set

About 700 high school youth of the Eastern and Southern Pennsylvania Districts of the Church of the Brethren were expected to attend the second annual Brethren Youth Day on the campus, February 1.

Greiner Wins Contest

Gerald Greiner, senior Bible and philosophy major from Manheim, won a $50 first prize for his oration, "The Empty Tower," during an oratorical contest sponsored by the Forensics Society on campus, January 7. Twelve students gave five to seven minute oratories on the use of tobacco or the drinking of alcoholic beverages.

Distinguished Alumni Elected To Church Posts

Dr. Norman J. Baugher and Dr. Andrew W. Cordier, two distinguished alumni of Elizabethtown College, were elected vice presidents of the National Council of Churches at the Philadelphia General Assembly held recently.

For Dr. Baugher, general secretary of the General Brotherhood Board of the Church of the Brethren, the election was for a second term as vice president and chairman of one of the four NCC program units—the Division of Christian Life and Work.

Dr. Cordier, dean of Columbia University's Graduate School of International Affairs, was elected vice president at large for the first time.

Dr. Baugher received a bachelor's degree from Elizabethtown in 1940 and an honorary doctor's degree in 1963. Dr. Cordier was the first man to receive an honorary degree from Elizabethtown College. That was in 1948, when he was Assistant Executive Secretary of the United Nations.

Penna. Alumni Group Of Washington, D. C. To Meet February 1

The All Pennsylvania College Alumni Association of Washington, D. C., will hold its annual Citation Luncheon on February 1 at 12:30 p.m. in the Blue Room of the Shoreham Hotel.

A table for Elizabethtown College alumni and friends will be reserved, according to C. G. Enterline, alumni secretary.

Honored at the luncheon will be Dr. Millard Ellwood Gladfelter, president of Temple University.

Enterline said that a small representation from Elizabethtown College would attend. "I hope some of our alumni in the Washington area will attend as they did in the past," he added.

Elizabethtown College will again offer a course in general psychology with academic credit for top ranking high school seniors during the second semester, Dr. Jacob E. Hershman, dean, announced recently.

The course was given for selected students from several high schools in Southern Lancaster County last year and was termed "very successful" by Dr. Hershman.

This year the course will be conducted at Manheim Township High School, Neffsville, on Mondays at 7 p.m. by the same two instructors who handled the course last year—Dr. David I. Lasky, head of the Psychology Department, and Joel D. West, assistant professor of psychology.

The first meeting of the class is scheduled for February 3.

In addition to Manheim Township, the participating schools include Donegal, Ephrata, Garden Spot, Lampeter-Strasburg, and Solanco. Last Year the classes were held at Lampeter-Strasburg.

Students from other high schools who are recommended by their principals are also eligible for the course, according to Dr. Hershman.

Hershman will visit the participating schools to register students; late enrollees will be registered prior to the first meeting of the class.

The cost of the program is being supplemented by a gift from the Lancaster County Foundation.

Two Chapters Report Meetings

LANCASTER CHAPTER

Janet Trimmer, '56, Secretary of the Lancaster County Chapter of Elizabethtown College Alumni Association, announced that the chapter will hold its annual Spring banquet, Saturday, March 14 at 6:30 p.m., at the Holiday Inn, Lititz Pike, Lancaster.

Dr. A. G. Breidenstine, Dean of Millersville State College, will be the main speaker. Detailed announcements will be mailed to the chapter members at a later date.

LEHIGH VALLEY CHAPTER

Mrs. Richard O. Wenger, '59 secretary of the Lehigh Valley Chapter of Elizabethtown College Alumni Association, reported that the Chapter held their third meeting November 9, 1963, at Walps Restaurant, Allentown.

During the business meeting, a new constitution was adopted and the following officers installed: President, Mrs. William Ellsworth, '54; Vice-president, Miss Ruth K. Koch, '61; Secretary, Mrs. Richard O. Wenger, '59; Treasurer, William Withers, '50; and Council Member, Mrs. R. E. Myers, '55. Plans for a summer meeting were also discussed.

Kyoko Utsumi

Japanese, American Ways Are "Similar"

Coming from Tokyo, Japan, Kyoko Utsumi is accustomed to life in a four-season climate.

"We have snow," she said, "but not so many."

Kyoko's Christmas season was a busy one spent traveling to Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Washington, D. C., and she "met many wonderful people."

Since it was her first white Christmas it had a special thrill and she especially enjoyed the caroling.

In Japan, "Kyoko pointed out, 'we emphasize New Year rather than Christmas. We have a big meal, dress up and entertain; in the evening, trips are made to shrines.'"

Kyoko's home is outside Tokyo where she lives with her 17-year-old brother and her parents, both doctors.

She attended a private girls' school, Jiyugakuen (School of Freedom), from first through twelfth grade. "It's a strict school with the purpose of teaching one to be a free thinker in a Christian way of life."

According to Kyoko, Japanese and American ways of life are quite similar and adjusting to the American daily mode was not difficult.

Fashions, sports, and foods are all similar and she only raised one complaint—"I don't like sauerkraut!"

The young people of Japan like to twist, jitterbug, and listen to most popular music, especially Peter, Paul and Mary.

As for Kyoko, rock-n-roll holds no interest. She prefers Bach, Beethoven and Chopin along with Percy Faith and Montavani.

A liberal arts student majoring in English, Kyoko hopes to return to Japan after graduation to teach and help her people.

Athletes Close Semester With 14 Wins, 7 Losses

Elizabethtown College's winter athletes closed the books on the first semester activity with a composite log of 14 victories and seven defeats.

The three intercollegiate teams now take a breather of almost three weeks for final examinations and a brief mid-term recess.

Second semester action will begin February 6, when the men's basketball team will face Dickinson on the Elizabethtown Area High School court. The Blue Jay dribblers completed semester one with an 8-4 log.

Wrestling action is set to resume February 12, when the Jay matmen take a 3-3 record into a home meet with Ursinus. The women's basketball squad, undefeated in three outings, will open the second semester against East Stroudsburg, February 8, in the Jaygals' first home game of the campaign.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

Coach Don Smith's cagers posted a 6-1 record in the Northern Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference while carving out eight wins through the first 12 games on the schedule.

Scranton is the only MAC opponent to upset the Jays to date. Non-conference enemies who inflicted defeats include Millersville State College, Concord College (Athens, West Virginia), and Gettysburg—an MAC University Division club.

The Jays' victories, all by wide margins, came over Lebanon Valley, Penn. Military, Lycoming, Rutgers of South Jersey, Frostburg (Maryland), Moravian, Western Maryland, and Albright. Frostburg and Rutgers are not in the MAC.

According to statistics of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA), the Blue Jays ranked fifth among small colleges in the nation in winning margin with a 22.3 edge on all opponents through ten games. In the two games following that report the Jays won by 35 and lost by 15, so the margin now stands at 20.3.

Individually, Dan Reitmeyer, 6'7" junior from Boyertown, is pacing the cagers with a 19.6 average on 235 total points. He also leads the team in field goals (84), free throws attempted (104), free throws scored (67), rebounds (197), and rebounding average (16.4).

Larry Evans, Saxton junior, is out in front in field goal percentage with a 49.6 accuracy rate, and is second in rebounds with 149, or 12.4 per contest. The team's most consistent foul shooter has been John Lentz, Lebanon freshman, who missed the last two games because of an ankle injury. Lentz has made 78.6 percent of his foul tries.

Following Reitmeyer, the point parade shows Evans and Bill Bechtold, senior from Jim Thorpe, tied with 158 tallies each for averages of 13.2. Lentz is averaging 11.4 on 114 points, and John Neely, senior captain from Harrisburg, has netted 112 counters for a 9.3 average.

WRESTLING

The wrestling crew has been up and down at almost equal intervals en route to its .500 record through six matches. Victories over Western Maryland, Penn. Military, and Muhlenberg have been matched by losses to East Stroudsburg, Gettysburg, and Lebanon Valley.

Jerry Jackson, 137-lb. sophomore from Duncansville, is the top point maker for Coach Ted Roscher to date. He notched two falls and three decisions while dropping only one decision for 19 points.

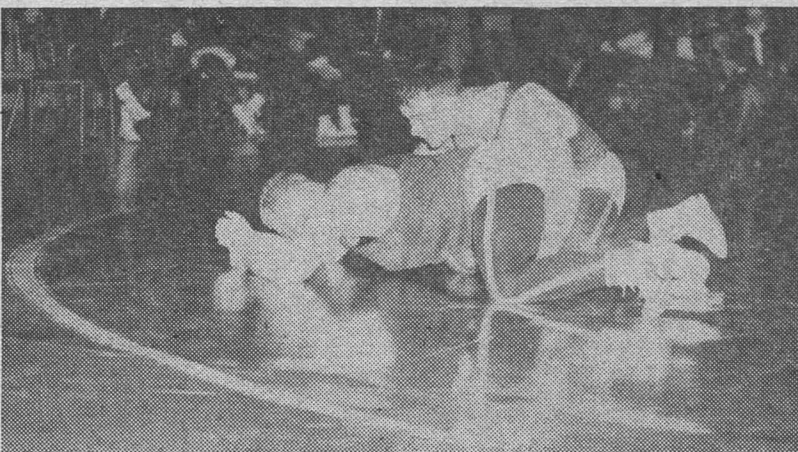

Captain Gerry Greiner, 167-pounder from Manheim, is right behind him with 16 points on two falls and two decisions. Greiner has lost two decisions.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

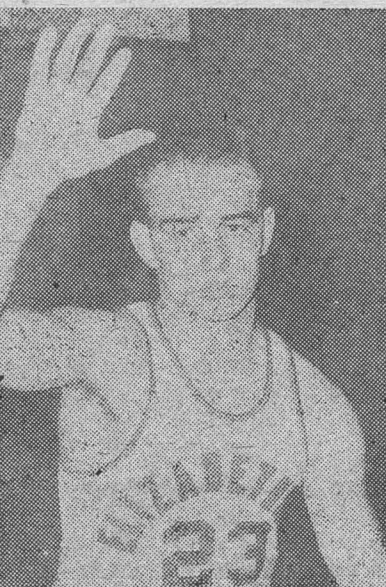

For the women's basketball team the games are getting closer all the time, but the decisions have all been favorable so far.

The Jaygals whipped Moravian by 25 points in their first game, then outscored Muhlenberg by three, and ended the semester with a one-point decision over Shippensburg.

Individual honors have been divided thus far by a veteran and a rookie. Anna Marie Rodichok, a freshman from Tower City, has chalked up 54 points for an 18-point average; Carolyn Moyer, Souderton junior, is averaging 16.6 counters per game with 50 points.

NEAR VICTORY—is E-town's 167 lb. captain Jerry Greiner. The muscular senior built up a 12-0 lead in this match vs. Lebanon Valley before he was awarded triumph by default. However, his team suffered a tough 18-16 reversal. Greiner is a three year letterman.

COURT CAPTAIN—of the 1963-64 Smithmen is senior John Neeley. The diminutive dribbler is the spark-plug of the squad as he performs his duties as the club playmaker. This season John has averaged about 12 assists per game in addition to notching a +9 point per game average. The ex-John Harris star, a three year letterman, will graduate in June with a bachelor of science degree in education.

MAC Cites Four Jay Booters

Four Elizabethtown College soccer players won Middle Atlantic Conference honors in the Northern Division according to All-Division names released January 20.

Tony McGlaughlin and Al Hershey, center forward and inside left, were named to the first team slots; Frank Zimmerman, goalie, and Ray Stern, fullback, received honorable mentions.

Hershey led the MAC champions in scoring this season with 17 goals and broke the college's career scoring record with 61 tallies during his four years. He was earlier named to the first All-American soccer team.

McGlaughlin, who hobbled through the campaign on a knee injury, was second in scoring with 14 markers. He boosted his three season scoring log to 43.

Zimmerman and Stern braced the Jay's defense which gave up only 13 goals in 14 games and posted five shutouts in leading the team to the conference championship and second place in the NCAA Atlantic Coast Regional Tournament.

Al Hershey Named First Team All-American

By ED SIEBER

Elizabethtown College attained its first All-American athlete in the history of this institution when senior Al Hershey, of Paradise, was named to the left inside position on the 1963 soccer dream team. In order to attain this coveted award the popular redhead was forced to beat out the representatives of such major universities as Michigan St. and Maryland.

The voting and selection of the soccer superstars was done by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America with the aid of the Wheaties Sports Federation. Bob Richards, former Olympic pole vaulting champion and director of the federation, said it has as its over-all purpose the encouragement of sports participation and recognition of sports achievement.

Yet with all the honor and prestige that this young man had just received he took it all in stride. "This is a fulfillment of my high school dreams, but I never expected it to come true," said Al. When asked if he had received any trophy he replied, "this honor is of more value than any material possession I could have received."

The ex-Pequa Valley star was very quick to attribute much of his success to his teammates and particularly to his brother Carroll. Al, when, asked to elaborate on this statement, said that ever since junior-high school he tried to pattern his life after the excellent examples of his brother.

"And yet the fact of striving to reach Carroll's accomplishments is not a mark of family competition but of family tradition," quoted Al. Incidentally, brother Carroll was an honorable mention All-American himself in 1960 and naturally was Al's biggest booster.

Continuing to recognize the people who made the award possible Al stated, "Without the cooperation of the team members, particularly coach Owen Wright, Tony McGlaughlin and Jeff Benning, our loyal fans, and especially through the understanding of my parents, this honor could not have been attained."

As far as the future outlook for soccer is concerned at Elizabethtown, the area's number one soccer personality had the following comment. "Concerning next season, I believe the team should match our mark of 1963. As for the more distant future, if E-town continues its present soccer program there should be many more outstanding players than myself because of the increasing ability of the individuals."

ALL-AMERICAN IN ACTION—here is Elizabethtown's Al Hershey who was awarded a first team berth on the 1963 all-star squad. In this picture he is about to score a goal in the Bucknell game of 1961. This season he led the Jays in scoring with 17 tallies and set a school mark of 61 goals with his career total.

Al, also, feels that soccer is gaining in popularity on a national scale. He pointed out that many high schools are starting the sport and combining it with football. In short, the redhead thinks soccer is here to stay, at least at Elizabethtown and in Lancaster County.

Along with his valuable All-American award, Hershey led his Blue Jay team in goals scored with 17 this season and thus set a school mark of 61 tallies in his four seasons of service. Also, he was a second team all-nation pick in 1962 plus being named on many regional all-star teams and all-opponent teams.

After completing his fourth consecutive season of baseball activity in May, he's now a three year letterman in that sport. Al Hershey will collect his eight varsity letters and All-American award plus a bachelor of science degree in elementary education. Come September he will begin along with teaching duties, to instruct young lads with the fundamental principles of his favorite sport and source of his greatest thrill — SOCCER.

Five More Trustees Designated To Direct "Fulfillment" Drive

Five more leaders have been named for the "Pathway to Fulfillment" campaign to raise funds for three major buildings on the campus.

They are:

Paul M. Grubb, Elizabethtown businessman, General Chairman of the Convocation which will officially begin the drive on April 10.

Dr. Frank S. Carper, executive vice president of the Valley Trust Company, Palmyra, General Co-Chairman of the campaign.

Dr. I. Wayne Keller, vice-president and general manager of international operations for Armstrong Cork Company, Lancaster, Honorary General Co-Chairman of the campaign.

Elmer L. Esbenshade, a retired Lancaster County businessman, Honorary General Co-Chairman of the campaign.

Dr. Horace E. Raffensperger, president of Continental Press, Inc., Elizabethtown, Leadership Gifts Chairman for the campaign.

Earlier, David C. Stambaugh, a retired industrialist from Lancaster, was named General Chairman of the campaign. All six men are members of the College's Board of Trustees.

They will direct the College's efforts to raise $1,250,000 over the next three years. The monies will be used to construct an addition to the College Library, a classroom building, and a physical education building.

As convocation chairman, Grubb will be responsible for organizing a series of meetings on the College campus, starting April 10. The Convocation will include dinners to honor outstanding alumni and citizens and to outline the planned program of development for Elizabethtown College. Speakers of national reputation will be featured.

The annual luncheon meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the College will be part of the Convocation.

Grubb is owner of a fuel oil and grain establishment in Elizabethtown. He is also chairman of the Committee on Buildings and Grounds for the Board of Trustees.

As General Co-Chairman, Dr. Carper will assist in organizing the drive to seek support from alumni, business and industry, foundations, individuals, and the Church of the Brethren, with which the College is affiliated.

Dr. Carper served as minister for the Palmyra Church of the Brethren for 50 years prior to his retirement in 1962. An alumnus of Elizabethtown College, he was awarded an honorary doctor of divinity degree by Bethany Theological Seminary, Chicago.

Paul M. Grubb

Dr. Keller, also an alumnus of the College, joined Armstrong in 1927 and rose steadily in the organization assuming his present position in 1959. In 1960 he was also named a vice president and director of the company.

Espenshade, a successful farmer in Lancaster County, retired in 1943 and began to break up his holdings for industrial sites. He won the Red Rose Award for outstanding community service in Lancaster in 1957 for offering to donate 23 acres of ground and $250,000 to the city for the construction of a civic center.

Dr. Raffensperger founded Continental Press in 1937 and built it into a national concern. He joined the College's Board of Trustees in 1950 and has served as chairman of its Development Advisory Committee. He was granted an honorary degree by the College in 1958.

Dean's List Honors 95

Ninety-five students were named to the Dean's List of Honor for the first semester, according to Dr. Jacob E. Hershman, dean.

Students must earn at least a 3.5 average for the marking period to receive Dean's List honors. A perfect average is 4.0. Sixteen students achieved a 4.0 average during the semester. They are:

Seniors: Carolyn Frits, elementary education major from Red Lion; Robert O. Kerr, chemistry major from Aliquippa; Albert A. Koch, accounting major from Lakewood, Ohio; Rose Marie Murry, business education major from Columbia; Connie Nissley, German major from Lancaster; Scott Swank, history and political science major from Mountville (graduated February 2); Charlotte L. Wenger, Mathematics major from Quarryville.

Juniors: Bertha Campanelli, chemistry major from York; Carolyn Carothers, secondary education major from Boiling Springs; Carol Conover, elementary education from Haddon Heights, N. J.; Robert D. Guthrie, chemistry major from Watson-town.

Sophomores: B. Lois Fletcher, business education major from Lansdale; M. Barry Shaffer, Bible and philosophy major from Quakertown.

Freshmen: Richard E. Heisey, mathematics major from Mt. Joy; Donald J. Puchaty, accounting major from Elizabethtown; and Virginia Wise, sociology major from Drexel Hill.

Baltimore Symphony Here On March 18

The Baltimore Symphony Orchestra will make its third appearance in six years in Elizabethtown on March 16 at 8:15 p.m.

Twenty-seven Get Degrees; One Cum Laude

Scott Swank, a history and political science major from Mountville, was graduated cum laude during the College's mid-term commencement exercises in the Alumni Auditorium, February 2.

A page in the Pennsylvania House of Representatives, Swank was top man in a class of 27. He received the bachelor of arts degree.

Dr. Roy E. McAuley, president, delivered the commencement address on the topic, "What Makes a College Excellent?" Also participating in the ceremonies were Dr. Jacob E. Hershman, dean; Paul E. Whitmoyer, assistant professor of sociology; Stanley T. Sutphin, instructor in Bible and philosophy; and a faculty quartet.

Last year, while a junior at Elizabethtown, his collection of 180 humanities books was judged the outstanding entry in a student book contest.

Swank is married to the former Sylvia Anne Eshleman of Mountville. Mrs. Swank has worked as a secretary at RCA in Lancaster to help finance her husband's education since their marriage in December, 1961.

Swank hopes to attend graduate school until he completes his doctorate, then teach history in college.

It will present a concert in the high school auditorium under the sponsorship of Elizabethtown College in cooperation with The Patton School.

The concert is the second of three Community Cultural Programs scheduled for the 1963-64 academic term. On April 11 Luboshutz and Nemenoff, a duo-piano team, will appear in the high school auditorium in the final Community Cultural Program.

Recognized as one of America's leading orchestras, the Baltimore Symphony is conducted by Peter Herman Adler, Czech-born musician who made his American debut in 1940 conducting the New York Philharmonic. He became permanent conductor of the Baltimore Symphony in 1959.

The Symphony now has 91 members and plays more than 180 concerts each season. Many of the world's most distinguished guest soloists and conductors appear regularly with the Symphony.

Among the works it will play at Elizabethtown are Hector Berlioz' Roman Carnival Overture; Piano Concerto in D Minor (K.466) by Mozart; and Modest Moussorgsky's Pictures at an Exhibition.

Also featured will be Prelude for Orchestra, a composition by Noah Klauss, Elizabethtown Area High School instrumental music teacher.

Chairman of Elizabethtown College's Lyceum Committee, which plans the Community Cultural Series, is Dr. Carl N. Shull, director of music education. The Committee also sponsors four campus cultural programs.

The Baltimore Symphony Orchestra last appeared in Elizabethtown in 1962.

College Tuition Up $100 Next Year

Elizabethtown College has announced its comprehensive fees or students, effective at the start of the 1964-65 academic term in Pres. Roy E. McAuley said that under the new rate scale resident students will pay either $1,775 or $1,825 depending upon their dormitory facilities. This includes tuition, room and board, and activity fees. The comparable rates this year are $1,675 and $1,725.

Tuition and fees for non-resident students next year will be $1,150, compared to the present rate of $1,050.

RETURN, ENGAGEMENT — One of America's leading orchestras, the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, takes a bow during a concert in the Elizabethtown Area High School Auditorium when it last appeared here in 1962. Directed by Peter Herman Adler, the Symphony returns for a concert on March 18 at 8:15 p.m.

First '64 Grads: What Next?

ED. NOTE—Reporters for the campus edition of the ETOWNIAN ran down the mid-term grads just before they left campus this month and asked them about the future. Their findings follow.

The girls found out even before the semester was over that there was a lot of work ahead of them. They were making arrangements for interviews, writing out applications for jobs and graduate schools at the same time that they were studying for that last set of final examinations.

Some of the girls found that in the short course of a week they changed from the role of student to teacher. For example, Donna Hamilton who graduated with a B.S. in nursing is now a clinical instructor at the Temple University Hospital. And several girls now find themselves in charge of groups of elementary children. Barbara Bechtel is teaching a first grade class in the Neshaminy School District, and Lucinda Dulany has a third grade group in Swatara Township.

Judith Malarik is teaching in the Shaul Elementary School in Mechanicsburg, Marilyn Meagher in the Ervington Township (New Jersey) School District, and Gail Knapp in the Pottstown School District. Lenore Young Smith is teaching an elementary class in the Lancaster School District.

Three other elementary school teachers are teaching in states surrounding Pennsylvania. Joyce Kintzer is in Portsmouth, Virginia; Judith Pelley in Cherry Hill, New Jersey; and Janet Bauser in Northport, New York.

Susan Wade, another elementary education major, is going to France early this month, and will be teaching there.

Margaret Mackenzie, who was graduated with a B.S. in nursing, is working in the operating room of Cooper Hospital, Camden, New Jersey. Eloise Gichner will continue her work at the National Institute of Health at Bethesda, Maryland. Barbara Hensel Monn is a nurse at the Wilmington Memorial Hospital, Wilmington, Delaware.

Doing social work in Rhode Island is Janet Walton, and Ella Daubert is attending graduate school at the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia.

Mr. Gordon William Campbell plans to go into teaching. However he has no teaching job as of this printing.

Mr. David Emory Grove is unsure of his plans.

Mr. F. Fiske Martin is employed by The Chronicle in Elizabethtown.

Martin Ames Heilman and Mr. Gerad Howard Botdorf. Mr. Botdorf is attending Pennsylvania State University and Mr. Heilman, Lehigh University.

Mr. Lyle Eugene Kerns is due to leave shortly for spring practice with a farm team of the Philadelphia Phillies organization.

As of this writing nothing is known as to the plans of the following: Mr. Wayne C. Keene, Mr. Robert Boyd Strine, or Mr. David L. Farmer.

For these 27 people, who have completed their four years here, college is now only a memory. The diploma is a reality, not a dream. We wish them success in their new-found jobs and throughout the future.

Thoughts from Alumni

By Carl G. Herr, '38

ED. NOTE—While C. G. Enterline, alumni secretary, is recuperating from a recent illness, this column, normally devoted to the regular feature, "From the Secretary's Angle," will be reserved for a series of guest alumni columns.

I take advantage of a certain degree of latitude normally accorded a guest columnist regarding the selection of the subject matter for this occasion. This space is usually reserved for the use of the Alumni Secretary in informing the alumni of Association activities and of interesting developments at the college.

Being a practicing lawyer, I am prepared to defend my departure from subject by admitting my lack of qualification. Serving as an alumni representative on the Board of Trustees of the college does not qualify me to fulfill the original purpose of this column.

The subject of this article is merely: What has Elizabethtown College meant to me?

The coming of June will see the twenty-sixth anniversary of my graduation from the college. Since that time I have had a happy, meaningful, successful, and wonderful life.

I studied law, and graduated from law school; for four years I served my country in time of war as a U. S. Naval aviator; I have practiced law for almost twenty years; I have been happily married for twenty years, and am the parent of four children; I take part in my church and community affairs.

In short, I believe I am living the ideal life about which I dreamed as a child. I am successful; I am happy; I am useful.

(In the event you have never tried to write down, or speak about, the personal facts of your own life, you should try it some time. You will find the result crammed with "I" and "me", and similar words. You will think the result is egotistic and pompous. You will not have meant it to be, and I do not mean it to be so here.)

If you were to ask me to what I attribute my full life, I would have to answer that to a great degree I attribute it to Elizabethtown College.

The college, of course, was not present and holding my hand when I made the important decisions of life, nor does it seem to be present in ordinary day-to-day living. But it is present in the sense that early parental training is present in everyday living. If we are a part of all that we have met, then our college is a large part of me.

One might think that almost any alumnus of almost any college could say the same thing or write the same story. To a degree this may be true. But in my case, having come from a rural and religiously conservative background, I found our college a unique factor in my development.

This uniqueness is not limited to persons of my specialized background. Our college is Carl G. Herr, '38, received an L.L.B. Degree from Dickinson School of Law and was admitted to practice law before the Lancaster County Courts, the Pennsylvania Superior Court, the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, the United States Supreme Court, and the United States District Court. He is a member of the Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, and American Bar Association; the American Judicature Society; the Lancaster Blackstone Club; and the University Club. unique, however, to young persons passing through the adolescence of their educational development.

Elizabethtown College, to me, was the absolute essential because it was a small college adapted to the needs of the individual student; it was a college steeped in the tradition of a high educational level fitting the student for further graduate study or entry into business or the professions, with the facility for guiding the individuality of the student; it was a college founded on the Christian religion with the will to develop the religious as well as the educational base of the student.

This catering to the individual was the basis of the uniqueness of our college. Larger, more famous, and better endowed schools of necessity are frequently unable to administer to the individuality of students to such degree.

But the facility to forge a sturdy foundation to the individual personality, as well as to his education, his religious concepts, and his general being in all of its details, was the very strength of our college.

This is why our college's students were able to go into the many walks of life with success, and with less personal and psychological problems than those of many other schools.

Our college was not, and should not have been, known for spoon-feeding information to its students, and it was not, and should not have been, known as a stage from which a moral and extremist practices are sown among its students.

Our college was proud to be

Alumni Council-1963 Proceedings Released

ED. NOTE—The alumni at large rarely hear of the proceedings of council. Following is a summary of the activities of the October, 1963, meeting.

Prof. James L. M. Yeingst represented the alumni secretary in his absence due to illness.

The Public Relations Committee's Council accepted the recommendations as follows:

1. Each chapter select a news reporter to forward information to the alumni office.
2. A news letter be mailed from the alumni office to chapter officers.
3. Alumni council determine whether an honor's luncheon be held in 1964. The committee did not submit any names.
4. The presentation of alumni chair on alumni day be continued.
5. Issue a questionnaire for alumni to determine attitudes and reaction toward the college and its program.
6. Personality write-ups be continued in the alumni Bulletin.
7. Continue with the annual Chapter Officers Picnic.
8. Provide on-campus educational experience for interested alumni during the summer.

Council approved the Alumni Day Committee's report which suggested the following activities for 1964:

1. Afternoon program begin at 2:00 o'clock, using the Baugher Center as a meeting place. Groups would go from there to various classrooms.
2. Public Relations office show recent improvements and proposals by appropriate display.
3. Recreation in Baugher Center.
4. Class reunions begin at 4:30 in homes of alumni.
5. Senior-alumni dinner in college dining hall.
6. Dance after dinner in Student Center and social hour in Myer Hall.
7. Issue paper weights to members of the Class of 1964, (February, June, August) who attend the senior-alumni dinner. Present these paper weights also to members of the 25th anniversary class who are present, and to the retiring council members.

The nominating committee presented the following names for the various offices:

Vice President		Alternates
1. Betty (Forney) Saylor, '41		1. Dorothy (Mehring) Hauser, '27
2. K. Ezra Bucher, '32		2. Caleb Bucher, '37

2. Norman Reber, '30		2. Clifford B. Huffman, '47
3. Harry Gerlach, '33		3. Benjamin C. Musser, '43

Professor Yeingst reported on the "renewal note" for a field house. The note is now worth approximately $41,000.00. He also reported that eighteen alumni chapters are now in operation. There is evidence, too, that goodwill is growing among alumni for the College.

Yeingst recommended also that council assist in looking for a successor as executive alumni secretary. Among the qualifications desired, the applicant should be an alumnus; be physically sound and present a good appearance; possess a high degree of social insight. To aid in this matter, President Hiram Frysinger named Paul Grubb, Jr., Robert Nation, and Mrs. Elsie Kilhefner.

Council passed a motion that "council strongly urges a full time secretary be hired to aid the alumni and placement office as soon as possible."

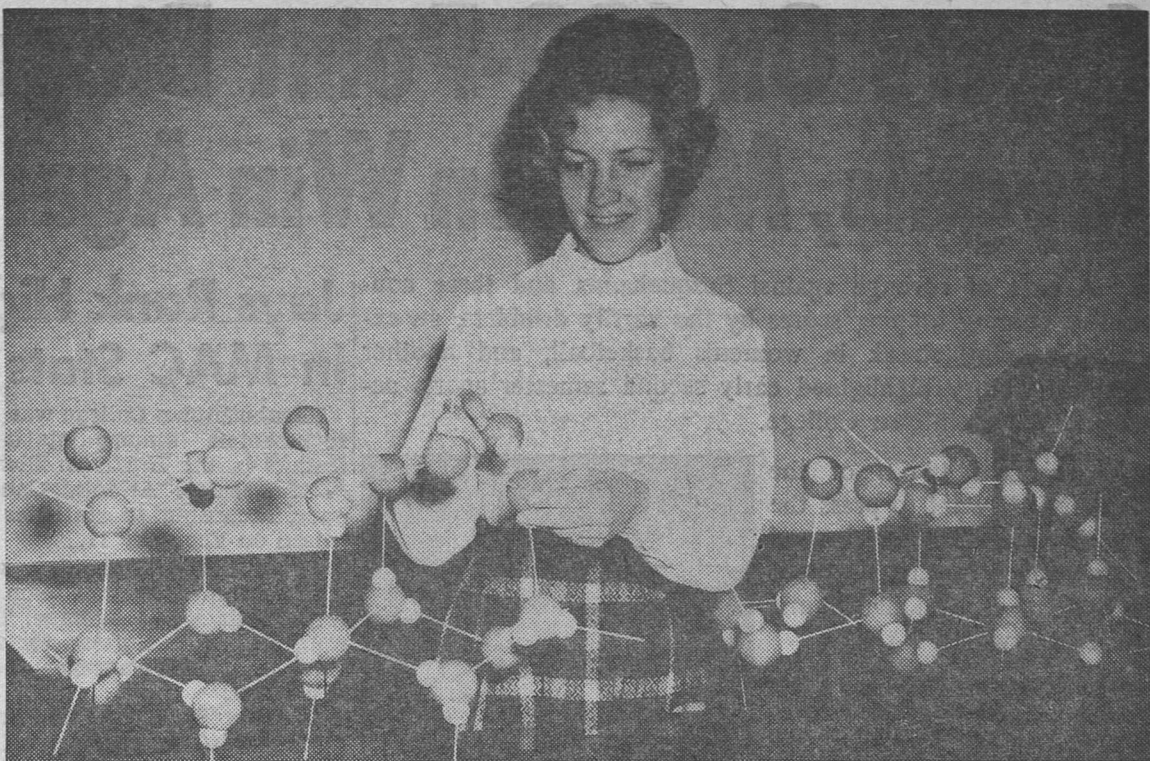

Other recommendations made were that council and college continue a program of close co-operation with alumni chapters; that the college initiate a program whereby alumni and their families may spend several days living on the campus during a period of participation in an educational project in the summer; that the college begin a practice of giving public recognition to an outstanding alumnus each year.

A committee consisting of the following persons was named to set up guide lines in the selection of such persons: Edwin Boll, Jean Moyer, Beulah Ebersole, and Bertha Graham.

Alumni Calendar

The college would like to send a representative to club meetings. An activity of the nature of the College Convocation, April 10 through April 13 could interfere. Plan early, we suggest; avoid a rush and a serious conflict.

Two Alumni Organizations Meet In Washington D. C.

By C. G. Enterline

Alumni in the Washington, D. C. Area met in Fellowship Hall of the Church of the Brethren on November 2, 1963. President Ankeny reports that eleven alumni and three guests enjoyed a ham dinner and a period of fellowship.

President Ankeny, in a letter to his chapter, encouraged "alumni to go back (to campus) before April to see the progress that is being made so that they can come to the next chapter meeting with great enthusiasm. The great physical change, the signs of growth, the attitude of pride the town has taken on about the college, the undergirding of the excellent teaching staff, the dynamic leadership of President McAuley, and many other things of which we can be proud. . . . February 22, 1964, will be Winter Alumni Day— . . . what a grand opportunity to return and see these things of which I am speaking."

The group elected the following officers: President: The Reverend Edwin A. Ankeny, '58, Germantown, Md.; V-President: Mr. Robert Meckley, '26, Arlington, Virginia; Sec'y-Treas.: Mrs. Donald (Faye Graham) LeFever, '46, Beltsville, Md.

Professor and Mrs. Ira Herr, '16, motored to Washington on Saturday, February 1, to attend the All Pennsylvania College Alumni Association, Washington, D. C. They represented Elizabethtown College at this annual citation luncheon, at which time the presidents of Pennsylvania's colleges and universities are honored.

Alumni from Pennsylvania educational institutions who reside in the greater Washington, D. C. area assemble for this occasion. This year the group honored Dr. Millard Ellwood Gladfelter, a graduate and member of the board of trustees of Gettysburg College and presently President of Temple University. The Herrs shared a table with Ursinus College, East Stroudsburg, and Thiel.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood R. Kerkeslager, '63 (Lois Herr, '62) son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herr accompanied the Herrs.

Student Elections To Be Held Soon

Student election time is approaching on the campus of Elizabethtown College.

A total of four elections will be held by the Student Association between March 6, when the May Queen and her court are chosen and April 1, when members of the Committees on Men's and Women's Affairs are named.

Seniors will nominate candidates for May Queen on February 26. Petitions for Student Association officers will be circulated beginning February 28. Nominees will be presented in assemblies on March 4 and 5.

The election for Student Association officers and editors of student publications will be held on March 9. Senators will be elected on March 16.

Books Given To Library

"The Poetry of Robert Frost" by John R. Doyle, was presented to the library by Mrs. Austir Fellenbaum, former member of the education department. It was given in memory of the late Dr. Frederick Neumann, emeritus of language.

Mrs. A. C. Baugher presented a large portion of her late husband's collection to the library. These reflect Dr. Baugher's interest in science and education.

From Mrs. Franklin Stump came books in the fields of psychology and education which had been part of her husband's personal library. Dr. Stump was a member of the psychology department.

Group Meets On Sundays

Students who attend the College Forum at the Church of the Brethren on Sunday morning drift back to the campus with new ideas on the topics shaking today's world.

News of the topic for the current Sunday is spreading by word-of-mouth and posters in the dining hall. Speakers, plays, and open discussion sessions are the varied programs, with flexibility the keyword for this informal group's operation.

Proof of the varied topics: repercussions of "Suicide: Solution of Disillusion" and a recent production of Edward Albee's play, "The Zoo," are still being heard. A tentative schedule for the College Forum subjects for the next few weeks looks like this:

February 9 and 16 Prof. Thomas Dwyer spoke on the Rise and Fall of the Christian Church.

President Roy McAuley will contrast Christian and secular colleges and open the subject for discussion on February 23.

On March first some topic of current interest will be discussed in "buzz" groups, real exchanges of wit and depth.

Prof. Henry Libhart will speak on the Church and Art on March 1 and 8.

known as the instrumentality through which its students developed their individual growth of personality and gained a sound and full foundation with which to live rich lives.

Elizabethtown College today is the same college it was twenty-six years ago, only more so. It will be the same twenty-six years hence, only more so. It is this college to which I attribute much of what I am and hope to be. It is this college in which I intend someday to enroll my own four children with the wish that they will receive the same legacy that I received upon which to base what I hope will be full and happy lives for them.

Our college is not standing still. It is growing both in physical plant and in student body. As a Trustee of the college I am familiar with the planned expansion of physical plant to keep pace with expected growth. This expansion and growth will enable our college to spread its unique talents among still more students.

This is what Elizabethtown College means to me. This is what I believe Elizabethtown College means to you. This is what I hope Elizabethtown College will mean to many students yet to come.

Cagers On 100-Point Binge Jaygals, Matmen Win Again

A case of revenge against Susquehanna and three consecutive century topping scores by the varsity dribblers, an extended winning streak in women's basketball, and another wrestling victory highlighted early second semester sports activity at Elizabethtown College.

As this edition of the ETOWNIAN went to press the Blue Jay cagers were camped in first place in the Northern Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference with a 9-1 log.

They forged to the top of the division on the strength of three successive wins following the mid-term break. The scores: 116-75 over Dickinson, 103-72 over Lebanon Valley, and 106-89 over Susquehanna.

Thus the Jays jumped ahead of Hofstra (7-1) in the division standings. Overall Elizabethtown had posted an 11-4 mark going into their contest at Juniata on February 15.

They were slated for two more road battles (Wilkes on February 18 and Lycoming on February 19) before returning here for the Winter Alumni Day game with Juniata on February 22.

The women's basketball squad, meanwhile, continued to be unbeaten by posting a 47-42 triumph over East Stroudsburg and a 46-21 decision over Gettysburg.

Miss Hess' Jaygals took a 5-0 record into a home game with Gettysburg on February 13.

The wrestlers opened their second semester activity with a 17-11 decision over Ursinus to move above the .500 level at four wins and three losses.

REITMEYER HITS 37

Dan Reitmeyer, 6'7" center from Boyertown, spearheaded the victories over Dickinson and Lebanon Valley racking up 60 points and 48 rebounds (37-32 at LVC). Against Susquehanna, Reitmeyer ran into foul trouble early but Larry Evans, Saxton junior, picked up the slack and notched 27 counters and 21 rebounds.

Also outstanding in the Lebanon Valley and Susquehanna clashes was Larry Wyles, another junior from Saxton, who filled in for the injured Bill Bechtold. Wyles poured in 22 points at Annville and 21 against the Crusaders.

Freshman John Lentz, of Lebanon, was second to Evans in the last victory with 24 points. Other men in double figures included Captain John Neely with 12 tallies and Reitmeyer with 10.

GALS TRIP STROUDSBURG

The women continued to be the surprise of the winter sports season when they broke tradition and overthrew East Stroudsburg. Carolyn Moyer and Anna Marie Rodichok paced the Jaygals with 15 points each against the Teachers. Karen Young added 13.

Against Millersville Marilyn Fox led the way with 13 counters; Miss Rodichok had 12, and Miss Moyer 11.

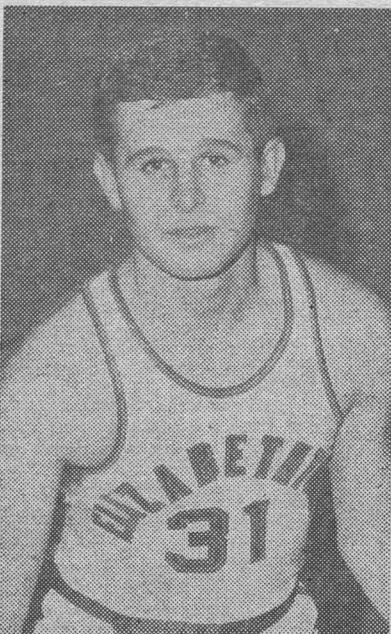

With five victories in five outings Coach Hess was making no predictions about an undefeated season. She merely pointed to Gettysburg, Bridgewater, and Lock Haven as three very good teams on the second half of the schedule.

JACKSON LEADS MATMEN

Jerry Jackson, a 137 pounder from Duncanville, remained the Jay grapplers best winner with six victories (two falls and four decisions) in even bouts.

Captain Gerry Greiner moved ahead in falls when he pinned his man in the Ursinus match. Greiner has three falls and two decisions in seven bouts.

Dave Lomax, 123 lb. freshman from Haddonfield, N. J., has registered one fall and four decisions, and Bob Yuninger, sophomore heavyweight from Ronks, owns two falls and two decisions.

TOP FLIGHT RESERVE — for the current Elizabethtown College basketball team is senior Jim Schlichter. The Chambersburg native has won two letters as a cager and is presently averaging 6.8 points per game. Jim is an English major and plans to teach upon graduation in the spring.

H. S. Swimming Meet Set for Campus Pool

The District Three High School Swimming Meet was scheduled to be held in the college pool located in the Baugher Student Center on February 20.

According to Theodore A. Roscher, director of athletics, about 15 schools were expected to participate in the event.

This marked the second consecutive year that District Three held the meet on the campus of Elizabethtown College.

Jays Rank High In MAC Stats

Elizabethtown College was well represented among statistical leaders in the Northern Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference, according to statistics released on February 11.

As of that date the Jays were leading the division in team defense with a 64.4 average. They were tied with Hofstra for first place in offensive average with a 90.0 norm.

Individually, Dan Reitmeyer placed third in scoring with a 21.4 average through nine MAC contests. Bill Bechtold was in ninth place with a 15.5 average. John Lentz and Larry Evans held down the 12th and 13th spots with 14 and 13.7 norms in that order.

Reitmeyer led the division in field goal percentage with a mark of 65.8 percent. He was tied for first place in rebounding with an 18.7 average.

Greiner Adds Another Laurel To His Crown, Models For Magazine

The front cover of the February Farm Journal pictures Gerald Greiner, a senior at Elizabethtown, operating an egg grader. The purpose of the photograph is to illustrate the candling of eggs, a process by which broken, spotted or imperfect eggs are sorted out.

When asked how he was chosen for the honor Jerry commented, "A photographer for the Journal lives near us and when the idea came up he sent a representative out to the farm to ask me if I would pose and I agreed."

College Adds New Sports To Athletic Menu

Elizabethtown College will add two sports to its intercollegiate athletic program for the 1964-65 term, Theodore A. Roscher director of athletics, has announced. Men's and women's swimming will be added to the winter lineup, and men's golf will be initiated as part of the spring alignment.

"We are planning to initiate golf on a varsity basis for the 1965 season," Roscher said. "In the meantime, we're trying to line up some scrimmage matches for the coming spring. Right now I have four matches I think I can count on for April and May."

"By next year we would like to have a schedule of about 10 varsity matches including at least six Middle Atlantic Conference engagements," he added.

The two swimming teams are slated to begin action on the junior varsity level next winter. Roscher said he hopes to schedule from eight to ten meets for the men and from five to eight for the women.

"The junior olympic-size swimming pool housed in the Baugher Student Center offers excellent facilities for the swimming teams," Roscher said, "but we don't have arrangements made as yet for the use of a golf course."

According to preliminary surveys made by Roscher there are 17 men on campus who intend to join the golf team. The athletic director figures that 20 students will show up for the first workouts of the men's and women's swimming teams.

Coaching assignments have not yet been made for any of the three teams.

At present there are nine intercollegiate sports in the College's athletic program — two for men and one for women in each of the three seasons.

The last sport to be added was women's tennis, which first had a formal schedule in 1961. Other recent additions to the program are cross country (1956) and wrestling (1954).

Sports Banquet Slated Mar. 17

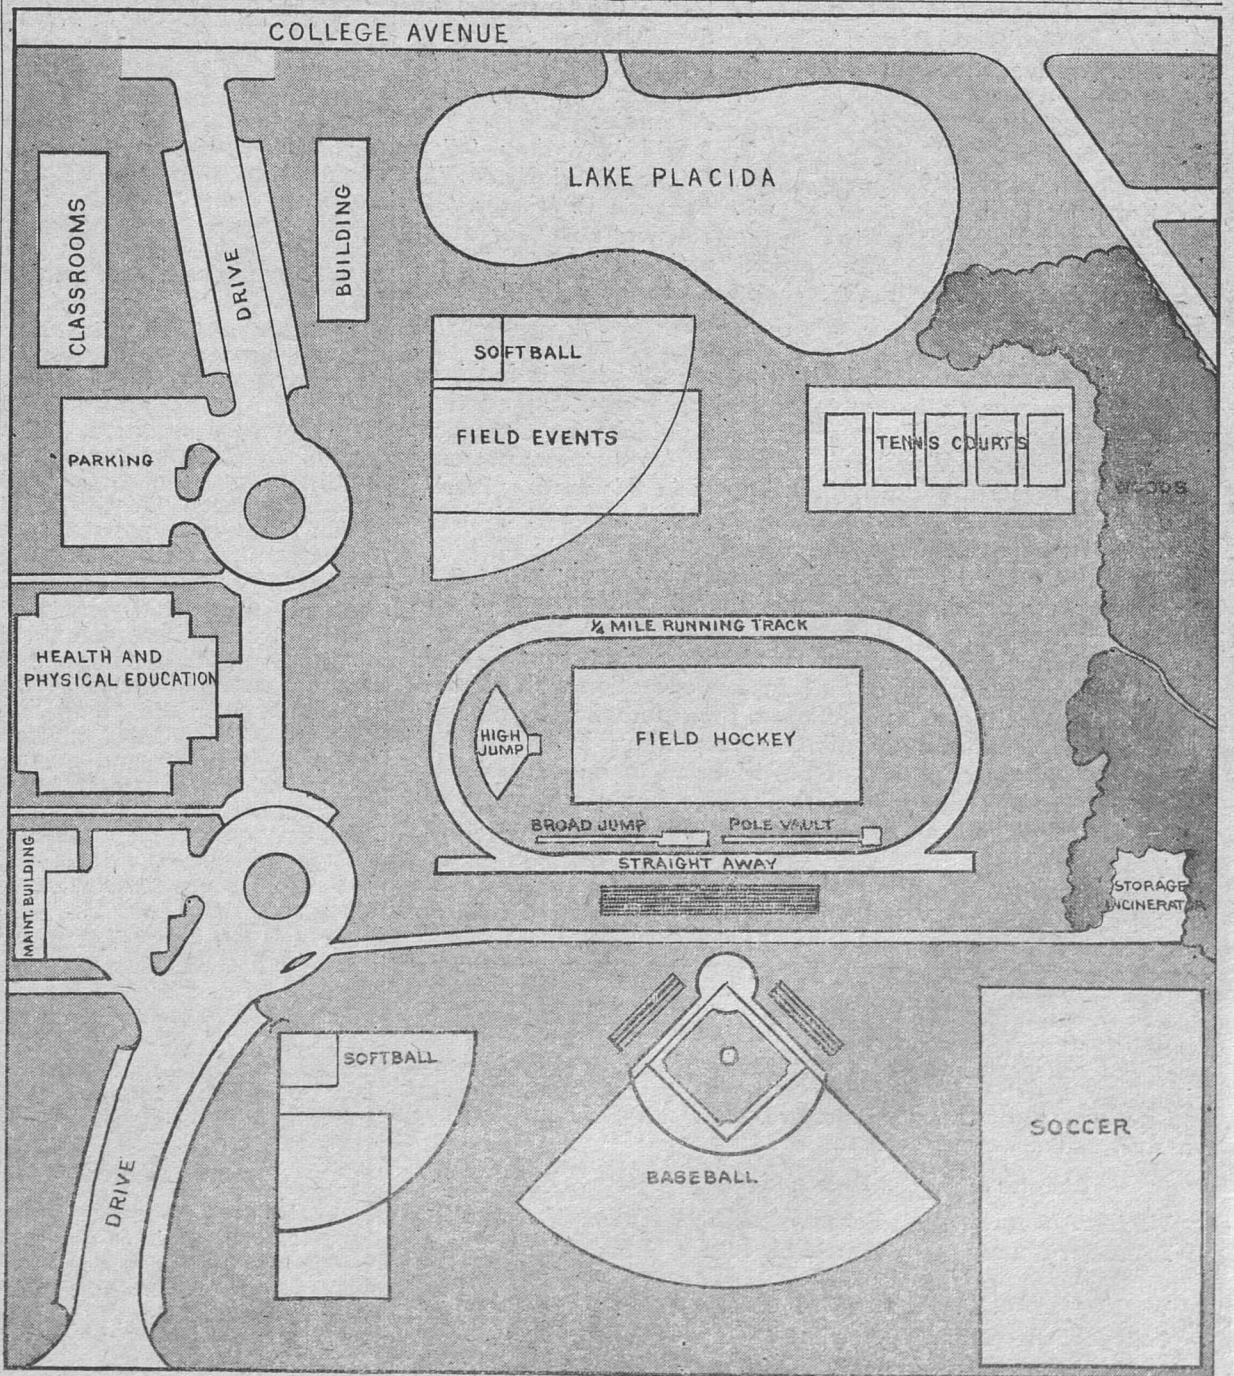

Fall and winter athletics will be feasted at a banquet to be held at Bishop's Restaurant, near Hershey, on March 17, at 6:30 p. m.

Featured speaker for the event will be Grant "Tick" Hurst, well-known banquet speaker and sports official in Lancaster County.

Sports awards will be presented to members of the soccer, field hockey, cross country, wrestling, and men's and women's basketball teams.

Alumni Game Planned

As this issue of the ETOWNIAN was going to press, Theodore A. Roscher, director of athletics, announced that plans were being made for a basketball game between the alumni and the junior varsity to be played as a preliminary to the Juniata contest on February 22.

NEW LOOK FOR BACK CAMPUS — Artist's drawing shows the College's plans for a face lifting job on the east end of the campus. Included in the plans are a redefining of the boundaries of Lake Placida (top of drawing), and the construction of five new athletic fields plus tennis courts. Land at the bottom of drawing is part of eleven acres recently purchased by the College. When the new athletic fields are ready for use, the present fields will give way to new buildings.

Students Choose Pres., May Queen

About 80 percent of the student body turned up at the campus polls March 9 to elect David Myers, a junior chemistry major from Millerstown, president of the Student Association for the 1964-65 term.

Also elected that day were James Hilton, sophomore chemistry major from Manheim, vice-president; Lois Fletcher, sophomore business administration major from Lansdale, treasurer; Jane Idell, junior pre-med major from Halifax, secretary; Betty Derencin, junior English major from Somerset, ETOWNIAN editor; William Carty, sophomore business administration major from Medford Lakes, N.J., CONESTOGAN editor; and Gordon Stauffer, junior mathematics major from Hanover, WWEC station manager.

Several days prior to the senate officer elections the student body selected a senior elementary education major from Haddonfield, N.J. — Janice Cramer — May Queen.

Marilyn Young, of Ambler, also a senior elementary education major, was named her maid of honor. The senior May Court attendants will be Carole Glynn, Cherry Hill, N.J., and Esther Strehle, Sellersville.

Other class representatives on the May Court will be: juniors — Lynn Benham, Haddonfield, N.J., and Carolyn Moyer, Harleysville; sophomores — Barbara Burg, Westmont, N.J., and Louise Wenger, Paradise; freshmen — Sue Macdonald, Carlisle, and Carol Mainwaring, Springfield.

Myers, a member of the Committee of Men's Affairs for two years and a regular on the Blue Jay soccer and baseball teams, won on a platform of more social activities, an expanded intramural program, improvement of dorm councils, better study facilities, and possible curriculum revision, among other things.

The new student government will take over April 14. Editors and the station manager will assume their posts next term.

Miss Cramer will reign over activities on May Day, to be held on the campus May 9.

Building Program To Begin

Construction of three building projects at Elizabethtown College is expected to get underway in the near future, according to Pres. Roy E. McAuley.

The Board of Trustees of the College accepted a low bid of $1,039,800 by Herman Woheen's Sons, Inc., Lancaster, to construct an addition to the library, an addition to the campus dining hall, and a dormitory for 140 men.

"These projects plus others, including the development of a wooded area of the campus, mean we will have approximately $1,500,000 of construction and development underway at one time this spring," President McAuley said.

Equipment to be used in constructing the Dining Hall addition was moved onto the campus March 10. Work began the next day.

Funds for the dining hall addition and the dormitory came from a loan from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency, supplemented by College monies.

No specific timetable for construction has been established, although ground is expected to be broken within the next 30 to 60 days, President McAuley related. The facilities will probably be available for the 1965-66 academic year.

Dr. Joseph W. Kettering, Elizabethtown, chairman of the Board of Trustees, presided during a meeting Saturday when the bids from ten contracting firms were opened by Architect J. Alfred Hamme, York.

The addition to the Zug Memorial Library, to be constructed as a part of the College's "Pathway to Fulfillment" development campaign, will nearly triple existing facilities. It will provide enough space to house more than 100,000 volumes and will serve a student enrollment of 1,200.

Actual construction costs for each project are $415,260 for the dormitory, $272,500 for the dining addition, and $356,000 for the library addition. The College was able to save some costs by accepting the lowest package bid for the three projects by one contractor.

College Enrollment Drops Below 1,000

Second Semester enrollment at Elizabethtown College is below the 1,000 mark. Figures from the Registrar's office show the College's enrollment to be 997 students, including 9 students abroad.

Withdrawals numbered 57, counting the January graduates. Two of those who withdrew are now teaching and 2 others are in spring training for professional baseball.

Two Hospitalized

Two members of the College staff were confined to hospital beds late in February.

Dr. Joseph P. Zaccano, Jr., assistant professor of history, returned to the campus March 11 following a bout with a stomach ulcer.

Walter E. Brown, superintendent of buildings and grounds, is in the Lancaster General Hospital with a heart condition. He is on the road to recovery.

APPEARING HERE—Luboshutz and Nemenoff, famed duo-piano team, will present a concert here at 8 p.m. on April 11 as one of the Community Cultural Programs. See page three for pictures of other coming attractions.

Three More Lyceum Programs Scheduled

Three special attractions are coming to Elizabethtown College next month as part of the cultural series planned by the Lyceum Committee.

Eugene Jemison, folksinger-artist-printmaker, will appear here April 6, 7, and 8. On April 6 he will present a public lecture-demonstration on graphic arts and printmaking in Room 209 of the Baugher Student Center at 8 p.m.

He will present a public concert of folk songs and ballads the following evening at 8 p.m. in the Alumni Auditorium.

On Saturday of the same week (April 11) Luboshutz and Nemenoff, famed duo-piano team, will appear in the Elizabethtown Area High School Auditorium in the final Community Cultural Program of the season. That program also begins at 8 p.m.

Dr. Rushton Colborn, visiting Danforth lecturer in historical anthropology, will be on campus April 15 and 16 for student and public lectures.

On April 15 at 8 p.m. he will discuss the topic, "Balance of Power; Conquest or Union of the Nation," in a public lecture in room 201 of the Student Center.

These three April attractions will conclude the cultural series for the 1963-64 term. Dr. Carl N. Shull, chairman of the Lyceum Committee, announced that the 1964-65 schedule is almost complete.

Seldomridge Accepts "Fulfillment" Post

J. Albert Seldomridge, a Lancaster businessman, has been named General Alumni Chairman for Elizabethtown College's "Pathway to Fulfillment" program, Pres. Roy E. McAuley announced today.

Seldomridge, an alumnus of Elizabethtown College and a former member of the Alumni Council, will direct the alumni phase of the Pathway to Fulfillment campaign, which is designed to raise $1,250,000 over the next three years.

The campaign will be launched with a major convocation at the College April 10, 11, and 13. Speakers of national reputation will be featured.

Invitations have been extended to alumni, business and industrial leaders, friends of the College, and members of the Church of the Brethren, with which the College is affiliated.

Seldomridge was graduated by Elizabethtown College in 1952, after which he took a sales position with the Campbell Soup Company. He became assistant manager for Government sales for the firm.

Brooks Hays To Speak At April Convocation

Former Congressman Brooks Hays, whose moderate stand in the Little Rock integration crisis cost him a seat in the House of Representatives, will be one of the speakers April 10, during a convocation at Elizabethtown College.

Hays will speak at 2 p.m. in the Alumni auditorium as part of the college's "Pathway to Fulfillment" program. The convocation will help launch the college's campaign to raise $1,250,000 over the next three years to construct a library addition, classroom building, and physical education building.

In addition to the speech by Hays, the college will award citations to a number of citizens in recognition of outstanding social service. A committee of anonymous judges is screening a list of possible citees submitted by alumni and others with an interest in the college.

Hays served nine terms in Congress and played a key role in trying to bring mutual respect and understanding to both sides in the Little Rock racial crisis of 1958. He arranged the meeting between President Dwight Eisenhower and Arkansas Governor

College Cited In Proclamation

ED. NOTE—In recognition of Elizabethtown College's contributions to the borough of Elizabethtown, Mayor Troy M. Thompson declared April 10 through 16 as Elizabethtown College week. That week coincides with the College's plans to launch its major fund raising drive.

WHEREAS, Elizabethtown College has, since its founding in 1899, been a worthy partner in the progress of the greater Elizabethtown Community, and

WHEREAS, Elizabethtown College has done much to enhance the cultural environment in the area through programs of music and the other fine arts, and

WHEREAS, Elizabethtown College has provided a source for community leadership from its faculty and staff, and

WHEREAS, Elizabethtown College has always recognized its responsibility to provide an opportunity for higher education for all qualified young people of the area, and

WHEREAS, through its acceleration and early admissions programs in cooperation with the local public schools, Elizabethtown College has provided unique educational opportunities for local students while at the same time saving tax monies for local citizens, and

WHEREAS, Elizabethtown College has been and continues to be a major economic asset for the community through its general financial operations and the expansion of campus facilities,

NOW, THEREFORE, be it known that I, Troy M. Thompson, Mayor of Elizabethtown, do hereby proclaim the week of April 10 through 16, 1964, as ELIZABETHTOWN COLLEGE WEEK in recognition of the many positive values accrued through the close cooperation of the Community and the College over the years.

"Hold us Steadfast"

ED. NOTE—The following prayer, written by Paul E. Whitmeyer, assistant professor of sociology, for the graduation ceremonies on February 2, is printed at the request of Pres. Roy E. McAuley.

Almighty and everlasting God,
Lord of learning and of learners, who does govern all things in time and space ingrateful respect we call upon thee for this association at this season and in this place.

O God,
who has made man in thy own likeness,
and who does love all whom thou has made,
increase in us the unity of thy human-divine family and the breadth of thy unprejudiced love.

—Unite us in our common endeavor.
—In mutual respect and trust, grant us a continuing capacity to build on the differences among us.

Hear our individual and our cooperative concerns:
—Grant us the strength born of understanding, of gentleness, of patience, of sureness of self and of thee.

—Remove all hindrances to the advancement of thy truth.

—Grant us triple vision—clarity and perspective for the past, curiosity and courage for the present, vision and boldness for the future.

—We thank thee for evolving knowledge and with knowledge may we have wisdom integrated with our fulfillment in thy destiny.

—Grant light to our minds, grant patience and sureness to our spirit, and grant wholeness in sharing both teaching and learning.

So may we be increasingly of service to both students and society, humbly mindful of the precious nature of our academic cargo.

According to each need Forgive us, Good Father,

our misleadings, our blunderings, that we may forgive ourselves and each other,
that we may accept more fully the opportunities for service and mutual fulfillment.

Set peace in our hearts that we may not be unduly distracted by the chaos of the world, nor by the weight of responsibilities for student development and for student destiny.

May we be prophets of abundant living, may we be associates of the spirit, as well as masters of the mind.

Hold us steadfast toward the best that it is in us, and toward a divine sense of our undertaking.

In thy Name and by thy Spirit
—Amen

ALUMNI RESOURCES

How stimulating it was to see our college alumni carry on while I stepped out of the ranks temporarily! There was evidence of alumni activity on every side.

Chapter meetings, correspondence between alumni and the college, telephone calls, alumni council action and proceedings are evidence that alumni have the human resources and creativity to operate successfully.

Let me list briefly some of the factors which helped to maintain momentum, even accelerate the pace, of alumni association work. The co-operation of the college administration and the faculty in visiting clubs, in addressing chapters, and corresponding with alumni give assurance of growing integration and assurance of a continuing program.

The willingness of alumni to have their names placed on the 1964 spring ballot is most satisfying. The minutes of the October, 1963 meeting are replete with new ideas or extension and modification of old ones.

I might refer also to the initiative which local chapters reflected. The previously existing chapters, together with the eight new ones, showed a liveliness in their meetings which suggests continuing growth on the home fronts. Response to Winter Alumni Day and the chapter officers' picnic was most gratifying to the officers of the General Alumni Association and the college administration.

I was particularly pleased to see the "Thoughts of Alumni" substituted for the "Alumni Secretary's" column while I was sitting out a warning, "Stop meeting deadlines". It was good to see the presidents and other officers of local chapters submit their views in this column.

Perhaps we should reserve a column for the views of alumni. Write me; tell me how you feel about it. With officers in eighteen chapters, who should have interesting contributions to such a column.

With the graduating class increasing in numbers, I see new chapters developing in concentrated areas. To the extent that alumni are not involved, to that extent the General Association is not capitalizing on alumni resources. Among these new chapters might be La Verne - Los Angeles, Southern Michigan, and New York.

Perhaps you can help right where you are. Write me that you are interested. Individual resources compound themselves in collective effort. We have the resources. Let's put them to still larger use.

Especially For Alumni...

By HIRAM J. FRYINGER
President, Alumni Association

Signs of Spring and renewed activity are everywhere about us. What is happening to Elizabethtown Alumni? Are we being stirred to action?

The morning of this writing I saw a very large flock of wild geese heading unerringly toward the north, speeding, rushing, doing that which is instinctive but necessary for their survival and well being.

This I feel is a symbol of what is happening at Elizabethtown College. You have been reading in the daily papers, in the ETOWNIAN and very soon will be hearing directly of the concentrated effort to again provide in a giant step the physical plant to accommodate the student body already present as a result of the great increase in the last few years.

To whom can the College turn for the help needed in this building program? Industry, the local community, the church, but undoubtedly the Alumni, those who have benefited most by what they have received while at College, will definitely want to help in this Capital Gifts Campaign.

In the annual giving campaign there are those who respond yearly, others occasionally and apparently some who have seldom, if ever, responded. As the calls come to us this spring and summer — to attend the Alumni Convocation, to serve in various capacities, to give very generously — we urge that each Alumnus will respond with active support and generous contributions.

Are the professors at Elizabethtown College overworked? Is the faculty large enough to serve the student body adequately?

Winter Alumni Day Draws 200

February 22 drew approximately 200 Elizabethtown College graduates and friends to Winter Alumni Day. Some of the alumni reported that this was their first visit to the Baugher Student Center.

Alumni and friends came from Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, Washington, D. C., and Virginia, with Pennsylvania having the largest representation. They came in groups and singles. There were nine parties of four each; two of three; twenty-two of two; twenty-two singles; one of eight, and two parties of five.

On the basis of registration which was taken from 1:00 p.m. to 4:15 p.m., twenty-five different classes were represented. The range extended from the Class of 1926 to that of 1963. The Class of 1963 had the largest representation—fifteen. Other classes approaching this number were, '60, '58, and '53.

Unsolicited expressions of satisfaction on the day's events and activities suggest strongly that the third Winter Alumni Day be planned for 1965.

Class of 1939 Plans Reunion

Mrs. Marion (Bardell) Long '39, chairman of the '39 class reunion committee, announces a gala program for Saturday, June 20, 1964, in the Arrowhead Room of Schraft's Restaurant by the Lancaster-Reading interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The committee is inviting all class members who came to campus in the fall of 1935 for the twenty-fifth anniversary reunion. Fliers will be mailed by the committee to members who are listed in the 1962 Alumni Directory.

The program calls for vocal music, an address by Dr. Ralph W. Schlosser, who was president of the college at that time, and other activities. Faculty members for the 1935-39 period are also invited to join the group. Members of the committee consist of Lois (Brehm) Shirk, '39, Marguerite F. Beck, '39, and Marion (Bardell) Long '39, chairman.

Send inquiries to Mrs. Long at 2239 Marietta Avenue, Rohrerstown, Pa.

The committee promises more detailed information soon.

Committee Plans Slate For May 30

By C. G. Enterline

The Alumni Day Committee meeting at the home of Paul Grubb, Jr. '55, Elizabethtown, made final plans for Alumni Day, Saturday, May 30.

The committee suggested that activities begin with open house at the Baugher Student Center at 2:00 p.m. with swimming, bowling, and shopping in the college store, and so on.

Alumni are encouraged, too, to meet the faculty and department heads who will be stationed in the first and second floor lounges of the student center. Class reunions will be scheduled at homes of local alumni or in rooms reserved on campus, beginning at 4:00 p.m.

As usual, the day will be climaxed by the senior-alumni dinner at 6:00 p.m. in the college dining hall. A distinguished guest speaker will address the group. Because of crowded conditions, alumni and seniors will be admitted on advanced reservations. Seniors present at the dinner will receive a special souvenir from the Alumni Association.

The twenty-fifth and the fiftieth anniversary classes will receive special recognition, and the Class of 1964 will be initiated into the Alumni Association.

The day's events will conclude with fellowship in the lobby of Myer Hall and an informal dance in the alumni gymnasium.

Members present at the meeting were chairman Paul Grubb, Jr. '55, Elmer A. Gleim, '39, Lorraine (Stehman) Snowden, '54, Frances Bishop, '54. Also present were James L. M. Yeingst, '57 and Clarence G. Enterline, '33. Other members of the committee are Robert Nation, '49 and Esther (Myer) Kurtz, '62.

Class Reunions Planned May 30; Twelve Featured

According to the class reunion plan in operation, the classes named below will be heading for the Elizabethtown College campus on Saturday, May 30, 1964.

Although these classes are officially designated, other classes will be reporting also because Alumni Day is an all-inclusive event:

Class	Reunion	Number in Class
'54	10th	62
'45		56
'43		84
'39	25th	66
'24	40th	62
'20	45th	23
'19		11
'18		15
'14	50th	13
'09	55th	17
'04	60th	7

The plan in operation was devised by Professor Robin Robinson of the mathematics department of Dartmouth College; hence the name Dartmouth. The idea of grouping three classes together at the twentieth and forty-fifth anniversaries is to extend the range of acquaintanceships. Conceivably the General Association might include the fifth reunion which was part of the original plan.

Classes will meet in rooms reserved for them on campus and in homes of alumni in Elizabethtown. According to the program committee, class reunions will begin at 4:00 p.m.

Convocation Plans Nearly Complete

Plans for a three-day convocation to launch Elizabethtown College's "Pathway to Fulfillment" program are moving toward completion, according to Paul M. Grubb, convocation chairman.

Three Plays Slated For April Showings

A student cast of seventeen, including two elementary students will present Enemy of the People by Henrik Ibsen on April 4 at 8 p.m. It will be given in the round in the Alumni Auditorium.

Director of the play is Mrs. C. G. Enterline, associate professor of English and dramatics coach. Larry Kozubal, senior from Claymont, Del., is student director.

Two one act plays will be presented April 10 at 8 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the Church of the Brethren, adjacent to the campus.

The Last Curtain will be directed by Diana Dibert, Enola, and David Farrell, Camp Hill. Four for the Money will be directed by LaVon Manning, Columbia, and Luise Kempel, Irvington, N. J. The four directors are senior members of Mrs. Enterline's class in play directing.

Arts Festival Scheduled Here

A community arts festival for Elizabethtown and the surrounding area will be held this spring through the cooperation of Elizabethtown College, local public schools, and the local Council of United Church Women.

To be known as "Five Weeks of Fine Arts," the festival will begin April 3 and conclude May 9. Arrangements for the project are being coordinated by Dr. Carl Shull, chairman of the College's Community Cultural Program Committee.

Concerts of choral and instrumental music, art exhibits, a musical comedy, folksinging, printmaking, and a dramatic production are among the activities scheduled for the public. Most of the programs will be presented free of charge.

Among the highlights of the festival will be a concert by Luboshutz and Nemenoff, famed duo pianists, a presentation of the musical comedy "Carousel," and an exhibit by Lancaster County artists.

Gulf Oil Gives College $577

Elizabethtown College recently received a cash grant for unrestricted use from Gulf Oil Corporation. It was one of some 692 awards, totalling $500,000 that Gulf will distribute this year as direct, unrestricted grants to as many universities and colleges under its Aid-to-Education Program.

The amount awarded to Elizabethtown College was $577. The check was presented to Dr. Roy E. McAuley, president, by Mr. R. A. Magnelli, area sales manager of Gulf.

College Gets Grant For Music Dept.

Elizabethtown College has received a grant of $2,000 from the Pitcairn-Crabbe Foundation, Pittsburgh, to purchase instruments for the department of music, President Roy E. McAuley, announced today.

Instruments purchased as a result of the grant will be used to "enrich the instruction of undergraduates preparing for careers as teachers of music in the public schools," President McAuley said.

Grubb, an Elizabethtown businessman and a trustee of the College, said the convocation will take place April 10, 11, and 13 and will include speakers of national reputation.

Alumni, members of the Church of the Brethren, and others with an interest in the College are being invited to attend the program. College officials stressed that an all-out effort drive would be made for a big attendance at the convocation programs.

Committees working on various aspects of the convocation, many of whom are alumni, include the following:

Program — Dr. Nevin H. Zuck, chairman; Robert Madiera, Emory E. Stouffer, all of Elizabethtown, and James L. M. Yeingst, Mt. Gretna.

Arrangements — Ralph L. Musser, chairman, Edwin Boll, H. William Boyer, John Gerber, and Robert Ziegler, all of Elizabethtown.

Attendance — Miss Ethel M. B. Wenger, Rexmont, chairman; Mrs. Joseph Lehman, Glen Rock; Mrs. Wallace Baldwin, Palmyra; the Rev. Hiram Frysinger, Harrisburg; Dr. Caleb Bucher, Lancaster; Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Eshelman, Ambler; Albert Richwine, Harrisburg; and Mrs. Arthur Smith, Carlisle.

Hospitality — Mrs. Roy E. McAuley, chairman, Mrs. A. C. Baugher, Mrs. Harry Dorsheimer, Mrs. Margaretta H. Heisey, Miss Vera Hackman, and Mrs. C. S. Simon, all of Elizabethtown.

Women's Group — Mrs. Grace H. Grubb and Miss Vera Hackman, co-chairman, Mrs. Troy M. Thompson, all of Elizabethtown, and Mrs. Theodore Brubaker, Lancaster.

Alumni Citations — Dr. Norman Reber, York, chairman; Cyrus Bucher, Biglerville; W. H. Hornafius Jr., Elizabethtown; and an anonymous panel of judges.

Citizen Citations — Dr. Galen C. Kilhefner, chairman, Miss Anna Ruth Hess, Samuel R. Jones, all of Elizabethtown; and an anonymous panel of judges.

Following his defeat, he was named a member of the board of directors of the Tennessee Valley Authority by President Eisenhower in 1959. He became Assistant Secretary of State for Congressional Relations under President John F. Kennedy in 1961, and was later named Special Assistant to the President.

A well-known churchman, Hays twice served as president of the Southern Baptist Convention, and in 1951 received the annual Layman's Award from the ministers of Washington, D.C., for outstanding service.

Spring Sports Activity Will Begin April 4

April 4 marks the beginning of the spring sports season here, and the baseball and men's tennis team will be on deck for the opening action.

Coach Owen Wright will lead his baseball charges into battle with Lebanon Valley here. The tennis squad, with Coach Don Smith at the helm, will open at home with Washington. Activity for the women's tennis team will begin on April 15 with a home match against Millersville.

Wright has nine lettermen returning from a squad that posted an 11-9 record a year ago. The team's 9-6 mark in the Middle Atlantic Conference was good for third place in the Northern Division.

Six of those veterans were consistent starters last year. They are pitchers Gene Marderness and John Suffel; infielders Al Hershey, Tony McGlaughlin, and Dave Myers; and catcher Jeff Bensing. Marderness, Hershey, and Bensing are seniors; the others are juniors.

Others back with experience are Ray Stern, junior outfielder; Tom Speakman, junior outfielder; and Bernie Reimer, junior third baseman.

Wright expects further help from a handful of underclassmen and ten freshmen, some of whom have admirable high school ball credentials.

Smith figures on four lettermen to form the core of his tennis team. They are Warren White, Gil Rinehart, Dan Reitmeyer (all sophomores) and Bill Bertolet, a junior. Of the four, White and Rinehart had the best records last season.

Jaygals, Matmen End Successful Campaigns

The wrestling and women's basketball teams completed very successful seasons recently in the shadow of a championship basketball team.

Miss Allegra Hess led her Jaygal dribblers to a 9-3 record, the best here since the 8-2 log of 1957. According to available records, the nine wins marked a College high.

In wrestling, Coach Ted Roscher and his men, led by captain Gerry Greiner, posted the best wrestling mark since the sport was started here in 1954. The grapplers finished with a 7-3-1 log and then collected nine team points for 13th place in the MAC meet at Bucknell.

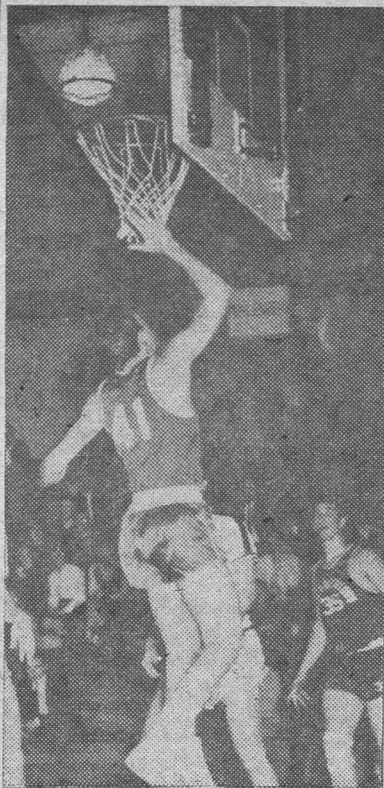

The women's basketball squad closed with three straight victories after losing two in a row in Virginia to Bridgewater and Madison.

What was perhaps the Jaygals' greatest victory of the campaign came against Lock Haven on February 29. Outscores in each of the first three periods and trailing by 40-29, the defense braced and the offense rallied to outscore the teachers 16-3 in the final stanza. The final score was 45-43.

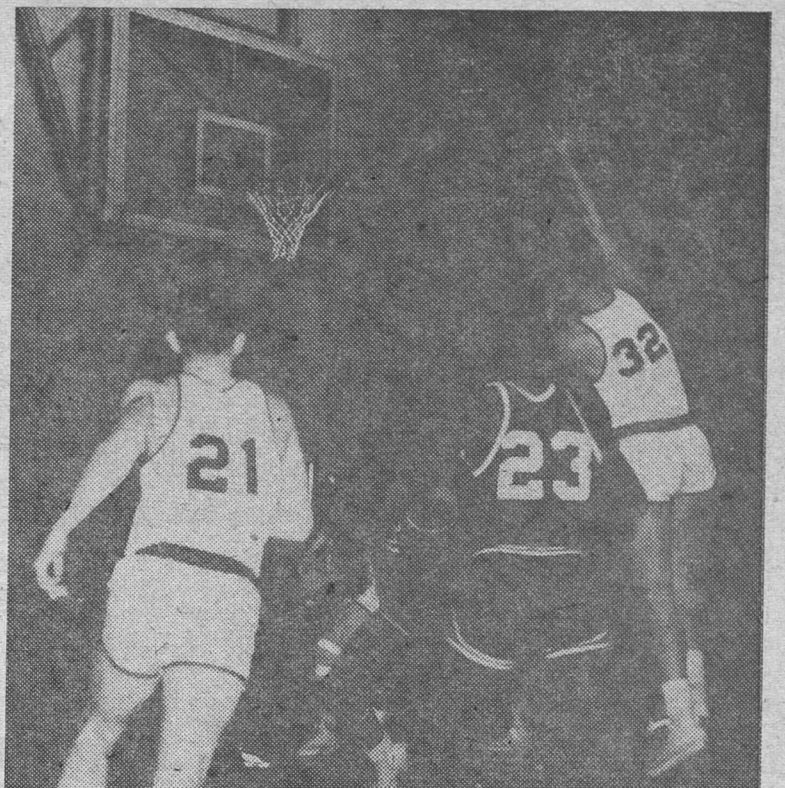

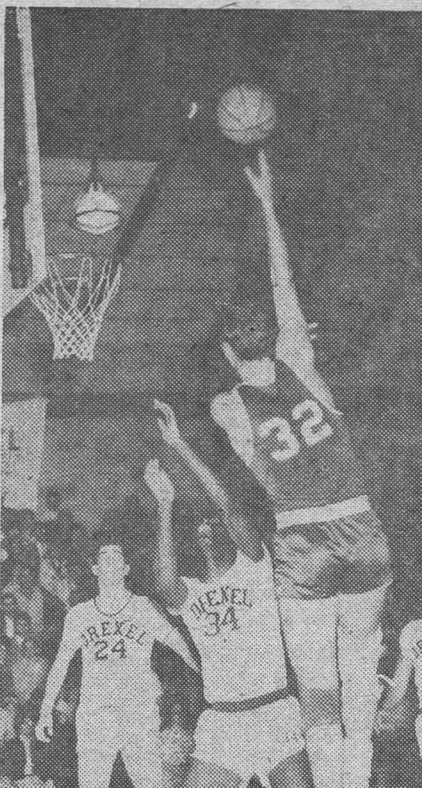

Freshman Anna Marie Rodichok was the team's leading scorer with 203 points and a 16.9 point average. Carolyn Moyer followed her in the scoring columns with an 11.3 average on 136 points.

The grapplers, unbeaten in their last six meets (one tie), were paced by Greiner, a senior, Jerry Jackson, a sophomore, and Dave Lomax, a freshman.

Greiner accumulated 33 points in the 167 pound slot with six decisions and three falls. Jackson (137) posted 33 points on seven decisions, two falls, and a draw. Lomax (123) totaled 31 points on

Dribblers Win MAC Crown Second In NCAA Tourney

As they say in press circles, "We received a lot of good ink." Perhaps more people in a larger geographical area said more nice things about us that at any time in the College's history.

The Blue Jay basketball team put a fabulous finish onto a fabulous season, the best since the beginning of basketball here.

Accomplished: 20 wins and five losses, a Middle Atlantic Conference championship, and a friend-winning display of raw courage — in victory and defeat — in the NCAA Eastern Regional tournament at Hofstra College on Long Island.

For the record, Elizabethtown bowed out of the NCAA tourney in second place after beating Philadelphia Textile, 74-73, and losing to Hofstra, 74-61.

The Jays earned the right to enter the NCAA playoffs March 6 and 7 by capturing the MAC crown in a four-team playoff at Moravian College, Bethlehem, the week before. That tourney saw E-town defeat Muhlenberg, 76-62, and Drexel, Southern Division champ, 59-52.

A first place finish (13-1 record) in the Northern Division paved the way to the conference tournament.

Most outsiders figured the Jays to finish last in the conference playoffs. Instead, a second half comeback led by Larry Evans spelled the difference against Muhlenberg. The Jays had trailed by four points at halftime. Evans finished with 22 and Dan Reitmeyer, with 17.

A night later the Smithmen played consistent basketball to drop the Drexel Dragons, who had upset Hofstra the night before. Reitmeyer, Evans and Bill Bechtold paced the way with 15 each in that one.

In the opener at Hempstead, Long Island, the Jays faced a powerful Philadelphia Textile five. They dropped behind by 13 early; rallied to come within two by halftime after losing Bechtold as a result of a seven-stitch elbow gash above the eye; battled the Rams on even terms through the second half with Reitmeyer lost due to a painful knee injury; spectacularly cut into a four point deficit with 57 seconds left; and won by one when Evans sank a driving layup at the three second mark.

Everyone in the Hofstra gym, save the Textile group, was cheering madly for the Jays at the end. The Blue Jay scoring was John Lentz, 18; Reitmeyer, 15; Bechtold, 14; Evans, 13; John Neely, 7; Larry Wyles, 7.

The next night Smith's dribblers matched Hofstra, double overtime victor over Catholic U. the previous evening, on its home floor through the first half.

Then, after scratching out a one point lead at the 5:50 mark, Elizabethtown finally succumbed Reitmeyer and Bechtold, both of whom were playing with throbbing injuries, had been retired on fouls. The Blue Jay scoring was Evans, 17; Reitmeyer, 13; Neely, 13; Lentz, 7; Bechtold, 6; Wyles, 3; and Jim Schlichter, 2.

There was much talk by coaches, sportswriters, sportscasters, fans, and friends about a "stacked deck" in favor of Hofstra. But the tourney is over, and the Blue Jays established themselves as men possessing that of which champions are made.

Final statistics on the 25 games list Reitmeyer as the team scoring leader. Big Dan posted 505 points for a 20.2 average. He passed the 1,000 point mark in the Lincoln game this year and will climb among the top three Elizabethtown all-time scoring leaders by the end of next year.

Evans racked up 398 points for a 15.9; Bechtold had 300 for 13.0; Lentz had 296 for 12.3; Neely had 255 for 10.2; Wyles had 169 for 7.3; and Schlichter had 116 for 5.8.

Reitmeyer notched three of the season's high marks. He ripped in 42 points against Lincoln, hit 16 field goals in 21 attempts at Lincoln, and grabbed off 32 rebounds at Lebanon Val-

Athletes Have 56-24-2 Mark For 2 Seasons

Fall and winter Blue Jay athletes racked up a cumulative record of 56 victories, 24 losses, and two ties in the six intercollegiate sports now completed.

They were to be honored by the College at a banquet at Bishop's Restaurant, near Hershey, on March 17.

Standout teams have been the soccer and basketball squads, both of which won the Middle Atlantic Conference championships. The soccer men, coached by Owen L. Wright, booted their way to a 12-2 log in copping the MAC crown and winning a second place trophy in the NCAA Atlantic Coast Regional Tournament.

Coach Don Smith's basketball quintet just wrapped up the MAC title and second place in the NCAA Eastern Regional Tournament. The dribblers finished with 20 wins and five losses.

Other sports highlights have been the best wrestling season since that sport was started here in 1954 and two winning campaigns by the female athletes.

The grapplers, under the direction of Ted Roscher, athletic director, notched seven wins, three losses, and a tie. Last year's 6-6 log has been the best previous record here.

Ruth Nearing led her women's field hockey team through another successful season and Allegra Hess saw her Jaygal cagers shoot their way to the best women's basketball record since 1957.

The field hockey log was 5-2-1. In women's basketball it was 9-3. Only the cross country team, also tutored by Roscher, failed to post a winning record. The harriers won three contests while losing nine.

Lentz had the highest foul total with 11 against Lycoming. Next year? Perhaps it will be better yet, but Neely, Bechtold, and Schlichter won't be part of it. They're seniors.

eight decisions, a fall, and a draw.

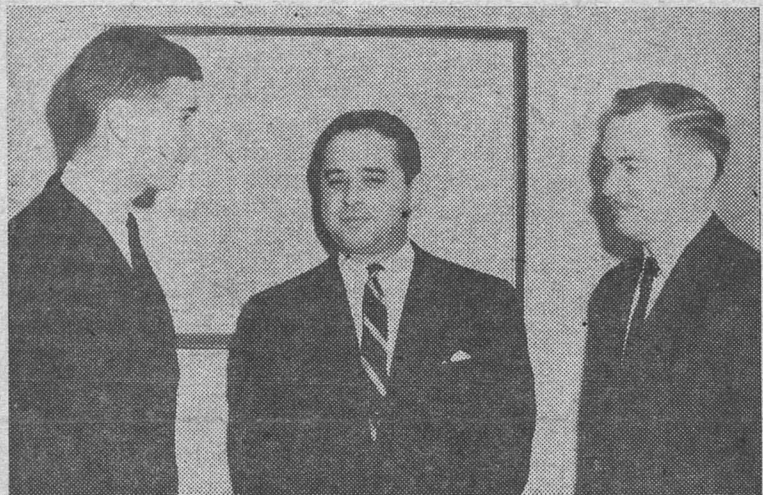

John Hertzler, who joined the team for the second semester, was undefeated in the 157 pound class with three decisions and two falls for 19 points. He was the only Jay matman to place in the MAC meet as he finished with a third place medal in his class.

Greiner was the lone senior on the mat squad; Suzanne Markey, bulwark of the Jaygal defensive alignment, was the only senior on the women's basketball crew.

Construction Projects Spot Campus

FILLIBUSTER? . . . No, but ex-Congressman Brooks Hays knows great deal about them. Hays is former Congressman from Arkansas and now is special assistant to President Lyndon Johnson. He spoke April 10 at "Pathway to Fulfillment" convocation at College. Listening to Hays is Dr. Ralph Schlosser, left, president emeritus and professor of English at college, and Sergio Rojas, center, who spoke that evening.

Janice Cramer To Be Crowned Queen, May 9

Crowning of the Queen in the campus dell at 1:30 p.m. will highlight Elizabethtown College's Eighteenth Annual May Day on May 9.

Wearing the crown will be Janice Cramer, senior elementary education major from Haddonfield, N. J. Her maid of honor will be Marilyn Young, Ambler senior.

Serving on the Queen's Court will be Seniors Carole Glynn and Esther Strehle, Juniors Lynne Benham and Carolyn Moyer, Sophomores Barbara Burg and Louise Wenger, and Freshmen Sue Macdonald and Carol Mainwaring.

A Hawaiian theme has been selected for the crowning program in the dell by the Student Senate May Day Committee.

Also on the day's docket will be a baseball game with Juniata at 2:30 p.m., art exhibits in the Library and Student Center opening at 2 p.m., a Women's Auxiliary Punch Hour on center campus in the afternoon, a children's story hour 2:30 and 4:30 p.m., in the swimming pool, music recitals at 6:45 p.m. in Rider Chapel, and a Spring concert in the Alumni Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Miss Vera R. Hackman, dean of women, is coordinating arrangements for the day's events.

AT IT AGAIN . . . Seldom has the campus of Elizabethtown College been "construction free" over the last fifteen years. Signs of growth have again interrupted the peace and serenity as heavy equipment moved into three areas to make way for more buildings. Top photo shows preparations for foundations that will hold additions to the Library on both sides and at rear. Bottom photo shows first stages of expanded dining facilities at rear of Myer Hall.

New Building, Two Additions Underway

Growth at Elizabethtown College became a stark reality recently with the invasion of heavy pieces of earth-moving equipment, newly dug holes, and huge piles of ground.

Student-Directed One-Acts Slated

Two one-act plays will be given under student direction on campus on April 24.

The Last Curtain, the story of the day President Lincoln was shot, will have a cast of six directed by David Ferrell, a senior from Camp Hill.

The other is Four for the Money, a farce, also with a cast of six. Directing that will be LaVon Manning, Columbia senior, and Luise Kempel, Irvington, N. J., senior.

The plays will be given in Fellowship Hall in the Church of the Brethren beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The directors will be fulfilling requirements for a course, "Problems of Play Directing," taught by Mrs. C. G. Enterline, associate professor of English and dramatics instructor.

Juniata-E'town Choirs Plan Concert on May 2

The concert choirs of Juniata College and Elizabethtown College will join voices for a concert to be held in the Elizabethtown Church of the Brethren on May 2 at 8 p.m.

Featured in the program will be Bach's Motet, Jesu, Priceless Treasure, and Mendelssohn's Hymn of Praise. Both works will be sung in English.

Guest soloist will be Chester W. Miller, tenor from Hershey. Also soloists from the two choirs will be featured.

Underway are additions to the Library and the dining hall in Myer Residence for Women and a brand new dormitory for men. At the same time most of the back campus area, including Lake Placida, is undergoing a massive face-lifting job.

The dorm, dining hall addition, and back campus development are being financed by current college funds and federal loans. The library addition is to be paid for with moneys received from a capital gifts campaign, the "Pathway to Fulfillment," launched April 10-13 with a special convocation.

The fund raising drive will also make possible the construction of a classroom building and a physical education building.

Current construction progress shows little more than the efforts of bulldozers and mechanical shovels, but foundations and steel skeletons will soon be visible.

Footers have been poured in parts of the areas on both sides of and behind the Library. Back of Myer Hall part of existing walls have been torn out and foundations are nearly underway. Southeast of South Hall the topsoil has been pushed back and digging has begun for the new dormitory.

On the back end of the campus Lake Placida, now drained, is hardly recognizable, and much of the wooded area has been cleared. Ultimately a re-defined and beautified lake will appear along with several athletic fields.

College Honors 43 At Convocation

Elizabethtown College honored 43 persons for service with distinction during two convocation programs held April 10 to launch a capital gifts campaign, the "Pathway to Fulfillment," which will seek $1,250,000 in its first phase for the construction of an addition to the library, a classroom building, and a physical education building.

Twenty-one alumni were honored at an Alumni Citation Award program, and 22 others were recognized during a Citizen Citation Award program.

In addition the convocation featured a luncheon for ministers, cities, faculty, and trustees on April 10; a Women's Auxiliary Luncheon on April 11, and a Business and Industrial Leaders Dinner on April 13.

Brooks Hays, former congressman from Arkansas and presently a special assistant to President Johnson, delivered the featured address at the Citizen Citation program. Speaker for the Alumni Citation event was Sergio Rojas, former Cuban Ambassador to Great Britain who broke with Castro.

Mrs. Anna Beahm Mow, educator, missionary, and Christian leader, addressed the Women's Auxiliary; William F. Butler, vice-president of the Chase Manhattan National Bank in New York was speaker for the Business and Industrial Leaders Luncheon.

An estimated 1000 persons attended the three major events on April 10. About 300 attended the Auxiliary Luncheon, and 250 were on hand for the Business Leaders Dinner.

David L. Brandt, Lancaster, sportscaster; Dr. A. G. Breidenstine, Lancaster, Millersville State College Dean; Ray Co-

Pres. Roy E. McAuley announced during the Business and Industrial Leaders Dinner held at the College April 13 as part of the "Pathway to Fulfillment" convocation that gifts and pledges for the campaign already total $600,000. Some $1,250,000 is being sought for the campaign's first phase, which will end in 1966.

Professors Say Graduate School Not Likely

Should Elizabethtown College move in the direction of granting graduate degrees in some or all areas?

After sampling the opinions of seven faculty members in as many departments, it was found that the great majority are opposed to such action.

The one, and only, major proponent of graduate-level degrees was found to be the Department of Education. With the requirement of a Master's degree for teacher certification in Pennsylvania looming in the future, this department feels it must be prepared to offer a program leading directly to such a degree in order to compete with state schools offering such programs.

Most other departments take a very dim view on the introduction of a graduate program. A few feel that a graduate program could be instituted if a specific drive in this direction were conducted. The Departments of Chemistry and Biology, with the highest percentages of Ph.D.'s in the college, indicated that their staffs would be inadequate in size to present courses at the graduate level. The problem of finding space for research is critical; their present facilities are overflowing with undergraduates. Sizable monetary expenditures would also be necessary. Our fairly-well-equipped Department of Chemistry would probably need $50,000 for additional instruments, and another $50,000 for acquisition of reference books and journals.

Most departments, many of which have no staff members holding their doctorates, feel there is a burning need for improvements in the depth and scope of the undergraduate program before any thought is given to higher degrees.

Many of these staff members who now carry teaching loads of fifteen hours would need to have their loads cut in half if they were to present valid graduate-level courses. This factor, in itself, would necessitate a tremendous increase in the size of our faculty.

The salient limiting factor in a graduate program at Elizabethtown College is our library facility. We would be only barely prepared when our collection reaches the proposed 100,000 volumes. Even then, new acquisitions would need to be almost wholly in the graduate areas, and our collection of books for undergraduates would not be increased far above its present anemic level.

Student Dies

Glen L. Goss, a sophomore accounting major from McClure, died of a prolonged kidney ailment April 15, about six weeks after leaving the campus because of his illness.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen L. Goss, Sr., Specht St., McClure, he graduated from West Snyder High School in 1962.

Executive Secretary, Alumni Association

WORTH TRYING?

Beginning this month, we shall use this column for a series of suggestions for alumni workers. We think it timely to do this because the college has launched an intensive program of development in many areas.

Included in this area, is activity beyond the dollars which alumni contribute. The general theme, "Pathway to Fulfillment", is all encompassing; it includes a challenge to improve services to alumni as individuals as well as chapters.

The first suggestion we are making is that of providing alumni headquarters, centrally located, for each chapter. These headquarters would be permanent points of reference for alumni.

Officers change from year to year, alumni lists change, and this fluid situation means that data become old very soon or pertinent information is not transferred to incoming chapter officers.

How would we operate this plan? In each chapter, we are assuming that someone is available to assemble and organize data about alumni and to communicate with chapter officers and the alumni secretary.

On a reserved shelf in the home of a volunteer worker for a given chapter, might be an alumni directory (including reserved copies), a file of alumni Etownians, alumni Bulletin, card file of alumni in the area with names, addresses, occupations, and telephone numbers.

This operation is by no means one-sided. The alumni office would supply the basic information and forward a list of graduates (February, June, August) to the chapters from which the graduates came. Periodically, the alumni relations office would forward personnel changes in chapters.

This step would mean an extension, intensification, and expansion of services to alumni. It would mean more work for more people. It would not decentralize important work for the office of alumni relations.

It should make information pertaining to the local chapters immediately available. It might even encourage more initiative by alumni on the local level. The plan would certainly increase the budget and force some streamlining of procedures in the alumni office.

Is the plan operable and worth the cost? Assuming that the principle, "Use them or lose them" is valid for alumni work, we would like to feel that the plan has merit. Is just one chapter willing to try it?

Luncheon Planned At Church Confab

Church of the Brethren alumni who attend the Annual Conference at Lincoln, Nebraska, will have an opportunity to fellowship at a luncheon on Saturday, June 27.

According to Donald E. Rowe, conference manager, a luncheon program for alumni is scheduled at the Cornhusker Hotel from 12:00-2:00 p.m. in rooms 901 and 921.

The cost, including gratuity, is $1.75. According to information received, the Elgin office will print the luncheon tickets for the sake of uniformity. These tickets will be available at the ticket window and may be checked out in block to sell prior to or during the conference.

Channel 8 To Re-Run Libhart's Art Course In August, September

WGAL-TV (Channel 8), Lancaster, will re-run the College of the Air series entitled "The Arts in Your Life" conducted by Henry M. Libhart, assistant professor of English and art instructor here.

The programs will be presented from 9 to 9:30 a.m. on August 10, 17, 24, 31 and September 7, 14, 21, and 28.

The series, which was conducted as a course and carried one credit, was first telecast during the fall semester of the current term. No credit will be offered this summer.

"I wish to express my sincere thanks to my College friends who remembered me with prayers, cards, visits, and flowers during my stay in the hospital and especially on my return home. A special thank-you to you, the 'Snow Shovel-ing Association.'"

Faculty Beat

Berkebile to Be In Ghana, Nigeria

Dr. James Berkebile, professor of chemistry and director of the Teachers for West Africa Program, will spend 25 days in Africa this month and next visiting the teachers placed in Ghana and Nigeria over the last two years by TWA.

Dr. Berkebile flew to Lagos on Tuesday, April 14. He will return to the United States on May 9. While in Africa he will also consult with officials of the African-American Institute, the Ministries of Education, in Ghana and Nigeria, the Peace Corps, and the American Embassies.

In addition he will meet with principals of other schools which are looking for teachers.

Ranck To Study In California

Dr. John P. Ranck, assistant professor of chemistry here, will attend a summer program of Research Participation for College Science Teachers under the sponsorship of the National Science Foundation this summer.

Dr. Ranck will carry out his research in the department of mechanical engineering at the University of California, Berkeley, from June 22 to August 28. His project will involve the desalination of sea water.

A 1958 graduate of Elizabethtown College, Dr. Ranck received his master's degree from Princeton University in 1960 and his Ph.D. from the same institution in 1962. He was a member of the faculty at Upsala College, East Orange, N. J., prior to joining the staff here last fall.

Math Prof In Program At Rutgers

Irvin L. Bossler, head of the mathematics department at Elizabethtown College will attend an eight-week mathematics institute for college teachers at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J., June 22 to August 14. He received a National Science Foundation grant for the institute for the second consecutive year. He attended a similar institute at Rutgers last summer.

Bossler is a graduate of Ursinus College (B.S.) and Purdue University (M. S.), and he took post-graduate work at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. He joined the staff at Elizabethtown in 1959.

E-town Physics Head To Attend Institute

Hubert M. Custer, head of the physics department at Elizabethtown College, will attend an eight-week summer institute in nuclear science at Washington State University, Pullman, Washington, under the sponsorship of the National Science Foundation and the Atomic Energy Commission.

The institute will run from June 15 to August 7. Areas of concentration in the laboratory phase will be radio chemistry, radio-physics, neutron diffusion and kinetics, and equipment. Lecture topics will include nuclear magnetic resonance, neutron diffraction, neutron diffusion, radiation safety, radioisotopes in biochemistry, reactor stability, and analog computers.

Zug Addition To Hold 100,000 New Volumes

by Betty Derencin

Construction of the $356,000 addition to Zug Memorial Library is well underway as a major part of the College's "Pathway to Fulfillment" development campaign. The building will be ready for occupancy for the 1965-66 school term.

Alumni Day Slated Here For May 30

By C. G. Enterline

In spite of huge excavations and mounds of earth, there is still room for alumni to roam the campus and attend class reunions on Saturday, May 30.

Classes officially designated for special reunions are 04, 09, 14, 18, 19, 20, 24, 39, 43, 44, 45 and 54. However, all classes are welcome. If classes other than the ones listed desire meeting rooms, reservations should be made as early as possible.

PROGRAM SET

Alumni may register at 1:00 p.m. in the Baugher Student Center and enter into a number of activities. The Baugher Student Center will be open until 5:30 p.m. and games and facilities will be open to alumni on a first-come, first-serve basis. Among these activities are volleyball (outside), ping pong in the game room (second floor), tennis (outside), players must have tennis shoes and provide their own equipment, bowling. The swimming pool will be available from 2:00-4:00 — swimmers may use the showers and locker rooms. The store will be open for "browsing" and the Jay's Nest for "snacking."

MEET THE FACULTY

Department heads and faculty members will assemble in the first and second floor lounges between 2:30 and 3:30 of the Baugher Student Center to meet alumni. From here the 1943 class will move to Room 202 of the Student Center; 1944 to Room 200; 1945 to Room 207 (second floor lounge); 1954 to Room 105 (first floor lounge). Reunions are scheduled from 4:00 to 5:30.

The classes below will report to homes which are within a block of the college:

'04-'09-'14, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Schlosser, Orange and Mt. Joy Streets; '18-'19, Ruth Bucher Hess, 306 East Orange Street; '20, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Forney, E. Orange & Hanover Streets; '24, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Landis, College Ave. & Mt. Joy St.; '39, Dr. and Mrs. Roy E. McAuley, 307 College Avenue.

The classes which are meeting in homes will receive notices of these reunions; members of the classes are urged to return the reply cards which accompany the notices. It is hoped that the officers of the respective classes will be present to share in the fellowship and to meet and greet their classmates.

DINNER PLANNED

As it appears now, the dining room in Meyer Hall will be "open-ended" by May for an additional wing; consequently, tentative plans call for a dinner meeting in the Alumni-Auditorium of Student Center. The dinner is scheduled for 6:00 o'clock. Tables will be reserved for the officially designated classes.

Hiram J. Frysinger, president of the Alumni Association, will serve as toastmaster. Mr. Otto W. Ferrene, a veteran college man and administrator, will address the group on the subject, "Strengthening the Bulwark."

The Alumni Association will recognize the Class of 1964, the Silver and Golden Anniversary classes. Dr. Doy E. McAuley, president of the College, will bring alumni up-to-date on college doings and plans.

Completed in 1950, the present library was designed for a student body of 350. New facilities will serve about 1200 students. While the building now houses approximately 36,500 volumes, the air-conditioned addition will provide for a collection of 135,800 volumes.

Regarding this sudden increase in the book collection, Miss Anna M. Carper, librarian, stated: "Generally, a library doubles its size in 20 years. But with our inadequate collection of books, we should do this in a much shorter time."

She indicated that this proposed volume increase can't be a gradual one because "the increase in the size of the student body was not in proportion to the increase of the library collection and staff."

The majority of the books for the library are chosen on the recommendation of faculty members. According to Miss Carper, the unbalanced collection at present "reflects the interests of the professors active at the time rather than an overall view of what should constitute a good departmental collection."

Although the entire present collection is inadequate, Miss Carper feels that the periodicals have been the most neglected. The library must keep up to date with the current publishing and fill in the depleted areas at the same time. The $356,000 construction allotment can not be used to purchase books.

The library recently received $5000 from the Women's Auxiliary of the College for the purpose of purchasing periodicals. Miss Carper stressed the need for large grants and gifts of this nature in order to obtain the necessary back volumes.

With the library now equipped to seat 100 readers, the addition will offer space for 360 students. The general building plan will emphasize the diffusion technique with decentralized stacks and study areas. In addition to present facilities, 60 individual study carrels are planned along with five four-person study rooms.

Ballot Mailed

The alumni will be voting for 1964-65 officers during the next two weeks. President Hiram J. Frysinger '29 is desirous that balloting be done early so that the nominating committee, which will serve as tallymen, can announce the results of election at the Spring council meeting.

The officers to be elected are vice president, councilmen, and alumni trustee. President Frysinger will announce a council meeting soon.

Chapter Roundup

Three Alumni Groups To Meet; Three Met

By C. G. Enterline

York: May 2

Mrs. Jeanne (Leber) Merritt '60, secretary-treasurer of the York Chapter of the Elizabethtown College Alumni Association announced a meeting at the Fireside Coffee Shoppe, 1883 Whiteford Road, York on Saturday, May 2, 1964 at 6:30 p.m.

The program lists special music and a guest speaker from the college. A choice of broasted chicken or roast beef with fancy side dishes constitute the menu. Reservations at $2.75 must be in by April 25.

Reservations with check are to be forwarded to Mrs. Richard Merritt, 2310 Breezewood Road, York 17404.

Baltimore: May 2

Robert M. Graham, Catonsville, Maryland, has announced an area alumni meeting for May 2. Mr. Graham, secretary for the Baltimore area, said that the meeting will be at Gaskins Restaurant on Route 40, near Ellicott City, Maryland, at 6:00 p.m.

The program committee is showing its usual creative talent; plans call for an original skit, games, group singing, and a representative from the College to bring the group up-to-date on campus planning and development.

Alumni are requested to send reservations for the dinner to treasurer, Leon E. Henise, '50, 8350 Edgedale Road, Towson 4, Maryland.

S. Jersey: May 2

Robert L. Goudie '57, president of the South Jersey Chapter, announced a meeting of alumni at Moffa's Farm, Blenheim (near Blackwood) on Saturday, May 2, at 6:30 p.m.

The program will highlight athletics at Elizabethtown College and honor Coach Donald Smith and William Foster '54, former basketball star and presently head coach at Rutgers University.

Athletic Director Ted Roscher will comment on the athletic program and improved facilities on campus. Coach Smith will be narrator for the film which shows the Blue Jays in action in the recent basketball tournament.

Reservations for the dinner should be forwarded to Jo Ann Robinson '62, 1710 King's Highway, Haddon Heights, New Jersey by April 29.

Second Alumni Recital May 3

The second Annual Alumni Recital will be given on Sunday p.m., May 3, 1964, beginning at 3:30 in the Alumni Auditorium.

Performers will be: Mrs. Joann (Betz) Mengel, Coloratura Soprano, Berwick.

Mrs. Lorraine (Stehman) Snowden '54, Pianist, Elizabethtown.

Mrs. Marilyn (Longenecker) Brightbill '56, Soprano, Elizabethtown.

Mrs. Nancy (Bashore) Santeusano '52, Violinist, Hershey.

Mrs. Gertrude R. Meyer, Piano Accompanist, Elizabethtown.

Mr. Asher Halbleib '60, Baritone, Mount Joy.

Rev. Kenneth Miller '57, Baritone, Carlisle.

Prof. Nevin W. Fisher, head of the department of music, is handling the arrangements. The public is invited.

Breidenstine Speaks To Lancaster Group

The Lancaster County Chapter of the Elizabethtown College Alumni Association held its spring meeting at the Holiday Inn Restaurant, Lancaster, on March 14 with Dr. Aaron G. Breidenstine, '27, Millersville State College Dean, showing slides of his Russian tour of the Brethren Exchange Program with the Russian Orthodox Church.

Hiram J. Frysinger, president of the Alumni Association, brought greetings and Clifford Huffman, president of the Lancaster Chapter, conducted a brief business meeting.

The group of approximately 100 elected the officers for the coming year: President, Rev. Alan Whitacre, '53, 5849 Lemon Street, East Petersburg; Vice president, Gene Swords, '51, Route 1, Lancaster; Secretary, Janet M. Trimmer, '56, 18 S. Custer Avenue, New Holland; Treasurer, Glenn Y. Forney, '54, 234 Park Avenue, Mt. Joy, and councilmen: M. Romaine H. Lefever, '45, Riveredge Drive, Leola and Dr. Galen E. Graham '44, 1759 Linwood Avenue, Lancaster.

Coach Shows Films At Harrisburg Event

The Harrisburg Chapter of the Elizabethtown College Alumni Association, planned a unique program for April 18 at the Ridgeway Community Church, Progress Avenue. Alumni gathered for a 7:45 informal dessert meeting and then viewed a film of the recent NCAA Eastern Regional Small College Division basketball tournament in which Elizabethtown College participated.

Coach Donald Smith and James L. M. Yeingst of the college served as narrators.

Present officers of the chapter are Frances Bishop '54, president; 1262 Main Street, Steelton; Dr. Ben G. Musser '43, vice president, 350 Hillside Drive, New Cumberland; Shirley Y. Uhazie '43, secretary, 4015 Locust Lane, Colonial Park Harrisburg; Robert A. Greenawalt '49, treasurer, 231 E. Main Street, Mechanicsburg.

Mrs. Uhazie headed the program committee.

Washington Meeting Features McAuley

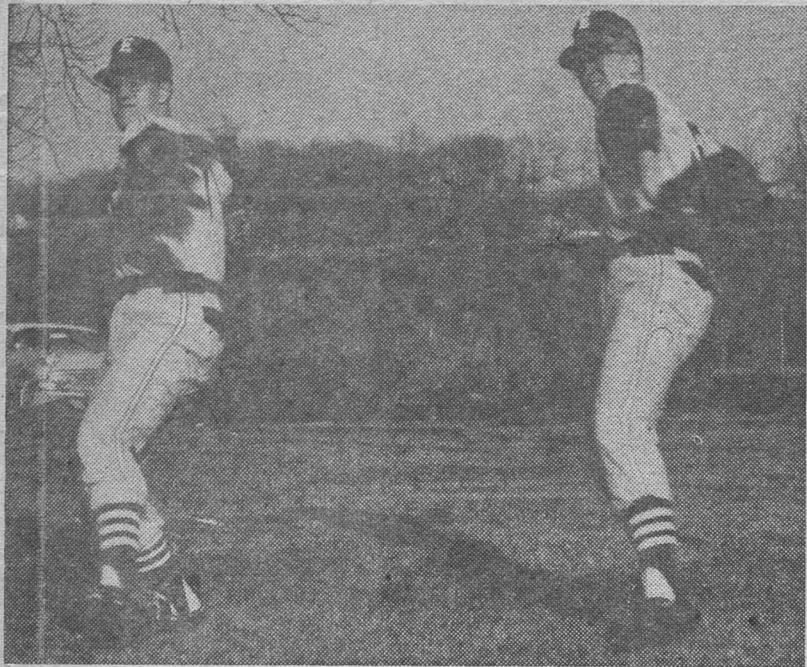

Dr. and Mrs. Roy E. McAuley, president of the College, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Irwin, Development Office, motored to Washington, D. C. April 4, to attend the area alumni meeting.

Dr. McAuley reported on the building and curricular programs of Elizabethtown College. "Expansion in many areas", he reported, "is going forward at an accelerated pace". Mr. Irwin outlined details of the Convocation, April 10-11-13, and procedures related to the development campaign.

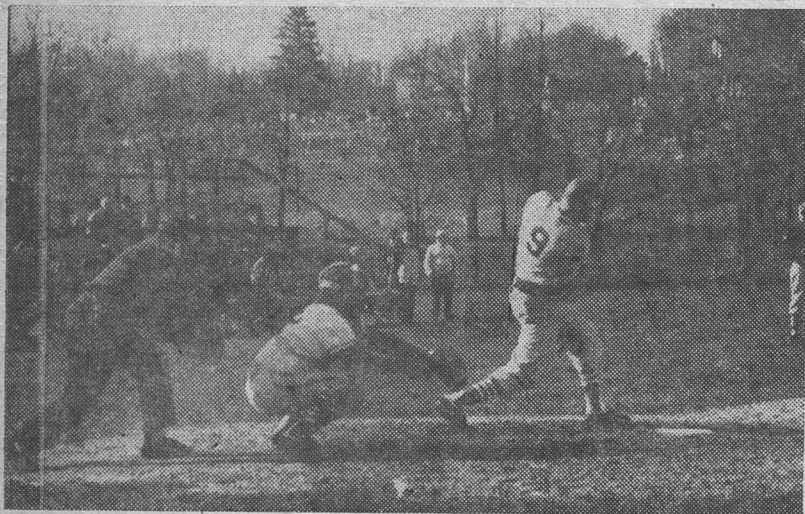

Eighteen alumni and friends reported to the meeting. Officers elected for 1964-65 are The Reverend Edwin A. Ankeny, '58, president, Box 107 Germantown, Maryland; Robert B. Meckley '26, vice president, 380 Arlington Village, Arlington 4, Virginia; Mrs. Donald Lefever (Fay) Graham '46, secretary, 4416 Tonquil Street, Beltsville, Maryland.

Plans for the summer call for a combined picnic of the Baltimore-Washington, D. C. area.

The group met at the Brighton Hotel of which Carl Z. Heilman '32, of 2123 California street, N. W., Washington 8, is general manager.

FIREBALLERS — Gene Marderness, left, and John Suffel show their form in a pre-season workout. These two men will provide the bulk of the Elizabethtown College mound staff in the upcoming baseball season. A senior, Marderness compiled a 5-3 log last year, while Suffel, a junior.

THIRD SACKER—Tony McGlaughlin tees off on this offering but the effort resulted only in a big out during the Lebanon Valley contest. However, the other stickmen had better success as the Birds belted out an 8-2 triumph. The win came in the season lidlifter for both schools. Veteran right-hander Gene Marderness recorded the hill decision.

Spring Athletes Start Big Ball Team Wins First Three

Elizabethtown College's spring sports season moved into high gear by mid-April after a moderately successful start by the baseball and men's tennis teams.

Blue Jay Golfers Lose Exhibitions

Golf has become the tenth intercollegiate sport at Elizabethtown College.

The Blue Jay linkmen opened a five-match exhibition schedule April 4 with a 9½-8½ loss to Muhlenberg on the Manor Course in Sinking Springs and followed with a 9-6 loss to Hershey Junior College at Hershey.

Three more rehearsals were slated this spring as preparation for the opening of the college's first official golf season next year. Coach of the team is Theodore A. Roscher, athletic director.

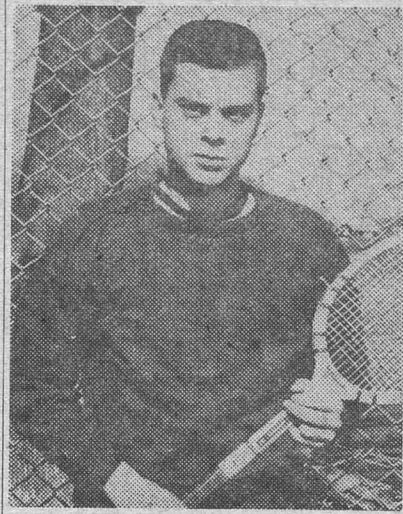

Coming up this season are matches with Dickinson on April 27, Hershey Junior College on May 4, and Dickinson on May 5.

All but the first Dickinson match will be played on the Hershey Park Golf Course, home links for the Jays as well as a junior college crew.

Seventeen men reported to Roscher's first practice, and 16 are still on the squad. Dennis Woolf, a sophomore from Harrisburg and the Jay's best golfer through the early practice rounds, had to drop off the squad because of illness.

On the team that made the first two trips were Tom Clark, Hollidaysburg; Don Hopson, Coatesville; Doug Boomer-shine, Carlisle; Ben Breneman, Carlisle; Jim Stanley, Harrisburg; Gerry Moore, Gladwyn; and Bob Wolfe, Pottstown.

Roscher has scheduled six matches to date for next year, and he hopes to add at least two more opponents. The Hershey Park course will again be the home course for the Jays in 1965.

SENIOR — netman Bill Bertolet is being counted upon heavily by Coach Smith in the team's drive to improve last season's record. Bertolet, a two year letterman, is a math major from Hanover.

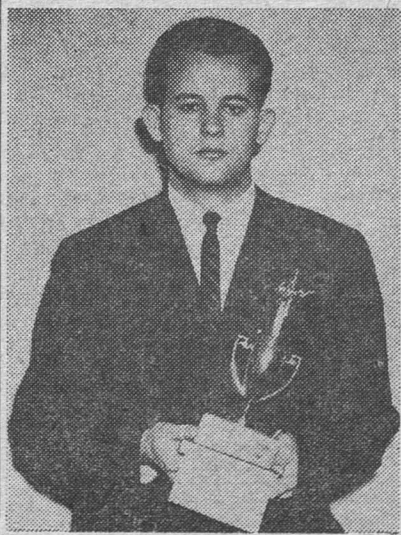

Nick Zabitchuck Gets Top Score In Events Test

The Young Republicans Club of Elizabethtown College again sponsored the admission of the Current Affairs Test compiled by Time magazine. The test was given on Monday, March 16, in room 201 of the Baugher Student Center.

The test was designed to show the participating students the extent of their knowledge concerning important events in the news and sport worlds of the previous year.

Breaking down the group taking the test into classes the Senior Class with an average of 73 had the highest. The Junior, Freshman, and Sophomore Classes had 70, 64, and 61 respectively for averages.

The top twenty people in the scoring are as follows: Nicholas Zabitchuck, 94; Ellen Hilkemeier, 91; Thomas Hindmarch, 89; Robert Kerr, 88; Linda Eckhardt, 86; Thomas Rotunno, 82; Jean Dietenbeck, 80; Robert Wittlinger, 80; Ralph Engle, 79; Kenneth Krall, 79; Barry Graham, 78; Dennis Graybill, 77; Albert Koch, 76; Sonja Bankert, 75; Paul Chase, 75; Carlyle Crane, 75; Thomas Bradley, 74; Harry Heath, 74; Ronald Joseph, 74; and Douglas Shaw, 74.

CO-WINNER—Jack Richard holds debate-team trophy he and Nick Zabitchuck won at the Cumberland Valley Tournament held at Shippensburg State College.

As of April 15 the baseballers, under the tutelage of Owen Wright, had racked up three wins and a loss; the men's tennis team had won one and lost two; and the women's tennis team was just getting started.

In baseball, where the Blue Jays are confident they have a good crack at the Middle Atlantic Conference championship, weather had already caused schedule changes.

After defeating Lebanon Valley, 8-2, Drexel, 9-6, and Millersville, 5-4, the skein was broken in the nightcap of a twinbill with the teachers, 2-1. Then the Western Maryland road game was pushed back one day because of wet grounds.

At Lebanon Valley, where the game was played because the resurfaced infield here was not yet ready, Elizabethtown jumped off to a two run lead in the first inning and breezed on from there.

Gene Marderness, the Jays' big righthander, struck out eight, walked none, and allowed one unearned run on two hits in the six innings he worked in winning his first decision.

Against Drexel at home Tony McGlaughlin pitched and hit his way to victory. He collected three hits in four trips to the plate including a game-deciding home run with one on in the sixth inning.

Rich Wright went the distance in the opener against Millersville and received credit for the win. The Jays scored a one-run decision when they pushed across a tally in the last inning. Gary Messinger romped home while the Millersville hurler was trying to pick McGlaughlin off second base.

In the second game Millersville poked away at John Suffel for two runs in the sixth after E-town had scored once in the fourth. From there it was all zeroes, and Suffel had to absorb the loss.

Coach Don Smith's tennismen upended Washington, 5-4, on the strength of wins by Warren White, Chris Grubb, Bill Bertolet, Gary Danielson, and the doubles team of John Waggoner and John Cassel, but in the next two outings it was a different story.

Only two Blue Jay doubles teams managed to score at Lycoming after the match was out of reach. The final score was 7-2. Against Dickinson here it was even more decisive. The Red Devils slammed out wins the whole way down the line to complete a 9-0 whitewashing.

The women's tennis crew lost out to the weather in their first scheduled start on April 14 and therefore had not yet been in action when this edition of the ETOWNIAN went to press.

Four Etowners In Peace Corps

Four former students at Elizabethtown are now serving in the Peace Corps, it was recently learned.

The four are Jay Buffenmyer, Belva Cassel, Beth Deibert, and Jean Zettlemoyer.

Buffenmyer, class of '61, is serving in India; Miss Cassel, class of '61, is in Afghanistan; Miss Deibert, class of '62 is serving in El Salvador; Miss Zettlemoyer, who transferred from Elizabethtown in 1962, is in Turkey.

Phys. Ed. Courses Graded Next Year

Beginning with the fall session 1964-65, all students will be required to complete four semesters of physical education in the basic instruction program. Grades with academic grade-point credit will be given.

Each student must successfully complete one semester of swimming, one semester of team sports, and one semester of classroom-lab sports appreciation course.

Freshmen will have the following choice if class size and schedule will permit:

First semester, either swimming or team sports. Second semester, the order will be reversed.

Team sports for women will be hockey and basketball first semester volleyball, body-mechanics, and softball.

For men, teams sports will be soccer and wrestling the first semester, basketball and softball the second semester.

Sophomores will be required to take instruction in tennis, badminton, and volleyball first semester; second semester bowling, archery, and golf will be given. The other course will be the sports appreciation course which will run both semesters.

Any inquiry is to be directed to Owen Wright, department of physical education.

Banquet Slated

Members of the baseball and men's and women's tennis teams will be honored by the College at a banquet scheduled for the Magic Chef Dining Room, just outside Elizabethtown, on May 14 at 6:45 p.m.

William D. McHenry, director of athletics at Lebanon Valley College, will be the featured speaker.

Cagers Cited

Three members of the record-breaking basketball team have been named to the Middle Atlantic Conference All-Northern Division Basketball Team. Cited were Ran Reitmeyer, center, and Larry Evans and Bill Bechtold, both forwards.

Reitmeyer, a junior from Boyertown, was named to a first team berth along with Steve Nisenon, MAC most valuable player, and Jim Boatwright of Hofstra, Bill Witacanis, Scranton, and Fred Klittich, Wagner. Elizabethtown's Reitmeyer was the lone player to receive an individual crown that did not fall into the grasp of Nisenon. Dan captured the rebounding title with a 17.2 average per game.

Meanwhile, the Hofstra ace was the league scoring champ on the strength of a 30.2 game average; in field goals, with a percentage of .577; and in free throws, with a mark of .939.

Larry Evans, junior from Saxton, gained a second team berth. Along with Evans on the second unit were Larry Mock, Juniata; Jim Dooley, Scranton; Dennis Robinson; and Pedro, Wagner.

Evans' running mate on the Elizabethtown forward wall, Bill Bechtold, was named to the honorable mention list.

Schlichter Named Basketball Coach

Elizabethtown College basketball player Jim Schlichter has been named to the head coaching position at Pequea Valley High School.

Schlichter, who scored over 500 career points with the Blue Jays, will take over the helm for the 1964-65 season.

Schlichter, an English major at the college, resides in Chambersburg.

John K. Boll Dies At 79

John K. Boll, the last surviving member of Elizabethtown College's first class, died in Wheeling, W. Va., on April 17. He was 79.

The senior alumnus enrolled here in 1899 and attended some of the first classes in 1900 and 1901. He was taking teacher training courses and then transferred to Pennsylvania Business School in Lancaster when he decided against a teaching career.

Prior to his total retirement in 1955 he was a registered representative of Bache & Company and the New York Stock Exchange. He sold stocks and mutual funds for Bache for five years preceding his retirement.

He was with Wheeling Steel corporation from 1922 to 1946 when it became the Portsmouth Steel Corporation. He stayed on there as manager of the wire sales division until 1949, when the company was sold a few weeks before his sixty-fifth birthday.

From about 1902 until 1922 he was employed in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Ellwood City, and Monessen. He married the former Mary K. Lewis, of Lancaster, in 1906, and they had five children. Mrs. Boll died in 1951.

During his last visit to the campus, he was an honored guest at the Alumni-Senior Dinner on Alumni Day in 1961.

Alumnus Gives $50,000 For Building Fund

Dr. David E. Brinser, Middletown R. D. 1, has pledged $50,000 to Elizabethtown College to be used in carrying out the college's "Pathway to Fulfillment" development program.

Dr. Brinser, an alumnus of the college, announced his gift Monday evening during a meeting of development leaders in the Baugher Student Center. Dr. Roy E. McAuley, college president, accepted the gift, calling it "a generous and worthy demonstration of Dr. Brinser's deep interest in Christian higher education."

The "Pathway to Fulfillment" campaign is designed to raise $1,250,000 over the next three years to construct three urgently needed buildings on the Elizabethtown College campus. These include an addition to the library, a classroom building, and a physical education building.

Dr. Brinser, a former school teacher, has been associated with the development of Elizabethtown College for several years. A large lecture hall on the campus is named in his honor.

Max Lerner To Deliver Main Address To 165 Graduates

Max Lerner, author and teacher, will be the featured speaker for Elizabethtown College's Baccalaureate-Commencement exercises Sunday, May 31, Pres. Roy E. McAuley announced recently.

The combined program will be held at 3 p.m., in the Hershey Community Theater, in order to accommodate the large audience anticipated for the exercises. Degrees will be granted to approximately 165 graduates, the largest single class to be graduated in the history of the college.

President McAuley will confer the degrees after the candidates have been presented by Dr. Jacob E. Herschman, dean of instruction.

Honorary degrees will be conferred upon at least two persons. They are Clair R. McCollough, president and general manager of WGAL AM-FM-TV, Lancaster, and David H. Porter, assistant superintendent of Schools, Harrisburg.

At least nine students will be graduated with honors. They are Elizabeth deVity, Bainbridge; Robert Kerr, Aliquippa; Anne Keuhnelian, Franklin; Virginia Heisey, Manheim; Albert Koch, Lakewood, Ohio; Nina Jean Stroble, Lititz; Betty Wenger, Denver; Charlotte Wenger, Quarryville; and Linda Young, McClure.

Lerner, author of the book "The Age of Overkill," is Professor of American Civilization at Brandeis University. He has appeared frequently on television and radio and has written numerous books on politics, law education, and social theory.

The title of his address for the college will be "Education and the Image of Man."

McCollough, who will receive an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree, will be recognized for his long years of service and positive influence in the broadcasting industry.

He organized the Pennsylvania Association of Broadcasters, first of its kind in the United States, in 1932. He was elected to the Board of directors of the National Association of Broadcasters in 1938 and has since served almost continuously with this body.

Porter will receive the Doctor of Pedagogy degree. He began his career as a classroom teacher in Berks County in 1931, moved to the Central Opportunity School in Harrisburg in 1937, and became elementary principal in five Harrisburg schools in 1940.

Max Lerner

He served as director of Pupil Accounting and Child Guidance in 1944, and was named Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent of Schools in 1952 and Assistant Superintendent in 1954.

Two Summer Sessions Three Workshops Set

Elizabethtown College will offer three special workshops and a total of 72 courses during two summer sessions this year.

Session I will run from June 15 to July 17 with 35 courses on the schedule. Thirty-seven courses will be offered during Session II, which will begin July 20 and end August 21.

In addition, the college will offer eight-week courses in general biology and elementary chemistry, beginning June 15. The workshops will be in speech (June 16-21) theory of arithmetic (June 22-30), physical education (August 3-July 3), and alcohol studies (June 22-July 3).

Director of the speech workshop will be Peter L. Shaida, speech therapist in the Lancaster County Public Schools. Theodore A. Roscher, director of athletics at Elizabethtown, will direct the physical education workshop; Lloyd Wilkinson, West Chester State College, will be guest lecturer. Director of the arithmetic workshop will be Clarence Rudy, head of the mathematics department in Lampeter-Strasburg High School. All three will be designed primarily for elementary teachers.

Paul E. Whitmoyer, assistant professor of sociology at Elizabethtown, will be director of the workshop on alcohol studies.

The two five-week sessions will include course offerings in Bible and philosophy, biology, business, chemistry, education, English, foreign languages, history and political science, mathematics, music, physical education, psychology, and sociology.

Most of the courses will carry three semester hours of undergraduate credit. Students may earn a maximum of 12 credits during the two sessions.

Dr. O. F. Stambaugh, director of Summer Sessions, announced that registration will be held on the first day of each session or workshop.

Students Honored At Awards Event

Eighteen students received academic awards and 62 others were cited for their work in extracurricular activities during an all-college assembly at Elizabethtown College, Wednesday.

Featured speaker for the event was Henry M. Libhart, assistant professor of English at the college. He spoke on the subject, "A Liberal Arts Education and Leisure." James L. M. Yeingst, director of public relations, presided.

Winners of the academic awards were David Herbst, Middleburg, Society for the Advancement of Management Award; Freda Crissinger, Dornsife, Gregg Memorial medal in

Sock & Buskin Stresses Need For Theatre

A little theatre at E'town College? There is an agreement among those people involved in dramatics here that we have a real need for our own little theatre.

Student interest in drama is very high, and growing every year. The college budget provides very generously for the plays, but the facilities make dramatic production difficult.

The Homecoming play usually presented at the high school presents its own set of problems. Dramatists are, naturally, restricted on their rehearsals at the high school, must pay for the use of the high school auditorium, and must rent back-drops from Philadelphia. Our "flats" are not big enough for that large stage. And there is the additional bother of travelling between high school and college.

The second semester play is usually presented in the AA of the Baugher Student center. Although Mr. Roscher is always most cooperative about sharing the gym, that location too presents problems. The players must schedule their practices between gym classes, baseball practices, and other meetings held in the gym. Often they must rehearse with the curtains closed.

Scenery is another problem. There is no adequate place for the Thespians to paint or store their "flats." Right now they are stored in the cellar of Fairview Hall.

Sock and Buskin, E-town's dramatic society, every year, produces a Homecoming Play, two chance dramas, several student-directed one-act plays, and usually a May Day or Christmas play.

Sock and Buskin met for the first time in 1930 at the home of Dr. Ralph Schlosser. At that time, dramatics was considered a very liberal activity. The society has had a "hard luck" career. There used to be a regulation saying that any person wishing to join the organization would have to present a speech in front of the present members. If one member did not accept him, he was permanently black-balled. Presently, members of Sock and Buskin earn their membership by a well-defined point system.

The Chancel Players, another group, present two plays every year. This year the Chancel Players have performed every week since November 4, except vacations.

The student one-act plays have been called, "the best builder of interest in dramatics here." They encourage new people to become interested in both acting and stage work. The plays are directed by pairs of students.

The desires of the E-town Thespians are not impossible or even improbable. They desire a small auditorium, one that would seat about 250 people—just a place that would be solely for dramatics. It could be added as a section to one of the other projected buildings. The problem deserves consideration by both College and students.

WORTH TRYING?

(No. 2)

The alumni Bulletin will be issued as a second quarter mailing piece this year and will carry the names and addresses of the February, June, and August (tentative list) graduates.

The inside back cover page will also carry the names and addresses of the eighteen alumni chapters. This Bulletin will represent more than reading matter; it can serve, in the accountants' language, as a worksheet.

The release of this Bulletin is advantageously timed for the local chapters and the alumni in general. For the interested and alerted chapter officer, the work begins with the examination of the names and addresses of these 1964 graduates; the job is to identify persons who reside in the local chapter.

Then begins the follow-up. Among these possibilities is that of communicating with new alumni. A congratulatory note on graduation and an invitation to attend chapter meeting should be sent promptly. A simple initiatory rite into the deeper mysteries of the Order of Jay Birds (all alumni) might be appropriate, too.

The Alumni Association does write a letter of commendation, does issue life membership cards, and does wish the graduate success in his newly acquired position. But this procedure is institutional in character. A neighborly letter, which springs from the home town or area, accents the home touch and provides a personal tone which the general association cannot give.

This followup, then, provides continuity in the transition from the academic pursuit to the graduate's newly acquired work. The transition from student to an active and loyal alumnus is not automatic.

In fact, loyalty may not even be presumed. It must be won somewhere along the line of educational processing. A prompt and appropriate followup, then, should bring rewards to the local chapter, the general alumni association, Ruth Alicia, born April 29, arrived at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Roy E. McAuley, 307 College Avenue, Elizabethtown.

BRIEFS

Frank Hurley, -62, is pursuing work in Gas-dynamics of the Aero Department at Princeton University which leads to a Master of Science in Engineering degree.

Ann D. Snyder, '61, RD 3, York, will attend a Spanish summer institute. The institute is sponsored by the National Defense Education Act at Gannon College, Erie, from June 22 to August 8. Last summer, Miss Snyder toured Ecuador for two weeks with a Brethren Mission tour.

Janet H. Walton, '64 is enrolled in the Merrill-Palmer Institute, Detroit Michigan. The institute provides study in human growth and development, family life, and community organization.

Linda Eshelman, '63, Wilmington, Delaware, was reported as being in the number 16 position in open competition in the Middle States Lawn Tennis Association.

Dr. John H. Stauffer, '49, Mt. Joy, was elected president of the Lancaster County Optometric Society at a meeting of the Society on May 11. He is also a delegate to the Pennsylvania Optometric Association Convention scheduled at Hershey, May 24 to 26.

James M. Martin '39, a teacher of English and American literature in the Annville-Cleona High School, has received a fellowship in the American Studies Program to be held this summer at Eastern Baptist College, St. Davids, suburban Philadelphia. The fellowship, provided by the William Robertson Coe Foundation of New York, engages the recipient in an intensive study of American history, literature, and culture during a five-week period from July 6 to August 8.

More Chapters?

By C. G. Enterline

During the past month, the alumni secretary received three inquiries about alumni chapters in widely scattered areas. One inquiry came from north central Pennsylvania; another one from Ohio, and still another from Michigan. These questions suggested a study of concentration of alumni in areas where chapters do not exist.

In light of the limited investigation, a number of chapters are suggested. One of these is in southern Michigan where thirty-three alumni of the more recent vintage reside. Twenty-five of these are scattered through the classes ranging from '40 to '63; the rest range from the class of '17 through '36.

Another possibility is a chapter in northeastern Ohio and another in southwestern Ohio. Sixty-five alumni are about evenly divided between Cleveland-Akron and Cincinnati-Dayton areas.

An inquiry from Muncy, Pennsylvania, indicates that, if sufficient interest develops, a chapter might be organized in an area bounded by Ogdensburg, Lock Haven, Milton, Bloomsburg, and Red Rock.

According to office records, thirty alumni reside in this area. Numbers do not make chapters. Interest, enthusiasm, good fellowship and friendship, and loyalty are the critical factors.

A concentration of alumni in Los Angeles suggests another chapter. Approximately 35 are located in La Verne-Los Angeles and twenty-six are scattered northward from this point. An opportune time for this group to organize would be one day after the college presidents close their San Francisco meeting in October. Local alumni could honor Dr. Roy E. McAuley by inviting him to such a meeting in Los Angeles-La Verne area. An anticipated date is Saturday, October 3, 1964.

Each of the areas named — Ohio, north central Pennsylvania, Michigan, California — are being polled for interest and support in the organization of proposed chapters. Five or six enthusiastic alumni in a given area constitute a sufficient number to promote a new chapter. The returns will indicate what the prospects are for extending alumni chapters from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Especially For Alumni...

By HIRAM J. FRYINGER
President, Alumni Association

This marks another anniversary for each Alumnus of Elizabethtown College. No matter if it is the 50th, the 25th, the 10th or the first, I am sure fond memories are associated with the years spent at Elizabethtown College.

We are indeed happy to welcome such a large number from the class of 1964 into the ranks of the Alumni.

We were very happy to have such a large number return to the College for the special Convocation programs in early April and on other occasions during the spring months. I am sure with all the reported activities, the new library addition, also the addition to the dining room in Myer Hall, the new men's dorm as well as the relocation of the athletic fields that many others will want to visit the campus and meet with the members of your class as the various reunions are scheduled.

Even if your class is not scheduled for a reunion, come to Elizabethtown College for Alumni Day on May 30.

It has been a privilege to serve as your president, particularly at a time when the College is so actively engaged in a development program. Many of you have already been contacted or are about to be to aid the College on its Pathway to Fulfillment.

I wish for the new president and all of the officers that you have chosen your full support throughout the coming year.

Faculty Beat

Profs To Spend Year of Study

Three Elizabethtown College faculty will take a year's leave of absence to continue their studies, and a fourth will continue his leave, Pres. Roy E. McAuley has announced.

Richard T. Hise, instructor in business, will begin work on a doctorate in marketing at Michigan State University, East Lansing.

R. Bruce Lehr, assistant professor of sociology, will spend the year at Indiana University, Bloomington, working on a doctorate in anthropology.

Dr. H. V. Rao, assistant professor of biology, has accepted an invitation to be in charge of the laboratories of Dr. Davis P. Block in the department of botany at the University of Texas, Austin.

R. Lee Byers, assistant professor of engineering, who has been working on his doctorate at the Pennsylvania State University this term, will continue his work there during the next term.

President McAuley, in making the announcement said, "The college recognizes the importance of academic growth among its faculty members and is happy to grant leaves each year to a segment of the staff."

The 1964-65 academic term at Elizabethtown College will extend from September 14, 1964, through May 30, 1965.

Three E-town College Profs to Return After Sabbatical Leaves

Two department heads and an assistant professor will return to Elizabethtown College next term following leaves of absence granted to them for the present academic year, president Roy E. McAuley has announced.

Dr. Robert A. Byerly, professor of Bible and philosophy and director of religious activities, will resume his duties here following a year in Europe as director of the Brethren Colleges Abroad program, which this year is responsible for 27 students attending universities in Marburg, Germany, and Strasbourg, France.

Edgar T. Bitting, associate professor of business, returns from a year with the CPA firm of Lybrand, Ross Bros. and Montgomery, Philadelphia. He is completing the requirements for CPA certification.

Miss Zoe G. Proctor, assistant professor of chemistry will return from a year of work on her doctorate at the University of Delaware.

Dr. Byerly and Bitting are the heads of their respective departments.

Mrs. C. G. Enterline On Pennsylvania Council

Mrs. C. G. Enterline, associate professor of English and dramatics instructor at Elizabethtown College, has been appointed to the Council for Dramatic Arts and Theatre of the Pennsylvania Speech Association.

Formerly a member of the high school branch while teaching in the public schools, Mrs. Enterline resigned the post when she took her position at Elizabethtown College in 1956. She will serve a three-year term on the council.

Prof's Wife Citizen

Mrs. Joseph P. (Margit) Zaccano, formerly a citizen of Austria, became a U. S. citizen May 1. Ceremonies were held at the Dauphin County Courthouse as part of the "Law Day" program.

Miss Margie Hollinger and Mr. David Ferrell, chosen as Actress and Actor of the Year. The awards were presented at the Honors Assembly on May 13.

Ferrell, Miss Hollinger Get Top Acting Awards

David Ferrell and Marjorie Hollinger received acting awards at the annual awards day here at Elizabethtown College on May 13. They were chosen for the award on the basis of their play participation and quality of performance.

The annual Elizabethtown College best actor and actress awards, which Ferrell and Miss Hollinger received are determined by a vote of the members of Sock and Buskin Club, the drama club of the college. They were elected by the club from their senior members graduating this year.

Marjorie, who has been active in drama at Elizabethtown, for four years, started her college acting career in the traveling play Abraham and Isaac followed by performances in The Matchmaker, Laura, Opel Harvey, and Spring Dance. Said Miss Hollinger, "I am deeply indebted to Sock and Buskin for this wonderful honor, and I thank all the members for many memorable experiences."

David in all modesty said, "I personally didn't expect to get the award; actually, there are many other seniors who deserve it. It is an honor." David has been seen in The Matchmaker, Spring Dance, Enemy of the People, and the traveling plays Eyes Upon the Cross and Between Two Thieves. He was student director of Opel, and has directed two one act plays. Presently, he is president of Sock and Buskin.

Marjorie will be teaching second grade starting next September. David will be entering graduate school at Temple University next September with a major in speech and drama.

Much Study On Agenda For Profs' Summers

The tables are turned for the faculty during the summer months — times for study, research, and courses. The students may be taking a break from the studies during the summer, but for the faculty, study is long-sought "relaxation."

The teaching profession seems to be a full-time job for most professors and instructors here at Elizabethtown College. Of the faculty polled on the question of summer occupations, study, research and teaching are the most prominent concerns.

Dr. John Ranck, assistant professor of chemistry, will attend a summer program of research sponsored by the National Science Foundation. His project will involve the desalination of sea water, and the work will take him to the University of California.

Professor Bossier, head of the Math Department, will be attending an eight-week mathematics institute for college teachers at Rutgers University. He received a grant for this eight-week institute from the National Science Foundation.

Professor Hubert Custer, head of the Physics Department, will also attend an eight-week institute. The institute will be in nuclear science and will be held at Washington State University.

Postman Helps Unite Alumni

Recently the postman left two alumni ETOWNIANS at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Graham '50, 626 Longview Drive, Baltimore 28, Maryland.

One of the copies belonged to Mrs. John Herr (Theresa Mohler '52), 307 Harlem Lane, Baltimore 28. Mrs. Graham in a very neighborly fashion walked around the corner to the intersecting street and delivered the ETOWNIAN to Mrs. Herr. Mrs. Graham was pleasantly surprised to find the former Theresa Mohler.

The Grahams and the Herrs were unaware of the fact that they were neighbors. Thus the postman helped unite the alumni family. Both families were present at the Baltimore Chapter Meeting, May 2.

Hosts Classmates

Nancy Wolfgang, '63, RD No. 5, York, entertained her classmates at her home during the weekend of April 17. Friends started gathering after dinner and continued until midnight.

Present at the weekend get-together were: Joanne Metzler, Manheim; Barbara Korns, Beaver Falls; Doris Weir, Richboro; Shirley Watters, Jarrettsville, Maryland; and Lisa Emery, Atlantic Highlands, New Jersey. Present also was Mrs. Mary Cox, their former house-mother.

Chapter Roundup

By C. G. Enterline

The college staff was well represented in chapter meetings held in Baltimore, South Jersey, and York on Saturday, May 2. D. Paul Greene interested York alumni with a review of his ten years of experience as an admissions officer.

Theodore Roscher and Donald Smith and their respective families visited the South Jersey alumni, and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Enterline met with the Baltimore group.

BALTIMORE

Approximately thirty-five alumni enjoyed a dinner meeting at Gaskins Restaurant on "Route 40, West" under the leadership of Curtis W. Dubble, '49. The social mixer, headed by Anna Mary Dubble and Leon Henise, '50, established fellowship quickly. David J. Markey '47, and Clyde R. Shallenberger '49, with their "A.C.," "D.C." and "E.C." currents reviewed the prank side of their college days. Audience contact was excellent and the alumni left the meeting with laughter rippling on the Maryland highways and byways.

Officers for 1964-65 are Daniel C. Haldeman, '47, RD No. 1, Roger Avenue, Ellicott City, Md., president; Dale Hylton '51, RD No. 2, Herndon Virginia, vice president; Mrs. Arthur J. Risser '39, 6236 The Alameda, Baltimore, Md., secretary; Leon E. Henise '50, 850 Edgedale Road, Towson, Md., treasurer.

YORK

The York chapter reported that the 1964 meeting was one of the most enjoyable. D. Paul Greene, director of admissions of the college, reviewed his ten years' work in ten minutes and then left a period for questioning. President Earl Ziegler had to call off his inquisitors; the barrage of questions became overwhelming.

The group met at the Fireside Coffee Shoppe, Whiteford Road. Dr. Norman F. Reber '30, served as toastmaster. Romaine G. Dushman '58, gave two vocal numbers.

Officers for 1964-65 are: president, Mrs. Margaret Lehman '51, RD No. 2, Glen Rock; secretary, Elton R. Abel '56, RD No. 2, Spring Grove; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Joyce Hamme '54, 205 N. Main Street, Spring Grove. Members elected to the executive council were: Mrs. Nancy Gible '60, 1751 Monroe Street, York; Mrs. Helen Neiser '48, 1832 Church Road, York, and Jeanette L. Espenshade '41, 415 Wise Avenue, Red Lion.

SOUTH JERSEY

Alumni of South Jersey featured "athletic men" in their dinner meeting at Moffa's Farm, Blenheim. Coach Smith narrated the film of 1963-64 M.A.C. Basketball championship game and the playoff games on Long Island.

The chapter presented Coach Smith a desk pen set and Director Roscher a plaque. Present also as guest and award recipient was William Foster '54, former athletic star at Elizabethtown College and now coach at Rutgers University.

Officers of the chapter are: Robert Goudie, '57, 10 Wedgewood Place, Gibbsboro, president; Madelyn Brightbill, '59, Market and Maple Sts., Gloucester, vice-president; and JoAnne Robinson, '62, 320 Lake Ave., Pitman, secretary-treasurer.

HARRISBURG

Members of the Harrisburg Chapter saw films of the Blue Jays playing in the NCAA Eastern Regional Basketball Tournament at their April 18 meeting in the Ridgeway Community Church of the Brethren, Harrisburg.

They also heard Hiram J. Fry-singer, '29, president of the Alumni Association, and Dr. Roy E. McAuley, president of the College, and some were door prize winners.

Other representatives of the College present were Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Enterline, Robert Young, Mrs. McAuley, and Mrs. Yeingst.

Door prize winners were Kenneth Miller, '57; Bertha (Groff) Graham, '34; Barbara Marjolf, '60; Rita (Zug) Shearer, '56; Carl Martin, Shirley (Young) Uhazie, '54; John Ferich, Jr., '56; and

North Jersey Plans Picnic

Dr. and Mrs. M. Alexander Glasmire '37, 23 Oakridge Road, West Orange, New Jersey, are planning an alumni picnic on the Drew University Campus, Madison, on Sunday, June 28, from 2:00-8:00 p.m.

The program committee is inviting members of the Class of 1964 and freshmen who are entering Elizabethtown College in September. Although the program is not completely set up, the chapter is inviting college staff to report on activities on the home front.

Present officers of the North Jersey group are: president, M. Alexander Glasmire '37; vice president, Helen (Shertzer) Glasmire '37; secretary-treasurer, Miss Marguerite Brown '59.

Lehigh Valley Meets July 18

The Reverend and Mrs. (Shirley Diehl, '54) William Ellsworth, '53, 313 E. 10th St., Northampton, have announced a meeting of the Lehigh Valley Chapter on Saturday, July 18.

Alumni in the area are asked to note the date and look for additional details, which will be available soon.

Mrs. Ellsworth is president of the chapter. Other officers are Ruth K. Koch, '61, 1141 Seventh St., Fullerton, vice president; Mrs. Richard O. Wagner, '59, 782 Mohawk St., Allentown, secretary; and William Withers, '50, 318 N. 14th St., Allentown, treasurer.

Class of '39 Plans Meeting

The Class of 1939 is planning a reunion at Schrafft's Restaurant, Arrowhead Room, on Route 222 at the Reading-Lancaster Turnpike Interchange on Saturday, June 20, at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Marion Bardell Long, 2239 Marietta Avenue, Rohrerstown, Pennsylvania has announced the following program:

Master of Ceremonies — Class President — Harold M. Saylor.

Invocation — Rev. William Gould.

Dinner.

Instrumental music.

Introduction of Guests and Faculty — President Saylor.

Faculty Greetings — Dr. Aaron Briedenstine.

Special Greetings — Dr. Ralph W. Schlosser.

Vocal Music by College Alumni Group.

Address — "A Quarter Century of Change" — Dr. Joseph R. Wiebush, Professor Chemistry, U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland.

Movies and slides of 1949 and 1959 Picnics.

Members of the class may be prepared to give in one minute—

My Most Outstanding Event at E'town College — be it serious, inspirational, humorous, or dull.

Marsh (Graham) Alandar, '60.

Officers elected for the 1964-65 term are Mrs. Graham, 106 Susquehanna Ave., Enola, president; Ferich, 403 Pine St., Steelton, vice president; Mary (Jackson) Miller, '56, 306 Maple Road, Oak Hills, Middletown, secretary; and Melvin F. Longenecker, '56, 3215 Brookfield Rd., Harrisburg, reporter.

"Coach" Boyer Honored

CHAMPIONS—Barry Boyer, '62 (right), coach of the Nazareth High School basketball team, which captured the championship of the Lehigh-Northampton League this year, shares weight of game ball with team co-captains Mike Lilly and Glen Engler. To Boyer's right stands Blue Jay Coach Don Smith, another 1964 champion, and a former mentor of Boyer's. Smith, who coached basketball at Nazareth prior to joining the staff here in 1954, was featured speaker at event honoring Boyer and the Nazareth team on April 24. Boyer racked up 1,067 points for Elizabethtown College teams before his graduation two years ago.

Golfers Go Winless (0-5) But Improvement Shown

The Elizabethtown College linkmen completed their exhibition golf season on Tuesday, May 5 by bowing to the Dickinson Red Devils, 12½ to 5½. Point winners for the Jays were Tom Clark, 2, Jim Stanley, 2, and Ron Boltz, 1½.

On Monday, May 4 the Jay golfers dropped an 11-4 decision to Hershey Junior College at the Hershey Park course. Picking up points in this match for the Jays were: Tom Clark, 1; Dennis Woolf, ½; Don Hopson, ½; Jim Stanley, 2.

The Birds collided with a powerful Dickinson team on April 27 and suffered a 16½ to 1½ defeat. Tom Clark garnered one point and Jim Stanley picked up a half point for the visiting Birds.

Coach Roscher summed up the season's work by saying, "Considering everything we did fairly well. You will notice that the second time we played a team we usually did better than the first time."

The first year golf mentor also revealed that he has seven opponents lined up to battle the Jays next spring. Some of these opponents include Dickinson, Western Maryland, Muhlenberg and Susquehanna. The home course for the locals will again be the Hershey Park course.

Professors Nevin Fisher, Armon Snowden, and Carl Zeigler will be attending the National Conference of the Church of the Brethren in Lincoln, Nebraska, along with other plans.

Other professors are planning interesting summers around the state and country. Dr. Lasky is planning to work as a staff psychologist at the Harrisburg State Hospital.

Professor Fisher will be preparing for a recital in the fall. The program will include his own vocal compositions.

Doctors Charles and Bessie Appar plan to travel this summer. Although they are undecided at this time, their trip will probably take them either up or down the eastern seaboard.

Professor Elmer Hoover will be spending two weeks at Camp Pickett as a chaplain major along with his duties here at Elizabethtown as a teacher. Professor Henry Libhart will be painting, teaching at the college, and presenting a television course on the fine arts on WGAL-TV this summer.

Most of the professors mentioned will be taking small trips, and for many this means a trip to the World's Fair.

Ball Team On Title Trail After 2 Wins Over Juniata

A third Middle Atlantic Conference championship for Elizabethtown College this year loomed as a distinct possibility as the baseball team braced for its final three games.

Tennis Teams Under .500, Losing Ground

Elizabethtown College's men's and women's tennis teams continued to be plagued by losses as they headed for the home stretch in the middle of May.

The men, after a creditable start in which they won two of their first four matches, have dropped four in row and stood at 2-6 following an 8-1 loss at Muhlenberg on May 13.

They had a home meet left against Juniata and two road contests at Albright and Ursinus with no chance of breaking even on the season.

Only the doubles combo of Warren White and Gary Danielson could muster a point at Muhlenberg. At Juniata a week earlier, the Jays led 4-2 going into the doubles competition and then proceeded to lose all three and the match, 5-4.

The women, playing with five freshmen and two sophomores, were also finding the victories hard to come by. After winning the opener against Moravian, they dropped four in succession, the last prior to ETOWNIAN deadlines being a 7-0 whitewashing at East Stroudsburg.

A home match with Shippensburg on May 15 was to close out the season.

Leaders of the Northern College Division with a 9-0 mark in conference play, the Blue Jays were scheduled with Moravian away, Albright away, and Ursinus at home prior to the regular season's end. Moravian, another title hopeful, was at 7-2 as of May 14.

Elizabethtown made everyone "sit up and take notice" on May 9, when a highly rated and undefeated Juniata nine moved in for a double header and moved out with two losses.

The Indians had matched the Jays game for game in the win-loss column and were sporting three pitchers who had allowed no earned runs prior to the trip to E-town.

But the Jays' Gene Marderness silenced their bats for six innings of the first game while Dave Myers and Tony McGlaughlin paved the way to a 4-0 led. Then, in the final frame, when Marderness tired and the Indians touched him for three tallies, McGlaughlin came in to shut the door and preserve the victory.

In the second game Juniata jumped out to a 3-1 lead when Don Sheppard, one of their best hitters, pumped a homer over the left field fence with two on in the second against E-town starter John Suffel.

The Jays tied it in their half of the second, dropped behind by one in the sixth, and tied it again in the bottom of the sixth when McGlaughlin, who relieved again in the top of the sixth, slammed a homerun.

With the score deadlocked the game went into overtime, and by the eighth inning, Juniata's ace hurler, Don Engle, who had lost his first in five decisions in the opener, was back on the mound.

It all ended in the ninth when Suffel, who had stayed on at first base after being relieved on the mound, ripped one over the left centerfield fence with one on and two out. Engle took his second loss of the day, and McGlaughlin got the win.

Thus the Jays held undisputed possession of first place in the Northern Division. They had previously beaten Lebanon Valley for the second time and had been rained out with Scranton.

On May 13 a two inning 1-1 affair at Lycoming was washed out to set the scene for the three season-enders.

A College Division championship in the MAC would round out a banner sports year at Elizabethtown — a year in which the Jays also copped the MAC crown in two other major sports, soccer and basketball.

The suggested procedure would lend encouragement to the discouraged and the feeling of relatedness to the estranged in the world of work. True, we have an insufficient number of chapters to cover all alumni, but we have a sufficient number to make a beginning.

Another item of work comes from the list of chapter officers. This suggests that chapters might delegate alumni in one area to visit other chapter activities for ideas. It suggests, too, increased correspondence among chapter personnel. We might even try inter-chapter programs.

A distinguished professor in one of our larger universities frequently said, "Whatever is educationally desirable must be made administratively possible." Can we stretch this principle to include alumni work? Is it worth trying?

the yearbook, The Conestogan. This year she is associate editor of the yearbook.

The 14 winners were announced in the May 11 issue of the American Chemical Society weekly.

The students are being honored for successfully combining high scholastic achievement with participation in extra curricular activities, such as athletics, dramatics, and student government.

The Chemical and Engineering News Merit Awards are presented annually. Each of this year's winners, chosen from 56 nominees by a board of prominent academic and industrial chemists, will receive an inscribed scroll in a special ceremony at a meeting of the American Chemical Society local section in his area.

Cited for "providing inspiration and encouragement to all students interested in scientific and engineering careers," the winners come from the California Institute of Technology, Columbia Union College (Takoma Park, Md.) Elizabethtown College, Howard University, Lehigh University, Louisiana State University, The Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Southeast Missouri State College, Texas Technological College, Texas Woman's University, the University of Colorado, the University of Michigan, the University of Notre Dame, and the University of Pennsylvania.

He became assistant basketball coach at Kutztown in 1958 and assumed the role of assistant baseball coach there in 1960.

Tully took graduate work at Penn State and is now completing his work on a master's degree at West Chester State College.

At Mohnton he also taught health and English and coached track, football, and soccer at one time or another over the last 20 years.

Roscher said that the college will inaugurate varsity swimming for the 1965-66 season with a schedule of about ten meets. He hopes to arrange six meets for next year's junior varsity teams.

"We have excellent pool facilities in the Student Center, and I'm sure we have the student interest to make a bigger swimming program worthwhile," Roscher said.

Wise Will Coach MSC Soccer Team

Gene Wise, a former soccer standout at Elizabethtown College, has been named head coach of the soccer team at Millersville State College.

Wise is a member of the faculty at Penn Manor High School, Millersville. He graduated here in 1959.

TEN HONOR GRADS

College Grants Degrees to 169

Elizabethtown College graduated 166 students and granted three honorary doctor's degrees during its Baccalaureate-Commencement exercises held in the Hershey Community Theatre, May 31.

Dr. Max Lerner, noted author and professor of American Civilization at Brandeis University, told the graduating class that this generation has been given "a chance to end poverty, bigotry, and ignorance for the first time."

Among the 166 graduates were ten who received their degrees with honor. Graduating magna cum laude were Linda Kay Young, McClure; Robert O. Kerr, Aliquippa; and Anne M. Keuhnelian, Franklin.

Honorary degrees were presented to Clair R. McCollough, president and general manager of WGAL AM-FM-TV, Lancaster; David H. Porter, assistant superintendent of schools in Harrisburg; the Rev. John D. Long, pastor of the Lancaster Church of the Brethren.

Degree candidates were presented by Dr. Jacob E. Hershman, dean; degrees were conferred upon the graduates by Dr. Roy E. McAuley, president of the college.

The commencement exercises highlighted a big year-end week at the college. Alumni Day was celebrated Saturday on the campus with 12 classes holding special reunions. Earlier in the week final examinations concluded the term for undergraduates.

A reception honoring the graduating class was held in the.

Max Lerner

Cocoa Inn, Hershey, following the graduation program.

Lerner, speaking on the topic, "Education and the Image of Man," stated that he would rather live in the current era, with all its tensions and complications, than in any of the so-called "Golden Ages of History."

"I am neither an optimist nor a pessimist — I'm a possibilist," he said in emphasizing that since problems of war, poverty, and the like are man-made, they can therefore be solved by man.

Discussing equal rights he said, "If there is one word which is the essence of American civilization, it is 'Access.' People aren't born equal, but they should have equal opportunity to develop their unequal abilities."

Lerner concluded: "If we can develop an elan — a creative minority — we can shape the future. If we don't, bloodier hands than ours shall reach out for it and grasp it."

Dean's List Honors 81

Eighty-one students have been named to the Dean's List of Honor for the second semester of the 1963-64 academic term, according to Dr. Jacob E. Hershman, dean.

Eighteen of the honor students earned perfect 4.0 averages. Students must earn at least a 3.5 average for the marking period to receive Dean's List honors.

James E. Oberholtzer, Elizabethtown, senior; M. Barry Shaffer, Quakertown, sophomore; Esther E. Strehle, Sellersville, senior; and Linda K. Young, McClure, senior.

Others named to the Dean's List are:

Seniors — Robert W. Bumback, Middletown; Edward B. Bruno, Harrisburg; Elizabeth H. deVitty, Bainbridge; Diana L. Dibert, Enola; John B. Dickey, Greencastle; Elaine Flemming, Syosset, N. New Officers Installed At Alumni Day Dinner

A national holiday and a dearth of intercollegiate sports activity cut into attendance at the otherwise successful Alumni Day held here on May 30.

Council Member

Highlighting the program was the Senior-Alumni Dinner held in the Alumni Auditorium of the Baugher Student Center on Saturday evening.

Hiram J. Frysinger concluded his term as president of the Association by passing the gavel on to Paul M. Grubb, Jr., Elizabethtown. Also inducted were K. Ezra Bucher, Elizabethtown, vice president; James M. Miller, Jr., Madison, N. J., and Alta W.

Roudabush, Johnstown, council members; and Carl G. Herr, Lancaster, who had been elected to his second term as a trustee of the College.

Featured speaker at the dinner was Otto W. Ferrene, special consultant for Marts and Lundy, Inc. A special award, the Alumni Chair, was presented to C. G. Enterline, for his many years of service to the Alumni Association.

Mrs. Bessie Horst Cashman, one of four members of the Class of 1914, celebrating its 50th anniversary, presented a monetary gift to the College on behalf of the class. President Roy E. McAuley accepted the gift.

Earlier in the day alumni were on hand for an open house in the Student Center, a faculty social, and class reunions. Of those classes holding special reunions, the Classes of 1924 and 1939 had the best attendance.

THREE MORE ALUMNI—Receiving honorary doctor's degrees at College's commencement exercises held May 31 in the Hershey Community Theatre were (l. to r.) Clair R. McCollough, David H. Porter, and the Rev. John D. Long. Some 166 students received bachelor's degrees during the ceremonies, which featured Dr. Max Lerner, noted author and lecturer, as main speaker.

Summer Session I Enrolls 350

A record 350 students have enrolled for Summer Session I at Elizabethtown College, according to Dr. O. F. Stambaugh, director of summer sessions.

The college's summer program opened June 15 with 36 courses and several special workshops on the schedule. Session I will run through July 17; Session II will begin July 20 and end August 21.

"We don't have exact registration figures as yet," Dr. Stambaugh said, "but we know that enrollment for the first session has surpassed by about 50 the previous high of 306 enrolled for the first session last summer."

About 30 faculty members are on the teaching staff for the summer sessions.

Elizabethtown College opened the fall semester last September with 1,021 students enrolled, also a record. A slight increase is expected for the start of the 1964-65 term this fall.

The Alumni Magazine (1963-64 Bulletin No. 4) was expected to be received from the printers by June 20 and will be in the mail by the end of the month. Featured in the 28-page volume are a story on campus construction and coverage of the "Pathway to Fulfillment" Convocation which honored 21 distinguished alumni. Watch for your copy early in July.

From The Secretary's Angle

By C. G. ENTERLINE
Executive Secretary, Alumni Association

WORTH TRYING?—No. 3

Any observer at the Senior-Alumni banquet on May 30 would have noticed the relatively few seniors present. Of the four class officers, one was able to be at the head table.

This situation, from the secretary's point of view, carries a suggestion for the Alumni Association. It is this: let the association relate itself earlier and more effectively with underclassmen to encourage class spirit.

No criticism is directed toward the Class of 1964 for the presence of barely three dozen seniors. There are many reasons for a slim attendance when Memorial Day and Alumni Day coincide; the seniors had a jam-packed week of activities; parents and graduates had their own social schedule of events; attendance is not compulsory; the day of freedom, release from academic discipline had arrived.

There is no magic in numbers and perhaps it is unreasonable to expect a larger number under the circumstances.

The public relations committee is making an effort to high-light Senior-Alumni Day. It has distributed a folder which introduces the Alumni Association to the students; at least two chapters have invited freshmen entering college in September and the 1964 graduates to their activities; the Association has given plastic paper weights which carry the seal of the College to seniors who attended the Senior-Alumni banquet; the Association will distribute alumni folders to the entering class this fall.

These procedures are not enough to establish a class spirit. Perhaps specific classes have been given too limited opportunities to create their own entertainment. Classes may be tied to too few projects of their own in the course of their college careers.

A specific suggestion is that of co-sponsoring activities which will encourage class spirit. Evidence of class spirit is reflected in the Tug-of-War across Lake Placida on Homecoming Day.

Another example is the Class of 1939 which responded very well on Alumni Day; the same class is having a show of their own this month. Could the Association sponsor class talent activities, involving drama, athletics, music, research?

These suggestions do not mean that the Association would run the social, cultural, or educational schedules of the students; it does suggest an opportunity, however, for the Alumni Association to co-operate with the college in providing opportunities for classes to develop class spirit so that more and more we shall hear, "Our class did it!"

At first, this might look like division in the ranks. In spite of class independence, there still remains a togetherness, a group loyalty to the College.

Another area for consideration is the large commuting population. Many times the off-campus student is involved in travel, and his participation in specific class activities is curtailed correspondingly.

Whatever the approach, the result should be one of increased and improved motivation toward the development of class spirit.

Shall we place the Senior-Alumni dinner earlier on the schedule of campus activities?

What activities can the Association and the College sponsor which will improve class spirit?

What untried activities are worthy of consideration and execution?

Shall we continue our exploration?

Especially For Alumni...

By Paul M. Grubb, Jr., '55
President, Alumni Association

On May 30, when past president, Hiram J. Frysinger handed me the gavel—a symbolic act of passing alumni leadership on to me—I sensed the challenge which goes with the office of the president of the Alumni Association.

I could look back; I could read the minutes to discover what the association has done; I could delegate my responsibility to others completely. This step, however, would make for a static situation.

June 1, 1964, is the beginning of another year in the Alumni Association—the sixtieth. Sixty years, generally speaking, implies maturity. As such it suggests the use of good judgment, a forward look, adaptation to changing situations. As I view the future of the association, I see an opportunity to expand our activities and projects.

Through the co-operation of committees, which I shall name soon; through co-operation with the College and the Alumni Association; through active leadership throughout our eighteen chapters, we can continue to achieve.

I am listing here a few items which might deserve attention:

1. Establish the office of second vice president.
2. Improve and intensify good relations between seniors and the Alumni Association. For instance, permit a senior to bring a friend to the Senior-Alumni dinner.

3. Think seriously of setting up a seminar, a lecture period on Alumni Day for alumni who have a common interest. To start, ONE area of interest would be enough.

4. Encourage classes to meet once a year or at regular intervals as the Class of 1939 is doing this year. These dinner meetings would be separate from Alumni Day.

5. With the expansion of alumni organizations, perhaps a constitutional change is in order. Would council be better represented if local chapters elected their own councilmen?

6. (Build up list as you like)

These are leaps into the future. Any change should be based on need and not on the mere whim of an individual. As president, then, of the Elizabethtown College Alumni Association, I wish to serve effectively; to do this I need the constructive help from all officers in the local chapters, the considered judgments of the council, and productive effort on the part of all standing or special committees.

Let's make 1964-65 a big year in the Alumni Association.

Student Play Given In '53 Slated Again

In October 1953, the student body under the direction of Dr. Charles S. Apgar presented the play, "Joan of Lorraine." A repeat performance with a campus cast is set for the evening of Homecoming Day, Saturday, October 24, in the auditorium of the Elizabethtown Area High School.

According to Mrs. Mildred H. Enterline, director of the 1964 performance, the curtain call will bring on stage the cast of ten years ago. Through the alumni office, every participant in the performance of a decade ago will be invited to attend as guests of the Sock and Buskin Club.

Planned reunion activities after the play include a reception in the first floor lounge of the Baugher Student Center.

According to the program, the following persons participated ten years ago: Galen Herr, director of the college band; Jack D. Byers, '56; Jean (Roland) Moyer, '54; Patricia (Minnich) Miller, '56; Robert L. Aldinger, '54; Harold Daveler, '57; Charles M. Cobaugh, '56; Marigrace

Alumni Election Profile Revealed

By C. G. Enterline

While the tally committee was counting the votes for the various officers of the Alumni Association, it was suggested that we make certain observations about the voting practices of alumni.

It would be interesting to know exactly how many votes came from each chapter; since this study was made after the ballots were removed from the envelopes, we can only estimate the per cent of returns. We can, however, make the following statements:

1. The total votes cast for a single office was 926. The lowest number was 910. There were 16 ballots in which voting was incomplete; in these cases the voters failed to mark the ballot for female council member and alumni trustee for one reason or another. In short, the second half of the ballot did not receive attention. The potential voting power is approximately 4500.

2. K. Ezra Bucher '32, carried 65.1 percent of the votes for vice president; Dr. James M. Miller, Jr., '55, collected 54.2 percent of the votes for male council position. The keenest contest took place in the office of female council in which the range between low and high votes was 15; there was only one vote difference between the second and third positions. Alta (Weaver) Roudabush, '33, carried by 34.4 percent. To establish the winner, a recount of votes cast for this office was done. Carl G. Herr '38, the present alumni trustee who is eligible for a second term of office, pulled 38.3 percent of the votes for this office.

Dr. Kettering At CPA Event

Dr. Joseph W. Kettering, chairman of the College's Board of Trustees and one of 38 general partners of Main, Lafrentz and Co., worldwide accounting firm, attended the organization's all partners conference held at Pocono Manor recently.

Dr. Kettering is one of three general partners in the Harrisburg office. During the conference he participated in the company's national education committee meeting and in a discussion session on estate planning.

A graduate of Elizabethtown College in 1923, Dr. Kettering was the first person to receive a bachelor of science degree in economics from the College.

3. The total number of envelopes (not votes) received was 773. The difference between 773 and the highest number of votes (926) cast represents the spouses' votes. Mailings to married couples carried two ballots in one envelope.

The number of mailings received from Pennsylvania was 565; all except twelve came from chapter areas. Out-of-state returns numbered 208, which includes 111 from out-of-state chapters and one return from Italy. Note the sources of mailings in the distribution given below:

SOURCES OF VOTES CAST FOR ASSOCIATION OFFICERS—1964

Abroad	70	865
Totals	97	865

The following states reflected interest in voting as indicated:

Ohio	15	70
New York	14	91
Virginia	10	66
California	10	71
Indiana	6	32
Michigan	5	35

These states carry potential for chapter organization. Responses came also from nineteen other states.

RECAPITULATION

1. Number of alumni in chapter areas	3635
2. Per cent of alumni in chapter areas	80
3. Number of vote-mail pieces received from Pennsylvania	565
4. Mail pieces received from all sources	773
5. Per cent of mail pieces from Pennsylvania	73
6. Approximate number of alumni not related to chapters	870

Any comparison between number of envelopes received from the various areas and the number of alumni in related areas must be made indirectly, because the data are indirectly related. Nevertheless, certain questions might be asked:

1. Is there a tendency for more alumni to vote where chapters exist than where no chapters exist?

2. Baltimore, Washington, D. C., North Jersey, South Jersey, Lehigh Valley, Altoona-State-College, Schuylkill Valley, Eastern Shore are the younger chapters. What does their participation in voting for 1964 alumni officers show? Do the younger chapters reflect a better voting record?

3. Is there any relationship between voting activity and chapter activity? It would be interesting to know what age group is most active in voting from year to year.

There is no answer book for all questions. Nevertheless, the interested alumnus in pursuing these data, can ask additional questions and make certain observations about the voting response of the alumni body.

Three MAC Championships Accent Banner Sports Year

Booters Elect Tri-Captains

Elizabethtown College's soccer team, champions of the Middle Atlantic Conference, elected tri-captains for next season when it met recently to discuss rule changes.

The captains will be Tony McGlaughlin, Tom Speakman, and Ray Stern. All three will be seniors.

McGlaughlin has been a high scoring lineman through his three seasons as a Blue Jay booter. He racked up eight goals as a freshman, 21 as a sophomore, and 14 during the past season. He was named to the First Team All-MAC at center forward during each of the last two seasons.

Stern won honorable mention on the MAC team the last two years, and Speakman was named to the All NCAA Atlantic Coast Regional Tournament Team at center halfback last season.

The Blue Jays copped their second straight MAC crown and finished second in the NCAA Atlantic Coast Regional Tournament for the second consecutive year in 1963. They will open their 1964 slate here against Gettysburg on September 30.

7 Professors Get Promotions

Seven members of the faculty and staff have received promotions which will be in effect at the start of the 1964-65 term, Dr. Roy E. McAuley has announced. They are:

Miss Vera R. Hackman, dean of women and associate dean of students, promoted to rank of full professor.

Dr. Carl N. Shull, assistant professor of music and director of music education, to rank of associate professor.

Wilbur E. Weaver, assistant professor, to associate in auxiliary enterprises.

Miss Elinor Eastlack, assistant professor of business, to associate professor.

Kenneth L. Bowers, director of publications with rank of instructor, to assistant professor.

Jack L. Hedrick, instructor in chemistry, to assistant professor.

Miss Allegra Hess, instructor in health and physical education, to assistant professor.

It's Official

College Makes Sports History

ED. NOTE—The ELIZABETHTOWN CHRONICLE carried the following story in a recent edition as a result of information received from the publicity office of the Middle Atlantic Conference.

In a letter to the CHRONICLE from Glenn Dill, of Evans, Dill and Company, Wilmington, Delaware, Middle Atlantic Conference publicity directors, it was made official that no college in history had ever won MAC championships in its three major sports in one year before Elizabethtown College did it this past year.

The closest assault to that mark, Dill noted, was in 1959, when the University of Delaware captured the football and baseball crowns.

"Two teams — Lehigh and Delaware — have won three titles in single seasons, but not in major sports," Dill said.

Another sports year at Elizabethtown College has been recorded, and soon the volume of accomplishments will be filed away. But what a year it was! Blue Jay athletes racked up an unprecedented "Triple Crown" in the Middle Atlantic Conference and an overall record of 72-43-2.

Briefly, here's how it happened.

Chapter one deals with the appointment of a new Athletic Director. Theodore A. Roscher came to us from Cocalico Union High School to take over the reins which Lester Baum had held for two previous school years.

Roscher coached the cross-country team during the fall sports calendar to a 3-9 record. For the most part, the team was a young one and can be expected to do better next year and for years to come.

During the fall, however, Coach Owen Wright's soccer team held the spotlight as they marched to a MAC championship, and placed second in the NCAA Small College Soccer Tourney for the second year running. The team closed its very successful season with a 12-2 record.

Individual honors went to senior booter, Al Hershey, as he was named to a First Team All-American berth. Al's feat not only was tremendous personal achievement, but also marked a first for E-town.

The MAC bestowed first team honors to Hershey and Tony McGlaughlin while Ray Stern and Frank Zimmerman received honorable mentions.

Meanwhile, the Jaygals were recording a 5-3-1 record under new head coach Janice Nearing. In addition to their regular nine game slate, the girls also entertained an International squad of hockey players from various foreign countries.

Four of the Jaygals also received honors. Polly Provost and Louise Wenger were named to the Central Penn All-star field hockey squad's second team.

As winter came so did success for the college's sports program. Coach Donald P. Smith led his eagles to a 20-5 mark, an MAC championship and a second place finish in the Hofstra-er-NCAA Eastern Regionals. Highlighting the season was the breaking of the 100-point mark eight times.

Dan Reitmeyer scored his 1000th point on February 24th to become the sixth player in the school's history to do so. In addition Reitmeyer secured a berth on the MAC All-Northern College Division team.

Coach Roscher's grapplers concluded their best year in the school's history with a 7-3-1 seasonal log. A happy note here is that only two seniors, Capt. Gerry Greiner and John Hertzler will depart, leaving the Roschermen a large nucleus for next season.

The gals were not to be denied their share of glory, as they closed out their basketball season with a respectable 9-3 slate.

The spring athletes added another medal to the chest of the Blue Jay when the baseball team captured the Northern Division crown in the MAC. Because the season is short for all teams, no playoff is held between the two division winners for a conference title as in basketball.

Coach Owen Wright's Jays mopped up the laurels with an 11-1 log in the conference and a 13-5 record overall. That total count includes a split in an N.A.I.A. doubleheader against East Stroudsburg and Indiana State College at Mifflintown.

E-town avenged an earlier defeat to Stroudsburg by dumping the teachers 8-0 in the opener, but Indiana copped the District 30 championship with a 10-4 victory over the Jays in the second contest.

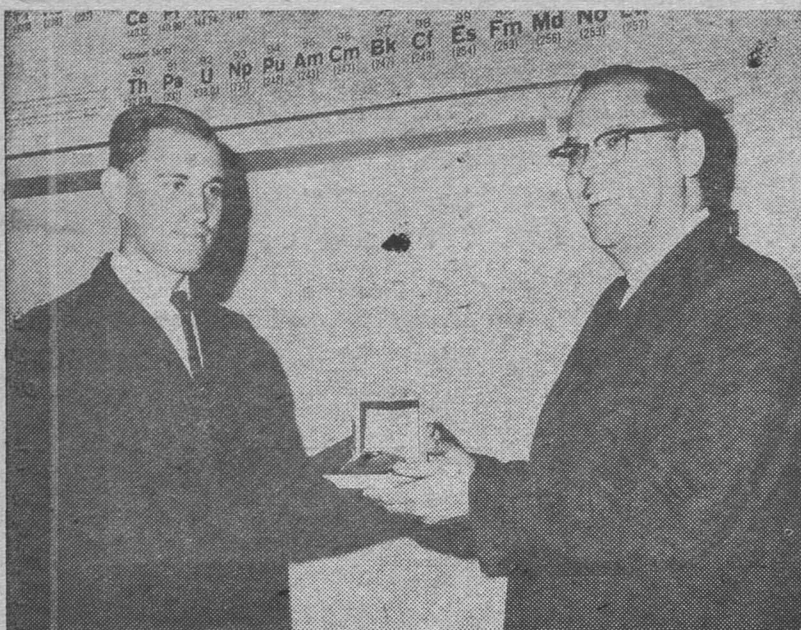

The Jays after clinching the division crown with an 8-1 win at Albright, ended the campaign after the N. A. I. A. twinbill with a 2-1 triumph over Ursinus here.

The tennis picture wasn't quite so bright. Coach Don Smith's squad won two of their first four but then dropped the last seven to finish with a 9-2 mark.

The women, under the direction of Miss Allegra Hess, played with five freshmen and two sophomores and had to settle with a 1-5 log.

An unofficial golf team coached by Roscher was winless in five scrimmages, but the crew of underclassmen on the squad showed real signs of promise for 1965, when the sport will be started officially.

Into this book has gone 34 weeks of hard work, sweat, tears, happiness, and pride of accomplishment. Many more years of wins and losses lie ahead. However, to the students of E.C. today, the Elizabethtown College 1963-64 Sports Journal will always be a "best seller."

WATCH AWARD—David Herbster (left) president of the Society for advancement of Management chapter on campus, receives watch from Pres. McAuley during recent public meeting of the chapter held in recognition of its achievement in new membership. Elizabethtown College was one of nine chapters across the nation cited for increase in membership; it now ranks eighth in the nation among 203 colleges and universities with 123 members. Hamilton Watch Company presented the watch to the chapter member most responsible for the membership increase.

Alumni Day Shorts

One alumni couple made their first "official visit" in fifty-two years.

Paul Grubb, Jr., in behalf of the Alumni Association, pinned a corsage of white carnations and pink rose buds on his grandmother, Mrs. Henry Ober, widow of past-president Ober, in appreciation of her sustained interest in Elizabethtown College.

President Hiram J. Frysinger did an excellent job on mediating the dinner program. The program concluded with the passing of gavel to the new President, Paul M. Grubb, Jr.

The Alumni Association presented the alumni chair to C. G. Enterline, alumni secretary.

Dinners served numbered 166.

Mr. Otto W. Ferrene in his address emphasized the need to be alert to the role which the small independent Christian college plays in our complex society.

The Class of '39 and the class of '24 were very well represented; 22 and 16 respectively.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Cashman '07 and '14 Eustis, Fla., were among those who traveled the greatest distance. In behalf of the 50th anniversary class, Mrs. Cashman presented Dr. Roy E. McAuley a check for $310 for the college at the dinner — a surprise item on the program. Other 50-year members present at the dinner were, Harry B. Brandt, C. P. Keefer, and Paul M. Landis.

Mrs. Paul Grubb, Jr., Mrs. David Willoughby '58, Mrs. Walton Moyer '54, and Mrs. D. Paul Rice '57, constitute a ladies' barbershop quartet. They performed delightfully at the dinner program.

At one point in the afternoon, the faculty outnumbered the Alumni in the "Meet-the-Faculty" hour. It is reported that the faculty consumed most of the free punch.

Reports from local alumni families who played host to members of their respective classes indicate an excellent attendance. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Landis '05 (Ruth Grubb '24), who reported 20 alumni present; Dr. and Mrs. Roy E. McAuley, 40, including families; Dr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Schlosser, 13 for Class of '04, '09, '14.

Souvenirs in the form of paper weights were distributed to the members of the Class of 1964 who

College Gets $92,000 Gift

Elizabethtown College has received a settlement of $92,000 from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for 14.6 acres of land in Manheim Township used in the construction of the Route 30 by-pass.

The rights to the tract involved in the settlement were given to the College as a gift.

Dr. Roy E. McAuley, president of the College, said that the funds received in the settlement will be used in the College's "Pathway to Fulfillment" program for campus development.

Roy A. Johnson

College Appoints Campus Minister

The Rev. Roy A. Johnson, pastor of the Church of the Brethren in Dayton, Ohio, has been named to the new position of College Minister at Elizabethtown College. Pres. Roy E. McAuley has announced.

As College Minister the Rev. Mr. Johnson will serve as a special counselor for students. He will also give counsel to the campus student religious organizations, coordinate the schedule and arrangements for the College's weekly chapel programs, and supervise the student and faculty deputation programs in the churches.

In addition he will work with a committee of faculty, administrators, and students formed for the purpose of developing and maintaining a more definite religious atmosphere on the campus.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson holds degrees from North Central College, Naperville, Ill., (B.A., 1953); Bethany Theological Seminary, Oak Brook, Ill. (B.S., 1954); and Andover Newton Theological School, Newton Center, Mass. (S.T.M., 1959).

Prior to serving in Dayton he held pastorates in Illinois and Massachusetts. His major areas of interest lie in human relations and problems of the integrated community.

The Johnsons have six children, three of whom are 14-month old triplets.

Summer Sessions Reach Midpoint

Summer Session II was scheduled to begin July 20 following the close of Summer Session I on July 17. The five-week term will run through August 21.

Among the special courses and activities set for the second session are an Elementary Physical Education Workshop (August 3-21), a Church of the Brethren Regional Laboratory School for church workers (August 2-8), and a summer extension school consisting of two courses offered in cooperation with the Bethany Theological Seminary, Oak Brook, Ill. (August 3-7).

Annual commencement exercises were slated to be held on August 21.

A summer enrollment record of 350 students had registered for Session I.

Libhart Resigns

Henry M. Libhart, assistant professor of English at Elizabethtown College has resigned, according to Dr. Roy E. McAuley, president of the College.

The resignation becomes effective at the end of summer sessions now in progress at Elizabethtown. Prof. Libhart will accept a position in the English Department at Millersville State College.

Libhart joined the staff at Elizabethtown in 1959. Previously he was on the faculties of Solanco High School and the Elizabethtown Area High School, and he was an instructor at the Pennsylvania State University while taking graduate work there.

In addition to his duties as assistant professor of English, Libhart served as director of freshman composition and art instructor at Elizabethtown College. He also conducted a course for credit on an area television station for the College.

Thirteen Faculty Join Staff Here

Elizabethtown College has announced the addition of 13 new faculty members for the 1964-65 academic term.

President Roy E. McAuley, in making the announcement, said that three of the positions filled are new ones. The others have been vacated by faculty members who are leaving the campus to continue their studies or take other positions.

The new faculty members are: Robert O. Dolan, Stockdale, assistant professor of mathematics. Dolan is a graduate of California State College (B.S., 1956) and West Virginia University (M.A., 1961). He has served as chairman of the mathematics department at California Community High School for seven years.

Martha A. Eppley, Harrisburg, instructor in business. Miss Eppley holds a B.S. from Elizabethtown (1962) and an M.B.A. from Indiana University (1964). She was a part-time member of the faculty during the last semester.

J. Robert Heckman, Waynesboro, instructor in biology. He graduated from Elizabethtown in 1962 and has taken graduate work at the University of Maryland. He was a member of the teaching staff here last summer.

Mrs. Erwin H. Johnson, Lancaster, part-time instructor in music. Mrs. Johnson holds degrees from Mount Union College, Alliance, Ohio (B.M.), and Ohio State University (M.A.). She has spent the last two years on the faculty of Kent State University and Western Reserve University.

Winifred L. Kaebnick, Harrisburg, instructor in sociology. Miss Kaebnick graduated from Western Reserve University in 1952 (B.A.) and 1955 (M.N.), and from the University of Pennsylvania in 1964 (M.A.). She taught at the Harrisburg Area Center for Higher Education and served as a nurse in the Harrisburg Hospital for two years.

J. Kenneth Kreider, Quarryville, instructor in history. Kreider holds degrees from Elizabethtown (B.A., 1961) and the Pennsylvania State University (M.A., 1962) and is completing the requirements for a Ph.D. at Penn State. He has been teaching there as a graduate assistant for the last three years.

Hilbert V. Lochner, Mt. Wilson, assistant professor of business. Lochner is a graduate of Lebanon Valley College (B.A., 1939) and the University of Pennsylvania (M.A., 1942). He has completed his residence for the Ph.D. at the University of Pennsylvania. He was on the faculty of Lebanon Valley from 1947 to 1951 and has since served as a technical field representative with the Army and Air Force Exchange Service in Baltimore.

Stanley R. Neyer, Glenolden, instructor in business. Neyer graduated from Elizabethtown in 1960 (B.S.), and holds the certified public accountant certificate in Pennsylvania. For the past four years he has been with the public accounting firm of Lybrand, Ross Bros. and Montgomery, in Philadelphia.

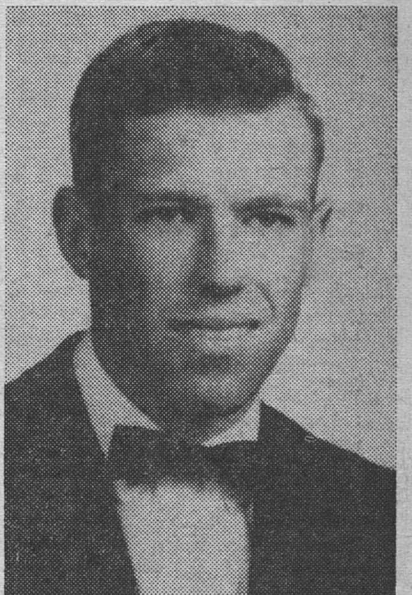

Dr. Rollin E. Pepper, Ann Arbor, Mich., associate professor of biology. Dr. Pepper holds degrees from Earlham College (B.A.), Syracuse University (M.S.), and the University of Michigan (Ph.D.).

Harold M. Pomroy, Mechanicsburg, instructor in business. Pomroy is a 1959 graduate of Elizabethtown (B.A.) and holds the CPA certificate in Pennsylvania. He has been with Main and Company, public accountants in Harrisburg, for the past five years.

From The Secretary's Angle

By C. G. ENTERLINE
Executive Secretary, Alumni Association

Recently one of our college administrators called a meeting of the "chiefs of staff" to examine our various roles and to see whether we are integrating our efforts as well as we might. In the course of our deliberations, we asked ourselves, "What are we selling?"

In working in our assigned roles, we labor so intensively that we are inclined to see our own spheres of influences to the neglect of others and the ultimate goal of our private Christian College.

For instance, the alumni secretary could be so intensively involved in organizing new chapters, attending professional meetings, assuming unrelated responsibilities that the service aspect of his office might be by-passed. The result would be a lost sense of original mission.

What is true of the alumni office could be true for any other office or department. No office, no academic department, no administrative assignment is immune to the danger of operating as a lone ranger.

This situation should alert us, then, both to dangers which accompany isolated action and to opportunities which can strengthen our collective effort.

The theme for the year, "Pathway to Fulfillment", assumes a working philosophy of co-operative endeavor on the part of everyone connected with Elizabethtown College.

It assumes that alumni, faculty, administration, and the maintenance crew understand first the meaning of higher education in a private, Christian institution, and sustain that meaning through support.

We say "sustained" because a project may be launched with financial resources and human effort. Buildings may be built, the campus topography changed, roadways added, teaching and administrative staff enlarged; but the support to maintain these later on must not diminish. Interest and support must be retained.

At this point, the reader might conclude that the writer is somewhere in left field. What we are trying to say is that everyone connected with the college is challenged to do his best in working out his assignments.

With this effort goes the responsibility of teamwork to enhance the image of the college to the community and to direct our efforts toward the goals set by the administration and the board of trustees.

We who are involved in this great educational enterprise are not selling our own departments; we are selling a great idea which is peculiar to the American way of life: Christian higher education in a private school — specifically, Elizabethtown College.

This is the last of the series for the school year. We hope that the College and the Alumni Association through co-operative effort will have many more ideas to exchange for 1964-65. We want the educational product and by-products of Elizabethtown College to be worth bidding on.

Especially For Alumni...

By Paul M. Grubb, Jr., '55
President, Alumni Association

A short time ago Clarence Enterline, K. Ezra Bucher and I met together to make appointments for the standing committees of the Alumni Association.

Out of approximately 4,500 alumni we had to choose twenty-two. Because of travel limitations we confined our choices to the central Pennsylvania area which also contains the heaviest concentration of alumni. This cut the field down to about 2,000 possibilities.

Of these two thousand approximately four hundred cast a vote in the 1964 election for alumni officers which would give an indication of their interest in the Association.

How would you select twenty-two names out of 2,000 or four hundred especially when you personally know only a small percentage of them? This was the job which faced us.

It would be nice if there were some way we could determine just who would like to serve on our various committees and call for volunteers, but of course it just doesn't work this way.

My concern is that I'm sure some people who could do a fine job never have an opportunity presented to them. And as graduating classes become larger, more graduates will never be involved on committees.

One bright spot here is the recent growth of new area chapters through Mr. Enterline's fine efforts. These provide increasing opportunities for service and fellowship to alumni.

If each of our 4,500 alumni were to participate in just one area of alumni activities such as Alumni Council and its committees, local chapters, attendance at Homecoming and Alumni Day or through financial gifts to the college, this new vitality would sweep the college off its feet.

So my challenge to you is to promote the college in your own special way. Give it that individual touch that is distinctively your own and then let us hear about it.

Church Laboratory Here August 2-8

The Eastern Pennsylvania Region of the Church of the Brethren will hold a laboratory school for church workers next month at Elizabethtown College.

Registration and the opening session will be held on August 2, with sessions to continue through August 8. Some of the classes and programs will be held in the Elizabethtown Church of the Brethren, adjacent to the campus.

The school will provide leadership training for Sunday School teachers of children, junior high and senior high youth, Sunday School officers, and Vacation Church School teachers.

Serving as dean of the school is Mrs. Charles E. Weaver, Manheim.

A "Leader of Leaders" seminar will be held in conjunction with the Regional Laboratory School at the College from July 30 to August 8.

A Letter From Abroad

Dear Mr. Enterline:

In reply to your letter of May 1, here is a report of our activities:

We were married twice; once in French (Donges, France) and once in English (La Baule, France), on February 14, 1964.

On March 28, 1964, at 4:00 a.m., our apartment was completely destroyed by fire. We were most fortunate and escaped with minor burns and injuries.

Don is a laboratory technician working with petroleum products. I am teaching high school equivalency courses to servicemen.

Don will be discharged from the army on May 18, 1965, and at that time we shall return to the good old U.S.A. We shall continue our education in the fall of that year.

Until 1965, we fully intend to take advantage of this marvelous opportunity to "poke" around Europe.

Sincerely,
Sue Wade Rutt, '64

Byerlys Report on Travel, Seeing Alumni In Europe

Dr. Robert A. Byerly, now concluding a year as director of the Brethren Colleges Abroad Program, is spending most of the summer traveling in the Middle East with his wife and two sons, Tim and Mark.

TWA Sessions Begin August 31

Fifteen persons headed for secondary teaching positions in Nigeria and Ghana will attend a five-day orientation program at Elizabethtown College beginning August 31.

The teachers, representing 8 states and more than 15 colleges and universities, were placed by the Teachers for West Africa Program (TWA), which is under the administration of Elizabethtown College.

Underwritten by a grant from the Hershey Chocolate Corporation, the TWA program grew out of a serious shortage of qualified teachers in Africa. Director of the program is Dr. James M. Berkebile, professor of chemistry at Elizabethtown College, former dean at McPherson (Kansas) College, and educational consultant in Formosa for two years.

Dr. Berkebile spent several weeks in Africa earlier this summer visiting and consulting with teachers now serving under the program.

During the orientation the teachers will be briefed on African customs, ethnography, and conditions they are likely to encounter.

Among the lecturers will be Dr. Desmond W. Bittinger, president of McPherson College, and a former missionary to Africa; Mrs. Desmond W. Bittinger, also a former missionary to Africa; Dr. Noah K. Mack, specialist in temperate and warm climate health; Charles Vetter, coordinator in the Office of Public Information, U. S. Information Agency; and several returning teachers

Head of the department of Bible and philosophy here, Dr. Byerly was advisor to 27 students (eight from Elizabethtown College) who spent the academic term attending universities in Marburg, Germany and Strasbourg, France.

In a recent letter to the ETOWNIAN Dr. Byerly said that by the beginning of July the family had logged 7000 miles by auto and had met several alumni in the process.

In Hebron, Jordan, they visited with Ada and Ida Stoltzfus, of Elverson, Pa., who have been teaching and serving as administrators of the Menno-nite Elementary School there for the past eight years.

The sisters graduated from Elizabethtown in 1941 and taught in Lancaster County before moving to India as relief workers for the Mennonite Central Committee for three years.

Their school at Hebron was started in 1955 with 13 pupils in the first grade. A new class was added each year up to eight classes presently for underprivileged and refugee children.

The Byerlys' travels took them also through Austria, Yugoslavia, Northern Greece, Turkey, Syria, Lebanon, Israel, Southern Greece, and Italy. They also made an air hop to Cairo, Egypt.

While dining in a popular eating place in Europe they met another alumnus, Joan Evans, '59, who is taking a break from her work in Bethesda, Md., with a summer tour of Europe.

The Byerlys plan to return to Elizabethtown late in August.

previously placed on TWA.

Twenty-four teachers are currently serving in Nigeria and Ghana as a result of the program's second year of operations last year. Nine teachers were placed in 1962, when the program was initiated.

ENTERLINE REPORTS

Chapters Meet, Class of '39 Holds Reunion, Alumni Gather At Lincoln

The tempo of alumni activity picked up this summer as picnics and meetings were held by several chapters, one class, and alumni attending the annual conference of the Church of the Brethren.

Two more meetings were scheduled as this edition of the ETOWNIAN was going to press: The Lehigh Valley Chapter was to have met on July 18 at the Jordan United Church of Christ, Walberts, along Rt. 309; and a chapter officers picnic was slated on campus for 1 p.m. on July 25.

Here's what happened at the other events.

North Jersey Meets At Drew

The skies were clear, the temperature was right, the place was ideal, and the spirit fine for a successful North Jersey Chapter alumni picnic on the picnic area of the athletic field of Drew University, Madison, New Jersey, June 28.

A peanut scramble for the tots, "baby sitters" for the children during the business meeting, croquet and badminton, and a sewing-circle talk for the inactive were featured activities.

Dr. and Mrs. M. Alexander Glasmire, Dr. and Mrs. James M. Miller, Jr., and others handled the arrangements.

From the college, were Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Enterline, and Jerry L. Garland. Present also were Dr. and Mrs. Miller and family; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hosler; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Blakey (Ruth Longenecker); Mr. and Mrs. C. Lawrence Farver; Dr. and Mrs. Glasmire and daughter Barbara; Mr. and Mrs. Galen B. Fahnestock and son; Miss Marguerite L. Brown and friend, Benjamin Lambert; Marilyn Tate and Enid Holzrichter really felt at home too; they will be entering Elizabethtown College in September.

Officers elected for 1964-65 are: president, Galen B. Fahnestock '50, 55 Elm Street, Morristown, N. J.; vice president, C. Lawrence Farver '62, 14 Abbet Avenue, Apt. 3, Morristown, N. J.; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Galen B. Fahnestock.

Nebraska Event Draws 70 Alumni

Seventy Elizabethtown College alumni met on the ninth floor of the Cornhusker Hotel, Lincoln, Nebraska, on Saturday, June 27 to enjoy a luncheon and fellowship in connection with the Annual Conference of the Church of the Brethren, according to D. Paul Greene, admissions officer at the College.

The group consisted of pastors, teachers, doctors, college administrators, chapter presidents, business men and others. Present also was Dr. A. Stauffer Curry '35, moderator elect of the Church of the Brethren for 1965.

Stewart B. Kauffman, '42, offered the invocation; Mr. Greene spoke briefly on his experiences with admissions work at the College; Dr. Roy E. McAuley, president, reviewed the progress of the College in many areas and answered questions from the floor.

With Professor Nevin Fisher accompanying at the piano and Carl E. Myers '46 leading, the group adjourned with the singing of the Alma Mater.

Juniata Valley Has Anniversary

Alumni and friends assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Brandt, McAlisterville, to celebrate the 30th anniversary of the organization of the Juniata Valley Chapter on Sunday, July 5. The chapter was organized March 3, 1934, under the leadership of the late Professor L. D. Rose in the social room of the Mifflin Evangelical Church. Among those present at the anniversary meeting were five who attended the organizational meeting. They were Esther (Leister) Tennis '27, Luke H. Buffenmyer '37, Olive K. Jameson '34, and Professor and Mrs. E. G. Meyer '24. Present also, with thirty-five others, were Barbara Tennis and Jane Bingman, who will be entering Elizabethtown College in September.

Luke Buffenmyer '37, conducted the business meeting after which the alumni secretary reviewed chapter activities of the last two years and showed recent campus changes by means of colored slides.

Officers elected for 1965 are: president, Miss Olive K. Jameson, '34, McAlisterville; vice-president, Dr. Carl Spease, '57, Mifflintown; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Samuel Cleck '44, (Dorothy Lauver), Mifflin.

Wiebush Speaks To Class of '39

The same animating spirit which sparked the Class of 1939 at the Senior-Alumni dinner on May 30 abounded in the class reunion dinner at Schrafft's Restaurant at the Lancaster-Reading exit of the Pennsylvania turnpike on Saturday evening, June 20.

President Harold M. Saylor, Lois Brehm Shirk, Marguerite Beck, and Marion Bardell Long organized an excellent program. Invited to the dinner were faculty members and the administrative staff of their college years.

President Saylor read greetings from many professors and classmates who could not be present. Guests present were Dr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Schlosser, Dr. and Mrs. Roy E. McAuley, Dr. and Mrs. Aaron Breidenstine, Mrs. Mary Reber, Prof. and Mrs. E. G. Meyer, Miss Rebekah Sheaffer, Dr. and Mrs. Guy Saylor, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Enterline, and Mrs. Lena Saunders.

Dr. Breidenstine, Dr. Schlosser, Dr. McAuley, and the alumni secretary brought greetings and appropriate remarks for the occasion. Dr. Joseph R. Wiebush, professor of chemistry at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, high-lighted the evening with "A Quarter Century of Change."

Evidence of physical changes in the members of the class and their respective families was reflected in the motion pictures taken at the class picnics of 1949 and 1950.

Present at the meeting in addition to the organizers, their sponsor, and guests were: Rev. and Mrs. William Gould; Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Cassel; Margaret F. Beck; Mr. and Mrs. Reno (Marion Bardell) Long; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd H. Gutshall; Mr. and Mrs. Ammon (Helen Kipp) Rider; Dr. Samuel V. Geyer; Mrs. George (Bernice Bardell) Wealand; Elma G. Shirk; Mrs. Nellie (Gardner) Harbold; Megan Harries; Mrs. John (Lois Weiser) Herschok; William T. Kelly; Mr. and Mrs. Harold (Muriel Frysinger) Saylor; and Mrs. Joseph (Dorothy Miller) Wiebush.

Kettering Gets Statewide Post

Bill Foster, Rutgers Court Coach, Ranks 4th In Career Scoring Here

By James L. M. Yeingst

Bill Foster, who learned his college basketball at Elizabethtown and reached scoring heights in the process, is guiding the court fortunes at Rutgers University, where he took over last year.

Foster, a member of the Class of '54, is a member of that distinct company of Blue Jay performers who have scored more than 1,000 points during their playing days here. He tallied 1,148 points in 97 games during his four years of competition for the Jays.

His point production places him fourth among Blue Jay scorers. Others in the 1,000-plus club include: Frank Keath (1,872), Sal Paone (1,408), Bill Pensyl (1,372), Bob Geiger (1,129), Barry Boyer (1,067), and Dan Reitmeyer (1,104), who still has a year of play remaining.

Foster got off to a good start in his freshman year (1948-49) by racking up 222 markers, including a 27-point spree against Lincoln University. His most productive season came the following year, when he poured in 338 tallies. He totaled 321 points during the 1950-51 campaign.

Then, after two years out for a hitch with the United States Air Force, he came back in 1953-

Bill Foster 54 to score 267 points.

His best single game efforts include the Lincoln tussle in his freshman year and an encounter at Lebanon Valley College the following year, when he again hit 27 points.

Following his service discharge, Foster coached the Blue Jay junior varsity squad for the 1952-53 season before returning to complete his senior year.

In addition to basketball, he was a member of the soccer team. He was voted the College's "Outstanding Athlete" in the senior year.

Foster's successful coaching efforts began immediately following graduation as he guided the basketball squads at Chichester High School and Abington High School, each for three years. His final year at Abington saw his team compile a 19-2 record.

Moving to the college ranks, he was named head basketball coach at Bloomsburg State in 1960. His three years there saw his clubs achieve seasonal logs of 12-4, 16-3, and 17-4. He led Bloomsburg to the NCAA Regional finals in the 1962-63 campaign.

During the off-season, he is a director of a boys basketball camp in the Poconos and co-directs the Jim Pollard Basketball Coaches Clinic at Valley Forge. The latter attracts more than 500 high school coaches from a 12-state area.

A native of Norwood, Pa., Foster earned his master's degree in business education at Temple University. He is married to the former Shirley Junkin, a member of the Class of '56. They have two daughters, Vicki, 5 and Debra, 3.

Mrs. Foster, a native of Le Moyne, completed the two-year medical technology program here. The Fosters reside in Bound Brook, N. J.

QUICKLY FILLED—Well stocked trophy case in first floor corridor of Baugher Student Center attests to success of Blue Jay athletes over the last several years. Three more Middle Atlantic Conference championships last year reminded campus sports enthusiasts that a new one will soon be needed.

Sports Schedules Set For 1964-65

Elizabethtown College's intercollegiate athletic schedule for 1964-65 has been released by Theodore A. Roscher, director of athletics.

The College's male athletes are slated to play in a total of 94 contests (46 at home and 48 away) in eight varsity sports.

Two sports, swimming and golf, have been added to the athletic program for 1964-65. The golf team, which played four exhibition matches last year, will begin official varsity competition for the first time next spring. Swimming will be added for the first time this winter with a seven-meet junior varsity schedule.

Fall activity will begin with a home soccer game against Gettysburg on September 30. The cross country crew will open at Moravian on October 7.

Elizabethtown's three major teams—soccer, basketball, and baseball—all won Middle Atlantic Conference championships last year. This year the soccer men have 11 games on the slate, six at home and five away. The cagers will play 20 contests, ten at home; and the baseball squad will have an 18 game log with eight of those at home.

Three new opponents—Howard University, Bucknell, and Lincoln—are on the soccer schedule, though each had been on the slate at various times in the past. In Cross country Susquehanna and West Chester have been added.

The basketball team will play one new opponent, the University of Baltimore. Bucknell has also been added to the Baseball and tennis slates. Temple and Kutztown are two other new baseball opponents; however Temple had been a Blue Jay opponent several years ago, and Kutztown was on the list last year, but the game was cancelled because of rain.

One new coach has been added to the staff for 1964-65. He is John Tully, who will assume a new position as athletic trainer and physical education instructor at the College. Tully will coach the swimming team.

The rest of the coaching staff includes Roscher, cross country, wrestling, and golf; Don Smith, basketball and tennis; Owen Wright, soccer and baseball; Allegra Hess, women's basketball and women's tennis; and Ruth Nearing, women's field hockey and women's swimming.

Schedules for the four women's sports will be announced at a later date, according to Roscher.

Phila. National Bank Has E-town "Chapter"

Back in November the ETOWNIAN jokingly suggested that an Elizabethtown College alumni chapter be formed at a leading department store in Harrisburg, where eight E-town grads currently hold positions.

Another College-Business mutual admiration society has been found. This one is at The Philadelphia National Bank, where six alumni are members of the staff.

Included in the group are Norman R. Bitterman, '60; Thomas J. Moore, Jr., '64; John C. Picking, '57; Carl F. Reber, '36; Janet G. Wolgemuth, '61; and Mara Znotens, '61.

Bitterman majored in business administration and received the bachelor of science degree. He joined the Philadelphia National in 1960 and is now administrative assistant to the vice president in charge of the Finance Company Lending Group.

Moore just received his B.S. here in June and joined the bank as a trainee the same month.

Picking, another business administration major with a B.S. moved to The Philadelphia National Bank in September, 1963, and is a trainee in the Trust Department. He is married to another alumnus, Joyce (Miller) Picking, '58.

Reber attended here two years and then transferred to Kutztown State College. He received the bulk of his business education in four years of evening school at the American Institute of Banking and the Evening School of Accounts and Finance of the University of Pennsylvania. He joined the bank in 1957 and is now assistant vice president in the Lansdale Office.

Miss Wolgemuth was a business education major here and received the bachelor of science degree. She took a position with Philadelphia National in 1962 and is now a senior credit analyst in the Credit Department.

Miss Znotens received both the certificate in secretarial science and the bachelor of science degree from Elizabethtown. She was employed by the bank in 1962 and is now a job analyst in the personnel department.

Bethany Extension Laboratory Slated

Elizabethtown College and the Eastern Pennsylvania Regional Board of the Church of the Brethren will sponsor a summer extension school in cooperation with the Bethany Theological Seminary, Oak Brook, Ill., at the College, August 3-7.

Two courses for ministers and lay church leaders to be conducted by members of the faculty of Bethany will be offered. The course titles are "Speech and Fine Arts" and "Basic Beliefs in the New Testament."

The extension school will be subsidized for the Eastern Regional by the College and the Seminary.

Registration for the school will be held August 3 from 7 to 9 a.m.

T. Bitting, head of the Business Department here, that Elizabethtown College has as many alumni at The Philadelphia National Bank as the Harvards and Yales of the Ivy League.

Bitting added, "We're proud of our relationship with Philadelphia National and are happy that the Bank has been so impressed with Elizabethtown through her alumni that it welcomes her graduates as applicant."

Eight Community, Campus Cultural Programs Slated

Four Community Cultural Programs and four Campus Lyceum Programs have been scheduled for the 1964-65 term, Dr. Carl N. Shull, chairman of the Lyceum Committee, announced this month.

The Community Cultural series, sponsored by the College in cooperation with the Patton School, will open with Emlyn Williams' portrayal of Charles Dickens on October 20 in the Elizabethtown Area High School Auditorium.

Suzanne Bloch, noted Elizabethan singer and performer, will open the Campus Lyceum
